Greek Freighter Tzenychan-dris Sinks Off Coast Of North Carolina

ABOARD S. S. SWIFTSURE, Off Cape Hatteras, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Six members of the crew of the Greek freighter Tzenychandris, which went to the bottom with its captain and several men, were taken aboard this tanker today shortly after 9:30 a. m.

The survivors were sighted about 30 miles northeast of the Diamond shoals lightship, drifting in a battered, water-logged lifeboat.

They were brought aboard while a rough sea was running, in heavy rain and wind squalls.

They said the Tzenychandris rolled over on her beam and sank at 4 a. m.
after her bunkers and engine room had flooded.

The rescued men said several members of the crew went down with the captain, Nicholas Patronas. The survivors managed to haul themselves into a lifeboat after the steamer sank.

They saw eight others, in life belts, struggling through the sea toward the boat, but the men never reached it.

The Swiftsure proceeded to the scene but found nothing but a floating cargo boom. Visibility was very poor due to the rain squalls. This ship searched until 11 a. m. without finding any more survivors.

The rescued men were in good shape with the exception of one who suffered minor head injuries.

They gave their names as Demit-rios Yannoukakis, steward; Christos Avaleotis, carpenter; George Gikas, fireman; Antonia Katheris, fireman;

REORGANIZATION OF GOVERNMENT WILL BE TAKEN UP BY CONGRESS

Farm Bills Await Preparation; President's Address Opening Day Feature

LYNCH MEASURE LIKELY TO BRING CONTROVERSY

Wage And Hour Regulation Will Be One Subject Mentioned In Message

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Administration leaders today made government reorganization the first order of business for the congressional session opening Monday.

Monday's session will be devoted solely to the reading of President Roosevelt's message and to the routine formalities of opening, with congress getting down to work Tuesday.
The message was expected to mention at least four proposals for action during the special session—a new farm program, wage and hour regulation, regional planning and government reorganization.

Farm legislation had been set as the first order of business in both houses when congress adjourned last August, but neither the senate nor house agriculture committees have bills ready.

Senator Barkley, the Democratic leader, said it probably would require a week or so for the senate committee to prepare a farm bill.

In the house, the committee ran into a controversy over whether a voluntary or compulsory control plan should be applied to corn.
Barkley said that while awaiting the farm measure, the senate presumably would take up the reorganization bill. The anti-lynching bill.

KIDNAP VICTIM
NOW NEAR DEATH

Two Plead Guilty To Demanding Ransom In Abduction Of Dr. Seder

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Nov. 13.—
(AP)—Dr. James I. Seder, kidnapped veteran Anti-Saloon league leader, lay near death tonight as the state invoked the Lindbergh law against those accused as his abductors.

Dr. A. K. Kessler said he had "no hope" for the recovery of the 79-year-old victim, and that oxygen administered in an attempt to check pneumonia failed to rally the sinking man.

Arnett Booth, 46, and John Travis, 24, were held under $50,000 bond. Both pleaded guilty to a federal charge of attempted extortion of $50,000 for the return of Dr. Seder, who told his rescuers he had been held captive 10 days in an abandoned mine.

Orville Atkins, 24, was scheduled for arraignment later before United States Commissioner Charles F. Steed.

Assistant Prosecutor T. W. Peyton of Cabell county, announced the state would prosecute the trio under the model kidnap law, which carries a maximum penalty of death for conviction.

Secrecy surrounded the release of Dr. Seder and the capture of the three men, Agent R. E. Vetterli described the three as ex-convicts.

Dr. Seder was found wandering around a hillside in Wayne county.
Travis was arrested in Huntington and Atkins was apprehended in Kentucky last night at the home of relatives.
Vetterli said the kidnappers demanded ransom money from Seder's sons.

Dr. Seder was first taken to a mountain shack and later transferred to the mine. Dr. Kessler attributed the pneumonia to exposure in the damp pit.

MOORINGSPOUR PAIR
SERIOUSLY INJURED

MARSHALL, Tex., Nov. 13.—(AP)—
Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ray of Mooringsport, La., were seriously injured tonight in an automobile collision west of Marshall.

Mrs. Ray, 62, suffered a fractured skull and was unconscious in a hospital here. Her husband, 58, received a broken collarbone and was cut and bruised. Investigators say the Ray automobile was in collision with one driven by a negro, who fled from the scene.

TRIAL ON MONDAY

Minister Accused In Morals
Case; Court Also To Act
On Murder Charge

Rev. George H. Dierlamm, Congregationalist minister of West Monroe, accused of carnal knowledge, and Floyd Reed, 28-year-old negro, charged with the murder of Frank P. Nesbit, Monroe grocer, will go on trial in district criminal court here this week before Judge R. R. Reeves of Harrisonburg.

Rev. Dierlamm, arrested last July 9 on a charge of having had intimate relations with a 15-year-old girl, will go on trial tomorrow, according to the present court docket as announced at the office of the district attorney.
Reed's case will come before the court on Tuesday.

The docket for the week was announced as follows:
Monday: Julius Crosby, negro, larceny of property valued at $49; and George H. Dierlamm, carnal knowledge.

Tuesday: Floyd Reed, negro, murder, two charges of obtaining money by the use of a confidence game.

It was announced that Judge Reeves, of the seventh district court, would preside over the court in the absence of Judge David I. Garrett, who will be engaged in judicial duties at Bastrop in place of Judge J. T. Shell, who is at Hot Springs, Ark., recovering from a recent illness.

The trial of Dierlamm promises to be one of the most unusual ever brought before the Ouachita court and the defense is reported to have summoned numerous character witnesses.

METHODISTS END
MISSISSIPPI MEET

CLARKSDALE, Miss., Nov. 13.—(AP)—
The north Mississippi conference, Methodist Episcopal Church, South, finished its final business session here today. Members will devote Sunday to public worship and ordination services and adjourn after reading of the appointments.

New Albany was chosen for the 1938 session, and J. G. Houston of that city was re-elected conference lay leader.
The morning session held a commemoration of the Aldersgate (England) experience of Rev. John Wesley, founder of all Methodism. The address was by Bishop Arthur J. Moore, who is presiding over the conference.

Methodists throughout the world will celebrate a similar program from now until next May.

Judge James G. McGowan, of the supreme court of Mississippi and member of the conference, spoke in behalf of a resolution from the board of education proposing the creation of a Mississippi educational commission to merge Grenada college with Mill-saps and liquidate Grenada college, already closed. The resolution was adopted. The following were recommended as commissioners: R. G. Lord, Tunica; W. I. Henley, Minister City;
Judge Fred Smith, Ripley; and Hon.
J. G. Houston, New Albany.

The following were elected trustees of the Methodist hospital at Memphis:
S. A. Brown, D. H. Hall, J. C. Jourdan,
J. H. Holder, J. H. Sherard, and Mrs.
H. L. Talbert.

DAUGHTER OF SCHOOL
BUS DRIVER KILLED

VIVIAN, La., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Pinkie Robertson, four-year-old daughter of R. T. Robertson, school bus driver, was instantly killed late yesterday when she fell from a school bus driven by her father.

While she was leaning against a door of the vehicle one of her brothers went to the front end to speak to his father and accidentally lurched against the handle of the door, which flew open causing the little girl to be jolted out as the bus was moving at good speed.

Robertson had finished work for the afternoon, and there were no school children in the bus when the accident occurred.

Issues Proclamation Calling For Full Cooperation In Conducting Census

In order to render complete co-operation with local postal authorities who will take the census of the unemployed on Tuesday, J. L. Warren, president of the Ouachita parish police jury, has issued a proclamation urging that those who are not employed, but are employable, fill out cards and return them before Nov.
20 to the postoffice. Similar proclamations were issued by the mayors of Monroe and West Monroe.

"Whereas, the President of these United States has undertaken to determine the unemployed, which movement is being endorsed by every city and town in the country, who in turn have organized citizens' committees, representing the varied interests of the community, who will collaborate with the postmaster, giving whatever assistance and aid necessary to assure a complete and accurate registration of the unemployed, and,

"Whereas, this national unemployment census will begin Nov. 16 and run through Nov. 20 by your local postoffice which will distribute these forms to all unemployed or partly unemployed and able to work and seeking work, and,

"Whereas, those qualified to fill out this card who do not understand how to do so, can get assistance at the police jury room 207, second floor in the courthouse, at the city hall, from the labor council at the Louisiana bureau located at 423 Desiard street, at the social welfare exchange located in the old Central Savings bank, or at the postoffice.

"Now, therefore, I, J. L. Warren, president of the Ouachita Parish police jury, do hereby call upon all of this card who do not understand how to do so, to get assistance in their respective wards to the end that every unemployed person shall register."

$241 RAISED FOR LEGS

PITTSFIELD, Mass., Nov. 13.—(AP)—
The campaign to raise $1,000 to buy artificial legs for nine-year-old Bobby Biggins ended Thursday but contributions continue, the total today reaching $241. The legs will cost $800.
The remainder of the money will be set aside for the boy who will be in House of Mercy hospital until spring.
He lost his legs under a freight train.

THOMAS T. HOWE
DIES SUDDENLY

Night Superintendent At Brown Paper Mill Suffers Stroke

Thomas Tiffany Howe, 410 North Sixth street, West Monroe, night superintendent of the Brown Paper mill since 1923, died last night from the effects of a stroke which he suffered earlier in the afternoon. Mr.
Howe, who had been ill for about six years, was stricken while in the business district of West Monroe and was removed to his home. His condition became critical and he was brought to a hospital here.

Mr. Howe was considered an outstanding member of the paper manufacturing industry and was a technical advisor in connection with the construction of the West Monroe plant, assuming his post of night superintendent of the mill after the plant was placed in operation.

Born in Unionville, O., Mr. Howe received his education in the schools of that place and later entered Ohio Wesley university. Following his graduation he taught school at Unionville for 15 years until his health compelled him to move south. From Unionville Mr. Howe went to Moss Point, Miss., and entered the paper manufacturing industry. While there he married Miss Wilma Edna Hill in 1913. From Moss
Point Mr. Howe went to West Point, Va., and later returned to Louisiana associating himself with the paper industry at Bogalusa where he occupied a responsible position.

Mr. Howe came to West Monroe from Bogalusa in 1922, taking part in the construction of the Brown Paper mill and when the plant was completed was appointed night superintendent.

He is survived by his wife, one son, Oran Howe; one daughter, Wilma Marie Howe; one sister, Mrs. W. M.

ARREST FOLLOWS

FIFTH MARRIAGE

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Nov. 13.—
(AP)—J. Leslie Younghusband, Chicago cosmetic magnate, was arrested today on a charge of assault and battery as part of an investigation of complaints of a disturbance at the party which followed his fifth marriage last night.

Officers said Younghusband denied knowledge of the incident and posted $200 bond. A hearing was set for next Saturday.

The arrest followed swearing of an affidavit before Magistrate John T.
Fisher at 2 a. m. today by William H.
Snyder, veteran police reporter for the St. Petersburg Times.

Snyder asserted he accepted an invitation from Younghusband to attend the latter's marriage to Miss Mary Louise Lane, when the Chicago-born declined to let other Times writers cover the event.

Shortly before midnight, Snyder said, a fight started when a guest whispered to Younghusband that a reporter had telephoned out a story about the wedding to which he might object.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Some 200,000 Chinese civilians were trapped by disrupted transportation in So-chow tonight, unable to heed a Japanese ultimatum to evacuate the ancient city in the path of their ad-

A Japanese spokesman announced yesterday Soochow and the neighbor-manufactured." Leaflets from Japanese war planes warned the populace to flee by midnight.

The Japanese advance swept 30

Chinese legions retreating to their Hindenburg line, 30 miles west of the city. A Japanese spokesman an-

GIRLS TO MAKE CANVASS TODAY

Red Cross Membership Solicitation Will Be Made In Two Hours

Every residence in Monroe will be canvassed today from noon to 2 p. m.
for enrollment of citizens in the membership of the national Red Cross. The canvass will be made by members of the D. B. S. and D. K. P. sororities in cooperation with members of the Phi Kappa and Delta Sigma fraternities, it was announced Saturday by E. C. Gibson, general local chairman of the annual drive.

The public is asked to be prepared to receive the solicitors when they appear and to cooperate in every way toward making a complete success of the canvass which will be the first time that it has been similarly conducted.

The sorority groups met on Friday and at that time perfected plans for the intensive campaign today.

Mr. Gibson announced Saturday that the following concerns report 100 per cent enrollment of office staffs and employers and employees: E. R. Kiper Hardware company, Louisiana Paper company, Standard Office Supply company, Southern Hardware company.

Names of other firms that have made their 100 per cent Red Cross enrollment quotas will be announced through the press from time to time during the next few days, Mr. Gibson said.

EXPERT PISTOL SHOT
DIES IN NASHVILLE

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 13.—(AP)— Death today had ended the career of John H. (Texas Jack) Sullivan, recognized as one of the nation's fastest pistol shots.

Although the 46-year-old former resident of San Antonio, Tex., died in a hospital here Wednesday morning, the fact did not become known until last night.

A local radio station official knowing the trick-shot artist was in the city, called a hotel, where he was informed that Sullivan had died.

The fast shot expert came to Nashville several weeks ago for treatment of a wound caused accidentally as he practiced his lightning draw. With the wound almost healed, his physician said Sullivan suffered an intestinal ailment that led to his death.

FIELDS DEPARTS FOR WASHINGTON

Federal District Attorney Will Attend Conference On Game Preserve Suit

Harvey G. Fields, United States district attorney for the western district of Louisiana, passed through Monroe yesterday on his way to Washington, D. C., where he will attend a conference between federal and state officials and attorneys representing litigants in the Cameron parish game preserve suit involving 128,000 acres of land in Cameron parish.

The United States government recently filed suit in the federal court at Monroe against the land owners, in a supposedly friendly suit, for condemnation of the property to be used as a game preserve for wild life and migratory birds. Since the suit was filed a number of oil lease holders have intervened claiming that the ac-tional to the government should be subject to their mineral contracts and operating under the jurisdiction of the Louisiana commission, and finally the state of Louisiana intervened through Attorney General Gaston L.
Porter, claiming that school and state lands with mineral reservation, including 19 oil wells, and covering approximately 6,000 acres of land are affected by the suit, thus jeopardizing the state's rights.

The government is represented in the suit by the United States attorney at New Orleans.

LECHE THREATENS DRASTIC ACTION

Would Send State Police To Concordia To Enforce Game Laws

FERRIDAY, La., Nov. 13.—(Special) —Governor Richard W. Leche of Louisiana, informed Game Warden Harlow Love and Glover Burke, as well as John C. King, prominent railroad man of Ferriday who headed a committee of Concordia parish sportsmen, that he will send the state police and special deputies into Concordia parish to assist the game wardens in upholding the observance of the state and parish game laws, if this was found necessary.

A party of nine well-known Bastrop sportsmen headed by Quinn Brown of Willetts, were arrested by Wardens Love and Burke on charges of violating the non-camp hunting law. The hunters were placed under bond and later released when assurances were given by the party that they would not return. Several other arrests for the same offense were reported by the game wardens but the violators were released. In the future, the game wardens declared, they will not show leniency but will arrest and prosecute to the fullest extent of the law all those who violate the non-camp hunting law.

ATLEE POMERENE,
EX-SENATOR, DIES

CLEVELAND, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Atlee Pomerene, former Democratic United States senator from Ohio and several times mentioned for the presidency, is dead.

Suffering from an attack of broncho-pneumonia, the 73-year-old former senator who assisted in the prosecution of the Teapot Dome oil lease cases and who later became chairman of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, died at his home last night following an illness of several weeks.

Pomerene served two terms in the United States senate, his first as a leader of that body under President Woodrow Wilson.

He gained recognition as a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1928. In 1919 he was boomed for the White House but the movement failed to reach national proportions.

Funeral services will be held here Monday and burial will be at Can-

SIDE Of The News

By EDWIN C. HILL

(Copyright, 1937, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

I AM TOLD that a distinguished anthropologist was at the ringside at the Armstrong-Sarron fight, in which the shuffling black boy from the coast became featherweight champion. That fills three divisions with negro champions and this, with recent achievements of negro athletes in other sports has stirred the curiosity of the scientists.

What equipment does the negro possess which has been denied the white man? Comparative racial studies of fighters haven't turned up anything very definite, except, possibly, quicker muscular reflexes and more flexed and easy body action. All sorts of loose conjectures have been made in this appraisal, but the best information I can get is that racial differences are mostly imaginary, and that we have had quite a crop of negro maul-ers because clouting is one of their few alluring roads of advancement.

But it is a different story with regard to the shining ebony crew of track winners. Here the physiologists think they have something. It is the elongated back heel. Studies of this physical attribute have been made. It gives leverage and a pull to the sinews which brings out in front many negro winners in the sprints, but not in the distance races.

WITHIN THE LAST year we have witnessed a sort of dark uprising on the track, with Jesse Owen, Eulace Peacock and Ralph Metcalfe romping in ahead of the white boys, and Cor-nellius Johnson of California over-jumping all the kangaroos that ever came from Australia. Trainers and physiologists say it's that long heel.

Just to round out the record, it should be recalled that the negro champions are Joe Louis, heavyweight, John Henry Lewis, light-heavyweight, and Henry Armstrong, featherweight. String these lads along with their racial forerunners in the ring, and altogether they make an impressive showing.

Sahb Langford, old and blind now, was probably the best of the lot. Jack Johnson, Joe Gans, George Dixon and Peter Jackson all were great fighters.
On the whole, they were a well-behaved lot, the three present champions particularly so. Jack Johnson got mixed up in a lot of foolish razzledazzle, aided and abetted by white folks who should have known better.
Prizefighters aren't Phi Beta Kappas, anyway, and it seems to me that the colored lads don't suffer in compari-

Father Of Countess Tells Of Sudden Restoration Of This Sense

By Howard W. Blakeslee
(Associated Press Science Editor)
NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Franklyn L. Hutton, father of Countess Barbara Hutton Haugwitz-Reventlow, dime store heiress, today gave the secret of a modern miracle which restored his hearing in a single morning recently.

"Will say," he wired the Associated Press from Prospect Hill plantation in South Carolina, "attributed restoration of hearing to fact I had no medical treatment of any kind."

A check of medical authorities in New York today showed that Mr. Hutton was correct in one respect. That hearing miracles of this kind happen, sometimes without medical aid, more often with.

Mr. Hutton went to Australia last summer, wearing bone conduction hearing aids. Near the end of summer his wife telephoned him from Paris, expecting to speak as usual through a servant. Her husband himself answered:

"Don't shout; I can hear."

Earlier that day Mr. Hutton had been deaf from hearing aids. About noon his hearing seemed to be getting better. While he sat at luncheon it came back "miraculously."

The contrast was so astounding that Mr. Hutton seemed to hear normally. Actually it has been so good ever since that he uses no hearing aids and persons close to him think he hears "perfectly." Really, he said in his wire, he believes his hearing not perfect.

As Mr. Hutton had not been consulting physicians at the time his recovery is not known. But some of the circumstances possibly tied it in with "allergic" recoveries known to medical science.

It is easy to understand the bad effects on hearing from the "allergy," hay fever. It is not so easy to understand why faulty food may occasionally affect the ears.

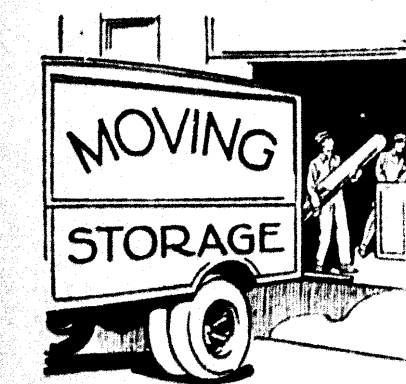

But in the annals of recent medical discoveries is one that a head trouble accompanied by watery eyes, stopped up nose and bad nerves is due to diet. It looks like a cold, but now and then is cured permanently by changing diet.

A medical "miracle" as startling as Mr. Hutton's experience was related only yesterday by a noted American ear specialist. Two weeks ago a patient called on him with use of one ear about half gone, that of the other impaired.

The man was told to stop smoking and to change his diet. Smoking does not cause deafness. Neither does food. Yet when this patient returned after two weeks he asserted that his hearing had recovered completely.

Tests showed the bad ear had come back to about two-thirds of normal. The other ear tested perfect. The difference was so astounding to the patient that he could tell no difference between his recovery and the time when his hearing had been perfect.

Airplane nose dives which are said to restore hearing are commonest "miracle" phenomena. The facts about these dives are stranger than fiction. No ear has ever been found medically to improve from a dive.

But now and then it is true that hearing came back. The restoration was from "hysterical" deafness. This does not mean the patient had jitters, or any nervous affliction known to himself or others.

He had a functional nervous upset. The thrill of the dive in some way as yet unknown broke this spell.

In a few cases, one medical authority explains, "a change as seemingly slight as a flick of a fly's wing" may improve hearing. This is because hearing goes through a complex chain, of at least five links.

One of the commonest "miracles" confined to the doctors' offices—occurs at the first link in the chain—the ear drum. Though difficult to believe, wax over the drum sometimes deafens people for years. If the wax comes out the cure is complete. A hole sometimes forms in the wax, so that the patient does not realize the presence of the accumulation.

A blow on the head has been known to break a small pus sac which is somewhere interfering with the hearing chain.

OIL AND GAS NEWS

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 13.—(AP)—

Three new oil wells were completed in Louisiana and 28 permits for drilling operations were issued during the week ending November 13, the state conservation department reported Saturday.

The week's operations resulted in a slump in well completions, although drilling operations, which have been reduced slightly since late summer and early fall, were practically normal. It was reported. For the past several months there have been more than 10 and sometimes more than 20 well completions each week.

The field, producer, name of the well and initial daily production of each completion during the week follows:

Abbeville, Vermilion parish, Continental Oil company, J. H. Brookshire No. 1, 218.28 barrels; Lisbon, Claiborne parish, A. O. Olson (Dearman-McMilllan), H. W. Patton Estate No. 1, 1,800 barrels; Pine Island, Caddo parish, Stanolind Oil and Gas company, Dillon Heirs No. 130, 91 barrels.

The conservation department estimated the daily average production for the state during the week ending November 6 at 235,650 barrels. The estimate for north Louisiana fields was 68,400 barrels, and for the gulf coast region 167,250 barrels.

Drilling permits (one for each applicant unless otherwise specified) were issued to the following:

Humble Oil and Refining company, Acadia parish; Superior Oil company, Acadia parish; Humble Oil and Refining company, Ascension parish; Hunt Oil company-Seaboard company, Bienville parish; F. W. Burford, Caddo parish; J. Edward Jones Petroleum company, Caddo parish; Gulf Refining company, Caddo parish; Magnolia Petroleum company, Caddo parish; R. G. Trippett, Caddo parish; R. G. Trippett and D. C. R. Oil company, Caddo parish.

Sutton joint account, Calcasieu parish; Shell Petroleum corporation, Cameron parish; Union Sulphur company and Magnolia Petroleum company, Cameron parish; Harry Hanbury, Claiborne parish; Tidewater Associated Oil company, two permits, Claiborne parish; Triangle Drilling company, Claiborne parish.

Humble Oil and Refining company, Jefferson Davis parish; Joseph Massey, et al, Jefferson Davis parish; Amerada Petroleum corporation, two permits, LaFourche parish; T. and J. Inc., LaSalle parish; Hope Producing company, Ouachita parish; Humble Oil and Refining company, Plaquemines parish; Fohs Oil company, Terrebonne parish; J. and H. Oil company, Union parish; Union Producing company, two permits, Union parish.

2 WELLS COMPLETED IN LISBON FIELD

LISBON, La., Nov. 13.—(Special)—Two wells were completed in the Lisbon field of Claiborne and Lincoln parishes for the past week. The new producers were E. W. Gill et al's S. M. English No. 1, section 29-21-4; and A. O. Olson's H. W. Patton estate No. 1, section 26-21-5.

Tippett Oil corporation-Turman Oil company had set producing string of casing at the C. S. L. Patton No. 2, section 1-20-5, and were waiting on cement to set as the week ended. Atlantic Refining company was coring for the pay at 5,187 feet at the T. F. Patton No. C-2, section 29-21-4.

Reports on other wells follow:
Crescent Drilling company, Fowler No. 1, section 33-21-4, drilling at 4,776 feet.

Gulf Refining company, Maggie Patton estate No. 1, section 6-20-4, drilling at 4,426 feet.

Harry Hanbury, R. Vaughn No. E-1, section 25-21-5, drilling at 3,260 feet.

Magnolia Petroleum company, F. Corbin No. B-1, section 5-20-4, drilling at 4,850 feet.

A. O. Olson, Patton No. A-5, section 25-21-5, drilling at 4,785 feet; English No. 1, section 29-21-4, drilling at 3,891 feet.

Red Iron Drilling company, T. F. Patton Estate No. 2, section 6-20-4, drilling at 4,450 feet.

Scout Oil corporation, E. C. English No. 2, section 30-21-4, waiting on cement on surface casing.

Sloan and Zook company, M. S. Patton No. 1, section 1-20-5, rigging up.

Vaughn and Marr, J. T. Eppenger No. 2, section 29-21-4, drilling at 4,200 feet.

FARM JUBILEE DATE CHANGED TO NOV. 24

HOMER, La., Nov. 13.—(Special)—The Claiborne parish farm bureau jubilee will be held Nov. 24 instead of Nov. 19, the original date, H. F. Spence, parish agricultural agent, announced. The change was made due to conflict of meetings.

Atkins Bailey, chairman, is being assisted in making the arrangements by Mesdames J. T. Swann, J. C. Thomas, T. F. Hollenshead, Ollie Green, and I. M. Martin, F. E. Gandy, Ed Wade, L. L. Lay, E. C. Hightower and J. T. Waller.

All farm bureau members will be allowed five guests and the committee announces it is having 2,000 tickets printed. The committee comprises Leah Evans, L. L. Lay, Mrs. J. C. Thomas, H. S. Ford, Mrs. Ollie Green and Mrs. Atkins Bailey.

An old fashioned picnic and outstanding speakers will feature the program.

Do You Want A Baby?

It is a well known fact that "Complete unity and happiness in married life is brought by babies," and that lack of children in the home is one of the greatest causes for discontented marriages. Also that every woman was intended for Motherhood, but too often she is underdeveloped or suffering with functional female disorders which rob her of this normal desire. During an experience of more than 36 years specializing in conditions peculiar to women, I have developed a simple home method which has brought new hope, health and happiness to thousands.

'MIRACLE' HELPS HUTTON TO HEAR

Father Of Countess Tells Of Sudden Restoration Of This Sense

By Howard W. Blakelee
(Associated Press Science Editor)
NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Franklyn L. Hutton, father of Countess Barbara Hutton Haugwitz-Reventlow, dime store heiress, today gave the secret of a modern miracle which restored his hearing in a single morning recently.

"Will say," he wired the Associated Press from Prospect Hill plantation in South Carolina, "attributed restoration of hearing to fact I had no medical treatment of any kind."

A check of medical authorities in New York today showed that Mr. Hutton was correct in one respect. That hearing miracles of this kind happen, sometimes without medical aid, more often with.

Mr. Hutton went to Australia last summer, wearing bone conduction hearing aids. Near the end of summer his wife telephoned him from Paris, expecting to speak as usual through a servant. Her husband himself answered.

"Don't shout; I can hear."

Earlier that day Mr. Hutton had been hard of hearing as usual. About noon his hearing seemed to be getting better. While he sat at luncheon it came back "miraculously."

The contrast was so astounding that Mr. Hutton seemed to hear normally. Actually it has been so good ever since that he uses no hearing aids and persons close to him think he hears "perfectly." Really, he said in his wire, he believes his hearing not perfect.

As Mr. Hutton had not been consulting physicians at the time his ears came back, the specific reason for his recovery is not known. But some of the circumstances possibly tied it in with "allergic" recoveries known to medical science.

It is easy to understand the bad effects on hearing from the "allergy," hay fever. It is not so easy to understand why faulty food may occasionally affect the ears.

But in the annals of recent medical discoveries is one that a head trouble accompanied by watery eyes, stopped up nose and bad nerves is due to diet. It looks like a cold, but now and then is cured permanently by changing diet.

A medical "miracle" as startling as Mr. Hutton's experience was related only yesterday by a noted American ear specialist. Two weeks ago a patient called on him with use of one ear.

He had a functional nervous upset. The thrill of the dive in some way as yet unknown broke this spell.

In a few cases, one medical authority explains, "a change as seemingly slight as a flick of a fly's wing" may improve hearing. This is because hearing goes through a complex chain, of at least five links.

One of the commonest "miracles" confined to the doctors' offices—occurs at the first link in the chain—the ear drum. Though difficult to believe, wax over the drum sometimes deafens people for years. If the wax comes out the cure is complete. A hole sometimes forms in the wax, so that the patient does not realize the presence of the accumulation.

A blow on the head has been known to break a small pus abscess which is somewhere interfering with the hearing chain.

HUDNALL LOCATED IN NEW STATION

Complete Automobile Service
Available At Lee Avenue
And Jackson Street

Complete automobile service is offered at "Peanuts" Hudnall's service, located at Lee avenue and Jackson street, on U. S. highway 165. Everything from motor repairs to tail light bulbs are available at the place.

"Peanuts" Hudnall, who moved his business to its present location, where it occupies a building of modernistic design, three weeks ago. Prior to that, it was on South Grand street.

Mr. Hudnall entered the automobile service business six years ago. At the outset, his enterprise, which has experienced a steady growth, was a one-man affair. It now gives employment to five persons in addition to the owner.

"Red" Garland, an expert mechanic with years of experience, has just taken charge of the automotive repair department of the service. He is well known in Monroe, where he has followed his trade for a number of years.

Mr. Hudnall said his business had shown a decided upturn since it had moved into its new building, one of the most attractive service station structures in the city. Modernly equipped throughout, it commands attention through its exterior design. Its stucco surface is painted white. The trimmings are red.

The station fronts on both Lee avenue and Jackson street. For the convenience of motorists, three gasoline pumps are located along each front. Besides repairing cars and selling gasoline, the station washes and greases automobiles, cleans automobile motors and chassis and handles tires, tubes, tube patching, motor oils, bulbs for every light in a car and innumerable other accessories.

the pair towards Monroe. Along the way, the taxicab was stopped at a filling station for gasoline. Roberts, it was stated, attempted to attract the attention of a lady attendant at the filling station but his winking at the woman was mistaken for "flirting," and the attendant did nothing to aid the kidnapped man. The three men drove on to West Monroe, where the car was turned north and driven to White's ferry. There the bandits left Roberts stranded, after robbing him of about $12, it was said. The two men turned the taxi around and returned in the direction of West Monroe. Roberts notified Monroe officers of the kidnapping and robbery, and called his brother, Henry Roberts, at Ruston, also a taxi driver, who returned the kidnapped man to Ruston.

Early the next day, Sheriff Thigpen wired and telephoned descriptions of the two unidentified men to officers at Vicksburg, Memphis, Dallas, Little Rock, Baton Rouge, El Dorado and other cities. Later that day, the Ruston taxicab was found abandoned and wrecked near Delhi. Taxi signs pointed on the windshield had been scraped off, but ownership was traced by license numbers. Deputy Sheriff Clyde Frazier and the taxi owner went to Delhi to continue investigation.

Meanwhile, Sheriff Thigpen again communicated with Chief of Police W. L. Tucker at Vicksburg, surmising that the two men would proceed in that direction. Tucker had officers watch for the pair at the Vicksburg bridge and also stationed an officer at the taxi terminal in Vicksburg. The latter effected the capture.

The two men, Sheriff Thigpen was informed, hailed a Vicksburg taxi man and asked to be driven to Beechwood, a distance of about 12 miles. The cab operator was said to have been on his way home and when he reported to the taxi station another cab was selected to take the two men to Beechwood. The police officer who was at the terminal got into the second cab and when the two men were picked up the officer seated himself between them. Sheriff Thigpen related.

Soon after the cab began to move one of the men, subsequently identified as Read, pulled a gun on the officer. After a struggle with the bandit, the officer wrested the weapon from him. At that juncture, Parker, Read's partner, who did not possess a gun, leaped from the cab and ran. The officer caught him, however, and took both men to jail. At Vicksburg, Parker gave his correct name to officers, but Read used an alias of George Morgan of Garden City, Tex.

Advised of the capture about midnight on January 21, Sheriff Thigpen and Deputy Frazier, who were accompanied by Roberts, the Ruston taxi driver, for identification purposes, transferred the two prisoners to Ruston the following afternoon. The sheriff's office here had offered a reward of $100 for the arrest of the two men, and a check for that amount was taken to Vicksburg by Sheriff Thigpen. The voucher, with the name of the payee omitted, was given to Chief Tucker, but it has not been learned here who received the money.

As the local officers were ready to return the two youths to Ruston, one of the men told Sheriff Thigpen that "We'll get out of this."

"How do you figure that?" the sheriff asked.

if asked, "You don't expect to try to break and run do you?"

"Would you shoot if we did?" one of the bandits queried.

"Try me and see," the sheriff warned.

"Oh, we'd just as soon die that way as any other," Sheriff Thigpen quoted the man as replying.

Those remarks, as well as other incidents, led the local officers to regard their two prisoners as "the greatest we have ever had in custody." Within a week, the pair attempted to break out of the parish jail here.

District Attorney T. C. Bergeron of Farmerville filed charges of kidnapping and robbery against the two men and District Judge E. L. Walker fixed the bond at $5,000 each. In the meantime, however, attorneys for the two men, one of the men as William B. Read, wanted on two murder charges, one for the slaying of W. Earl Dollman, near Sutton, W. Va., and the other for the killing of Elwood Matthews of Montgomery county, Maryland. He was convicted of the former murder and hanged at Mountville, W. Va., on Friday, November 5. His co-prisoner, Alvin Parker, now serving from three to six years in the Louisiana penitentiary for the Ruston kidnapping and robbery, was taken from Angola by Sheriff Thigpen as a witness at Read's trial.

BISHOP MORRIS TO CONDUCT SERVICES

The Rt. Rev. James Clark Morris, Episcopal bishop of Louisiana, arrived Saturday in Monroe and will be a weekend guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Kilbourne, 1317 Emerson street.

He will conduct the service at Grace Methodist church at 7:30 a. m. today and at 10:45 a. m. will conduct the service of confirmation for a class of more than 20.

This will be the second time he has been in Monroe this year, having conducted a class at Grace church last May.

Final Episode Of Criminal's Career Opened At Ruston

Hanging Of William B. Read Recalls Story Of Abduction In Lincoln

RUSTON, La., Nov. 13.—(Special)—How Ruston furnished the setting for the final episode in a criminal's career, ended with the recent execution of William B. Read, 25, of Four Corners, Md., is being recalled by Lincoln parish sheriff's officers. That the story figured prominently in crime annals is indicated in an article in the current issue of a detective magazine describing the case of Read, who was charged with murders in both Maryland and West Virginia.

The scene of the final chapter opened in Ruston on the night of January 20, 1937, when Read, accompanied by Alvin Parker, 18, of Fayetteville, N. C., approached W. S. Roberts, taxi driver, in front of a local cafe. The two men asked Roberts to drive them to "Johnson's" house, about two miles east of Ruston. Roberts replied that he did not know anyone by that name on the highway and he was told, "That's all right, we'll show you where the house is." At the eastern edge of Ruston, one of the men, later identified as Read, produced Roberts with a gun and said, "This is a stickup." Roberts reported later to Sheriff J. B. Thigpen.

HUDNALL LOCATED IN NEW STATION

Complete Automobile Service
Available At Lee Avenue
And Jackson Street

Complete automobile service is offered at "Peanuts" Hudnall's service, located at Lee Avenue and Jackson street, on U. S. highway 165. Everything from motor repairs to tail light bulbs are available at the place.

"Peanuts" Hudnall, who moved his business to its present location, where it occupies a building of modernistic design, three weeks ago. Prior to that, it was on South Grand street.

Mr. Hudnall entered the automobile service business six years ago. At the outset, his enterprise, which has experienced a steady growth, was a one-man affair. It now gives employment to five persons in addition to the owner.

"Red" Garland, an expert mechanic with years of experience, has just taken charge of the automotive repair department of the service. "He is well known in Monroe, where he has followed his trade for a number of years."

Mr. Hudnall said his business had shown a decided upturn since it had moved into its new building, one of the most attractive service station structures in the city. Modernly equipped throughout, it commands attention through its exterior design. Its stucco surface is painted white. The trimmings are red.

The station fronts on both Lee Avenue and Jackson street. For the convenience of motorists, three gasoline pumps are located along each front.

Besides repairing cars and selling gasoline, the station washes and greases automobiles, cleans automobile motors and chassis and handles tires, tubes, tube patching, motor oils, bulbs for every light in a car and innumerable other accessories.

Lessons From Restraint

A woman who owned a beautiful Persian cat that was killed by a neighbor's dog which annoyed the entire locality, got another Persian and determined that this one would be safeguarded against predatory canines. So the woman put a collar on the cat and would never allow it out of the house except when someone accompanied it and held the leash.

The cat resented the leash. It would back off as far as the leash would permit and pull and squall. Then it would leap, plunge and roll over in a frantic effort to rid itself of the obnoxious restraint. The cat never got so it could enjoy its trips into the grassy yard until it learned to adapt itself to the situation. Finally it reached the state where it no longer resented the tether but was grateful for the opportunity to play around on the lawn and eat grass.

Human beings are often placed in situations similar to that of the Persian cat. They find themselves in an environment that irks, and they struggle and fume and fight the restricting circumstances, keeping themselves in a state of turmoil and misery when by adapting themselves to what cannot be helped they actually come to enjoy what once was a pestiferous trial.

What cannot be cured had best be not only endured but enjoyed. We can learn to like what at first we may detest. If we find ourselves in some condition not to our liking, the thing to do is to put up with it calmly if it cannot be remedied and work along quietly until it is adjusted in harmony with our preferences, if it ever can be. And if it never can be remedied—well, life is short, and there is a fine and wholesome philosophy in accepting the inevitable.

And perhaps what we don't like here is but education for a better world. The bald fact is that most of us are not fit nor trustworthy to live in a better world than this one; and some of us are not fit nor trustworthy to live even in this one.

If a person does not make himself fit and worthy to live in a better world than this one, by what argument should he expect to go to a better one when he leaves this one?

LABOR GETTING WISE

Hope that the C. I. O. and A. F. of L. negotiators will eventually reach a compromise which will end the disastrous split in labor's ranks seems to be growing brighter. And that is good news for all the country.

Apparently the conferees have the good sense to see that there must be a compromise of some sort, with each side retreating substantially from its original position. The warfare which had been going on through most of this year was becoming ruinous to both sides; continued long enough, it probably would have robbed labor of most if not all of the great gains it has made in the last few years.

There should be ample room in this country for both the craft and industrial unions. There should be enough good sense among the leaders of the two groups to see that some industries are fitted for the one type of union and other industries are fitted for the other type. It is encouraging to see that an honest attempt at compromise is at last being made.

CRACKDOWN ON LAWYERS

An important part of the business of cracking down on racketeers is the job of cracking down on crooked lawyers. The appellate division of the New York supreme court recently performed that job in fine style by disbaring Attorney J. Richard Davis, who had been the late Dutch Schultz's lawyer.

Any man accused of crime has a right to hire a lawyer, of course, and that lawyer has a right to defend his client. But it seems that Schultz used to hire his lawyer in advance; Davis accepted his retainers and agreed to defend him before the crimes against whose consequences he was to defend him had ever been committed.

The court properly remarks that such a system makes a lawyer a silent partner in crime and encourages the perpetuation of crime. And while the number of unscrupulous lawyers who operate on such a basis is very small, such men are an important part of the underworld structure. If they can be driven out of the profession they disgrace, the winning of the war on commercialized crime will be just that much easier.

An Englishman in Winnipeg during a plague of grasshoppers advised farmers to catch and eat them. But you can't jump all over a restaurant.

Explorer has discovered an African tribe that thought itself the only people on the earth. The same fallacy may be found in certain civilized nations.

The Japanese are very much dissatisfied with the way the Chinese army is behaving. Contrary to expectations, it has refused to be a pushover.

"Sitting on the fence" scarcely describes the efforts of the peacemakers to swing with the European situation. It is more as if it were a gate.

The county fair season is about done, with fewer sudden showers than usual to drive the passerby into the girl show.

RHYME AND REASON

By ANNE CAMPBELL

DARK NIGHT

The sky is like a huge black tulip fringed
With turquoise at the far horizon's rim.
The rain has stopped. . . There is no moon unlined
In the vast dome of heaven. . . Down the dim
And lonely road we ride, my love and I.
You watch the highway; I admire the sky.

The clouds break into bits before our sight
Except one huge black mountain peak, behind
Which light is struggling. . . It is silver-lined.
At last, upon her solitary flight
The moon sails with serenity and grace,
Lighting us happily to our home place.

WORKBENCH GLAMOR

By BRUCE CATTON

Serious thinkers have been stroking their beards thoughtfully of late and crying that the great American middle class is being squeezed almost to death by the pressure of hard times. What they fail to add is that the great middle class has just been asking for it by taking unto its bosom a great many people who would be happier and more prosperous elsewhere.

This fact was neatly touched on recently by the publicist, William Feather, in an article in Nation's Business.

In spite of unemployment, says Mr. Feather, the nation today suffers from an acute shortage of skilled workers, and the shortage is going to be even more acute in the near future. And why? Because the average ambitious high school lad of today has his heart set on a dignified white collar job, and scorns the prospect of being an expert turret lathe operator, a first-class pattern maker, a skilled machinist or anything else that requires manual labor.

It isn't the ambitious high school lad's fault. We have glorified the white collar man; as Mr. Feather remarks, we have taught the young chap to look forward to a career rather than a job. He feels that it would somehow be disgraceful for him to wear overalls.

The result of all of this is that the swollen middle class is jammed with people who simply can't make a decent living in their chosen occupations.

We have penniless young lawyers who wait with desperate anxiety for the practice that never materializes; hopeful young dentists who can find no teeth to fill; salesmen by the score and the gross who skimp along on a hand to mouth basis, a scant jump ahead of the sheriff; clerks who get along on day laborers' pay; and a whole army of luckless mortals who try half a dozen jobs in the course of a decade, succeeding in none of them and eternally driven by the haunting fear of poverty.

Yet all the while the skilled trades lack men, and the skilled worker goes along happily and comfortably on an income that would look like very heaven to these harassed white collar misfits.

What's the answer? Mr. Feather suggests, simply, that we devise uniforms to take the place of overalls; and before you start laughing, just consider the prestige which a neat uniform gives to the job it goes with.

We have an abundance of good technical high schools to prepare boys for the skilled trades. It would be a fine thing if we could find some way—whether Mr. Feather's, or some other—to show young men that the white collar is not the only badge of distinction in this country.

Maybe the uniforms would do it. Maybe a universal return to common sense would. Whatever the solution, it is high time we found it.

A BOOK REVIEW

STIMULUS IN STORY OF SHARE-CROPPERS

Harry Harrison Kroll's "I Was a Share-Cropper," does not pretend to offer any sort of solution to the problem of the share-cropper system. It is merely the intensely interesting story of how one man (Kroll himself) escaped its poverty and tyranny.

While it is Mr. Kroll's story, the dominating characters, perhaps, are those of his mother and father: Maw, who was always "meetin' a man" who would warn the family to move on to serve another land owner, and Darius, whose patient soul hated the constant moving about, but who assured his children each time that fried pigeons would fly in their mouths when they reached their destination.

Maw fought for his children against great odds. An unbelievably strong woman, she was willing to spend that strength for her family.

Darius, to whom Kroll dedicated this book, did little else but work—yet his quiet influence is felt even more strongly than is Maw's.

Kroll tells how, finally outgrowing the handicaps of a childhood infantile paralysis attack, he set out to educate himself at an age when most sons of share-croppers are becoming share-croppers themselves. After a few years as a roaming photographer in the south, he laid out a plan of study and forced himself through a rigid self-education.

In time he passed all the grade certificates as a teacher and got his life certificate. Then, though he had married and had children, he went to college, paying his way with his savings and what writing he could manage.

Then he wrote his first book and sold the movie rights for what seemed a fortune.

"I Was a Share-Cropper" is a book that should be read, if for no other reason than that it makes the reader feel good.—J. S.

The time is ripe for another one of those Simple Life books of the sort that topped the best selling division 20 years ago. Any author who can attractively point the way back to the vine-clad porch and the easy rocker will wangle a hefty royalty check.

The national mood has become astonishingly rustic. Everybody, it would seem, wants to get away from the turmoil of cities, away where they can relax and meditate on the blessed promises. The movies and plays that stress such a theme immediately click.

It used to be the country boy going to the city that thrilled, but now it is the city boy going back to the land. Observers say that the complexities of economic life have shorn many of the ambitions once so pronounced.

Men realize it is not going to be possible for this generation or the next to build up the huge fortunes of the recent years. So why struggle? Why not take things easy? And it is impossible to coast in the larger cities and survive.

A large percentage of the grandiose estates on Long Island and in Westchester are either shuttered or are for sale. Hundreds of the owners are living in the little homes of the former lodge-keepers and apparently enjoying life just as much.

There are any number, once wealthy and now just able to keep off the sheriff, who say they would not go back to The Grand Splurge. It may be whistling in the dark, but it doesn't seem so to the ordinary listener.

Anyway all the talk is of simplicity and contented life on the prairies and among the hills. It is no longer glamorous to be rich. It is the day of the Have Nots.

Musing: Last year they worried no end about the farmer's drought. This year they have been piling reports in upon us of bumper crops in the middle west—wheat, oats and corn no end—and then the south came through with reports of the greatest cotton crop in years. And they are worrying again, proposing to peg prices and markets and all that. Planning! Sometimes we have a hunch it might be better after all to drop back to the old laissez faire business. If workers in the steel plants get dissatisfied, let them, as Ole Bill said, go to a better ole, if they can find it. If farm prices go down there is nothing much to do save let the sympathy die. It is the bad break that comes to every calling, including writing. The claim is to stop the tides, reverse the movements of the moon and outlaw the turnings of the season is getting a bit tiresome to mossbacks not attuned to the new-fangled rigamarole.

There is speculation whether the straw hat may go the way of the peg-top trousers. There was a time when nine out of 10 men donned the straw lid when the season opened, but for several years there has been a steady decline of wearers, until this year the straw was almost a novelty. Coupled with the fact that so many go hatless, it is not very easy for the straw hat makers.

The movie premiere grows more elegant with each presentation. There is as much fuss and feathers about them as there used to be at a folies opening. The spotlights are rigged up at the entrance and the pack of autograph pests are in full cry. A cordon of police is nearly always necessary.

Few women have led a more varied and active career than Carolyn Wells and she tells of it in entertaining fashion in her latest book, "The Rest of My Life." And she is as active today as she was 30 years ago, although the doctors long ago told her she had but a year or so to live, and for a decade she has been almost stone dead.

Her interest in affairs is keen, she goes everywhere and is the life of the party. Her friendships include Gelett Burgess, Theodore Dreiser, Oliver Herford and many more. Another book that

YOUR HEALTH

By Dr. Morris Fishbein

Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Review, the Health Magazine.

Because we are creatures of custom, far more attention is given to the presence or absence of the hair, its color, its straightness or curliness, its excess, or its other qualities than to its merits from any point of view except that of vanity.

It is doubtful that the hair itself has any effect whatever on health.

Hair on the human body gives support to the belief that man once was covered with hair like other animals and that the change in his habits and exposure of his body to the sunlight resulted in the general loss of most of his hair.

If we study the various races of man we discover some with hair that is naturally curly and others with hair that is usually straight. A hair that curls is usually flat in appearance when seen under a microscope. Straight hair is usually cylindrical.

When you look at a hair under the microscope you find that it has three layers, a central, an inner and an outer layer.

Today much more attention is being given to the care of the hair than was customary a quarter of a century ago. Before 1915, bobbed hair for women was a rarity. Since bobbed hair has come in, the upkeep on the hair in dressing has become a serious matter.

Two grown daughters would pay the family medical bill for a year and leave plenty over.

Ordinary care of the hair is not a difficult matter. The hair should be washed often enough to keep it clean. For short hair, washing should occur at least once in two weeks and for long hair once in three weeks.

There is no evidence that the use of eggs in shampooing is of any more use than throwing an egg into an electric fan. Any good toilet soap that will lather freely is useful for the hair. Most important is a thorough rinsing and drying of the hair after washing. Experts are inclined to suggest the importance of slow drying rather than drying with an electric blower of heat.

If the hair is too dry, a small amount of oil may be rubbed into it after drying. Dryness of the hair is due to lack of the oil secreted by the glands of the scalp.

When the body in general is in ill health, the hair is likely to be ill also. Falling of the hair after any serious illness is exceedingly common. When the body begins to improve and its hygiene to reach an optimum state, the hair also will return to normal.

Condition of the blood is closely related to the hair, for the blood supplies nourishment to the scalp exactly as it does to the rest of the body. Therefore, a good supply of high quality blood is important for the well-being of the hair.

Out of this simple fact have come a half dozen or more treatments for falling hair which, however, have failed to restore hair. In some later columns in this series of articles some of these devices and methods will be described.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By Rodney Dutcher

WASHINGTON—Exchange of a letter between the maritime commission and the National Maritime union, featuring Chairman Joe Kennedy's "put in iron" cable to the Alcie's captain, Munster and Union President Joe Curran's promise to "get Kennedy's scotch" is going to get hotter.

The two chief factors begging solution are a strong anti-union feeling and most members of the commission and its staff and a serious set of breaches of discipline, especially among stewards, in the American merchant marine.

Coast Guard To Train Men

Labor leaders don't know it yet, but they'll be holding their breath at the commission's report on the merchant marine situation it sent congress this month. The commission has decided that the coast guard should be used to train seamen, new seamen should learn discipline on board, and that sub-contractors should require ship operators to hire graduates.

This hits the seamen's unions right between the eyes. It would strike their union during hours, where they are provided for outgoing ships, tend to weaken if not destroy unions.

The scheme is sure to be denounced as a "union-busting" device and ports from inside the commission declare that some members and officials believe with either enthusiasm or disapproval that it is even that. The dominant feeling in commission is that labor unions, least militant unions, have no part in the merchant marine.

Cite Law Discipline

Although propaganda about discipline at sea has been coming of the commission lately in advance its report, everyone concerned is pathetic to unions or not, agrees a bad situation has existed and something must be done to reduce large volume of passenger complaints. If union leaders fail to enforce discipline among crews, they need no great sympathy in off Washington. The Pilot, official N. U. organ, has had several editorials demanding better discipline and at least one instance the union promised to approve discharge of a steward guilty of bad behavior.

Meanwhile publicity is being given to alleged instances of the sea who demanded leaves of lettuce instead of lettuce leaves, a crew was accused on unloading a ship on shore of eating the ship's food, a steward was accused of a woman, a steward was accused of a woman, a steward was accused of a woman.

Get up, baby, it's time for breakfast, and so on. The men the Alcie case, with facts later piled, will be piled on by a court faced by 14 crew members temporarily stopped work at M. V. V.

May Deal With Unions

In the background is the fact seamen whose wages were to down as low as $25 or $30 a month who crowded into filthy, vermin infested quarters with bad food, many of the better ones left the navy, feeling their oats and reeling pent-up emotions.

But the commission is feeling, too, and has hired men for jobs who privately admit anti-union prejudice. Finally some Washington reports—not published from common sources—indicate that some American passengers are more prone to dealing with stewards than seamen or European lines.

The question will be asked, or not, why the maritime commission couldn't try to work with the interests of sailors as v. bound up with good operation American ships. There is no r. that a lawyer has taken up any claim with any of the unions.

Lessons From Restraint

A woman who owned a beautiful Persian cat that was killed by a neighbor's dog which annoyed the entire locality, got another Persian and determined that this one would be safeguarded against predatory canines. So the woman put a collar on the cat and would never allow it out of the house except when someone accompanied it and held the leash.

The cat resented the leash. It would back off as far as the leash would permit and pull and squall. Then it would leap, plunge and roll over in a frantic effort to rid itself of the obnoxious restraint. The cat never got so it could enjoy its trips into the grassy yard until it learned to adapt itself to the situation. Finally it reached the state where it no longer resented the tether but was grateful for the opportunity to play around on the lawn and eat grass.

Human beings are often placed in situations similar to that of the Persian cat. They find themselves in an environment that irks, and they struggle and fume and fight the restricting circumstances, keeping themselves in a state of turmoil and misery when by adapting themselves to what cannot be helped they actually come to enjoy what once was a pestiferous trial.

What cannot be cured had best be not only endured but enjoyed. We can learn to like what at first we may detest. If we find ourselves in some condition not to our liking, the thing to do is to put up with it calmly if it cannot be remedied and work along quietly until it is adjusted in harmony with our preferences, if it ever can be. And if it never can be remedied—well, life is short, and there is a fine and wholesome philosophy in accepting the inevitable.

And perhaps what we don't like here is but education for a better world. The bald fact is that most of us are not fit nor trustworthy to live in a better world than this one; and some of us are not fit nor trustworthy to live even in this one.

If a person does not make himself fit and worthy to live in a better world than this one, by what argument should he expect to go to a better one when he leaves this one?

LABOR GETTING WISE

Hope that the C. I. O. and A. F. of L. negotiators will eventually reach a compromise which will end the disastrous split in labor's ranks seems to be growing brighter. And that is good news for all the country.

Apparently the conferees have the good sense to see that there must be a compromise of some sort, with each side retreating substantially from its original position. The warfare which had been going on through most of this year was becoming ruinous to both sides; continued long enough, it probably would have robbed labor of most if not all of the great gains it has made in the last few years.

There should be ample room in this country for both the craft and industrial unions. There should be enough good sense among the leaders of the two groups to see that some industries are fitted for the one type of union and other industries are fitted for the other type. It is encouraging to see that an honest attempt at compromise is at last being made.

CRACKDOWN ON LAWYERS

An important part of the business of cracking down on racketeers is the job of cracking down on crooked lawyers. The appellate division of the New York supreme court recently performed that job in fine style by disbaring Attorney J. Richard Davis, who had been the late Dutch Schultz's lawyer.

Any man accused of crime has a right to hire a lawyer, of course, and that lawyer has a right to defend his client. But it seems that Schultz used to hire his lawyer in advance; Davis accepted his retainers and agreed to defend him before the crimes against whose consequences he was to defend him had ever been committed.

The court properly remarks that such a system makes a lawyer a silent partner in crime and encourages the perpetuation of crime. And while the number of unscrupulous lawyers who operate on such a basis is very small, such men are an important part of the underworld structure. If they can be driven out of the profession they disgrace, the winning of the war on commercialized crime will be just that much easier.

An Englishman in Winnipeg during a plague of grasshoppers advised farmers to catch and eat them. But you can't jump all over a restaurant.

Explorer has discovered an African tribe that thought itself the only people on the earth. The same fallacy may be found in certain civilized nations.

The Japanese are very much dissatisfied with the way the Chinese army is behaving. Contrary to expectations, it has refused to be a pushover.

"Sitting on the fence" scarcely describes the efforts of the peacemakers to swing with the European situation. It is more as if it were a gate.

DARK NIGHT
The sky is like a huge black tulip fringed
With turquoise at the far horizon's rim.
The rain has stopped. . . . There is no moon untinged
In the vast dome of heaven. . . . Down the dim
And lonely road we ride, my love and I.
You watch the highway; I admire the sky.

Except one huge black mountain peak, behind
Which light is struggling. . . . It is silver-lined.
At last, upon her solitary flight
The moon sails with serenity and grace,
Lighting us happily to our home place.

This clamor to stop the tides, reverse the movements of the moon and outlaw the turnings of the season is getting a bit tiresome to mossbacks not attuned to the new-fangled rigamarole.

There is speculation whether the straw hat may go the way of the peg-top trousers. There was a time when nine out of 10 men donned the straw lid when the season opened, but for several years there has been a steady decline of wearers, until this year the straw was almost a novelty. Coupled with the fact that so many go hatless, it is not very rosy for the straw hat makers.

The movie premiere grows more elegant with each presentation. There is as much fuss and feathers about them as there used to be at a folies opening. The spotlights are rigged up at the entrance and the pack of autograph pests are in full cry. A cordon of police is nearly always necessary.

Few women have led a more varied and active career than Carolyn Wells and she tells of it in entertaining fashion in her latest book, "The Rest of My Life." And she is as active today as she was 30 years ago, although the doctors long ago told her she had but a year or so to live, and for a decade she has been almost stone deaf. Her interest in affairs is keen, she goes everywhere and is the life of the party. Her friendships include Oliver Burgeon, Theodore Dreiser, Gelett Burgess, Theodore Dreiser, Oliver Herford and many more. Another book that will interest everybody, and especially Chicagoans, is William C. Lengel's "Candles in the Wind." Lengel was long a prominent magazine editor until he retired to divide his time between serving as a literary agent to a select clientele and writing a novel a year. He was born and reared in Kansas City and intended to become a lawyer.

News editors cannot account for the lack of reader interest to stunt flying. The public is meeting them with a yawn. Stories that would have resuited a few years ago in page one splashes are now carried inconspicuously inside. Psychologists say that the airplane, like the motor car, has merely become casual.

Ordinary care of the hair is not a difficult matter. The hair should be washed often enough to keep it clean. For short hair, washing should occur at least once in two weeks and for long hair once in three weeks.

There is no evidence that the use of eggs in shampoos is of any more use than throwing an egg into an electric fan. Any good toilet soap that will lather freely is useful for the hair. Most important is a thorough rinsing and drying of the hair after washing. Experts are inclined to suggest the importance of slow drying rather than drying with an electric blower of heat.

If the hair is too dry, a small amount of oil may be rubbed into it after drying. Dryness of the hair is due to lack of the oil secreted by the glands of the scalp.

When the body begins to improve and its hygiene to reach an optimum state, the hair also will return to normal.

Condition of the blood is closely related to the hair. For the blood supplies nourishment to the scalp exactly as it does to the rest of the body. Therefore, a good supply of high quality blood is important for the well-being of the hair.

Out of this simple fact have come a half dozen or more treatments for falling hair which, however, have failed to restore hair. In some later columns in this series of articles some of these devices and methods will be described.

YOUR HEALTH

By Dr. Morris Fishbein
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Medical, the Health Magazine

Because we are creatures of custom, far more attention is given to the presence or absence of the hair, its color, its straightness or curliness, its excess, or its other qualities than it merits from any point of view except that of vanity.

It is doubtful that the hair itself has any effect whatever on health.

Hair on the human body gives support to the belief that man once was covered with hair like other animals and that the change in his habits and exposure of his body to the sunlight resulted in the general loss of most of his hair.

If we study the various races of man we discover some with hair that is naturally curly and others with hair that is usually straight. A hair that curls is usually flat in appearance when seen under a microscope. Straight hair is usually cylindrical.

When you look at a hair under the microscope you find that it has three layers, a central, an inner and an outer layer.

Today much more attention is being given to the care of the hair than was customary a quarter of a century ago. Before 1915, bobbed hair for women was a rarity. Since bobbed hair has come in, the upkeep on the hair in a family with a mother and two grown daughters would pay the family medical bill for a year and leave plenty over.

Ordinary care of the hair is not a difficult matter. The hair should be washed often enough to keep it clean. For short hair, washing should occur at least once in two weeks and for long hair once in three weeks.

There is no evidence that the use of eggs in shampoos is of any more use than throwing an egg into an electric fan. Any good toilet soap that will lather freely is useful for the hair. Most important is a thorough rinsing and drying of the hair after washing. Experts are inclined to suggest the importance of slow drying rather than drying with an electric blower of heat.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By Rodney Dutcher
WASHINGTON—Exchange of fire between the maritime commission and the National Maritime union, featured by Chairman Joe Kennedy's "put 'em in irons" cable to the Algic captain at Montevideo and Union President Joe Curran's promise to "get Kennedy's scalp," is going to get hotter.

The two chief factors begging solution are a strong anti-union feeling among most members of the commission and its staff and a serious series of breaches of discipline, especially among stewards, in the American merchant marine.

Coast Guard To Train Men

Labor leaders don't know it yet, but they'll be hollering blue murder when the commission's report on the whole merchant marine situation is sent to congress this month. The commission has decided that the coast guard should be used to train seamen, that new seamen should learn discipline on coast guard vessels and that subsidy contracts should require ship operators to hire the graduates.

This hits the seamen's unions right between the eyes. It would strike at their union hiring halls, where men are provided for outgoing ships, and tend to weaken if not destroy the unions.

The scheme is sure to be denounced as a "union-busting" device and reports from inside the commission indicate that some members and high officials believe, with either enthusiasm or disapproval, that it is exactly that. The dominant feeling in the commission is that labor unions, at least militant unions, have no place in the merchant marine.

Cite Tax Discipline

Although propaganda about bad discipline at sea has been coming out of the commission lately in advance of its report, everyone concerned—sympathetic to unions or not—agrees that a bad situation has existed and that something must be done to reduce the large volume of passenger complaints. If union leader fail to enforce better discipline among crews, they need expect no great sympathy in official Washington. The Pilot, official N. M. U. organ, has had several editorials demanding better discipline and in at least one instance the union has promised to approve discharge of a steward guilty of bad behavior.

Meanwhile publicity is being given to alleged instances of the seamen who demanded hearts of lettuce instead of lettuce leaves, a crew which insisted on unloading a ship on the shady rather than the sunny side of wharf, a drunken steward who fell into a swimming pool among guests, a steward who said to a female passenger, "Get up, baby, it's time for breakfast," and so on. The merits of the Algic case, with facts bitterly disputed, will be ruled on by a federal court faced by 14 crew members who temporarily stopped work at Montevideo.

May Deal With Unions

In the background is the fact that seamen whose wages were forced down as low as $25 or $30 a month and who crowded into filthy, vermin-infested quarters with bad food until many of the better ones left the sea, are now feeling their oats and releasing pent-up emotions.

But the commission is feeling its oats, too, and has hired men for key jobs who privately admit anti-union prejudice. Finally some Washington reports—not published from commission sources—indicate that some American passengers are more provocative in dealing with the crew members than passengers on European lines.

The question will be asked, fairly or not, why the maritime commission couldn't try to work with the unions, since interests of sailors are vitally bound up with good operation of American ships. There is no record that it ever has taken up any complaint with any of the unions.

M'LAURIN ELECTED TECH ALUMNI HEAD

JONESBORO, La., Nov. 13.—(Special)—Superintendent of Education W. H. McLaurin of Jackson parish was elected president of the Louisiana Tech Alumni association. He was chosen at a meeting of Tech graduates which was held at the Jonesboro-Hodge High school.

Other officers elected included J. D. Koonce, principal of Eros High school, president, and Edwin Cox, secretary.

D. G. Armstrong, secretary of the general alumni association and head of the extension department at Louisiana Tech, attended the meeting and explained the objects of the organization.

BUSBY MAKES UNUSUAL MARKSMANSHIP SCORE

Samuel F. Eley, a member of the United States coast guard, with headquarters at Mobile, Ala., will leave this morning for Alexandria to give instructions in pistol shooting to federal agents in that city.

Coast Guardsman Eley spent the last week in Monroe giving instructions in pistol shooting to L. E. Holleman and C. M. Harrison, members of the local federal alcohol tax unit, and to Police Captain J. D. Busby of the Monroe police department.

The course, consisting of six lessons, was given at the police pistol range at the corner of Oak and Twelfth streets.

Captain Busby distinguished himself during the course by shooting a score of 273 hits out of a possible 300. Coast Guardsman Eley complimented the local officer on his marksmanship and said his shooting was remarkable, the feat being duplicated by only two other officers in Texas. Such a high score for pistol shooting is seldom attained, the instructor said.

PLAN FIELD DAY AT MODEL FARM

Modern Equipment To Be Demonstrated On Plantation Near Tallulah

TALLULAH, La., Nov. 13.—(Special)—Tallulah plantation, south of Tallulah in Madison parish, was a busy place this week when hundreds of visitors witnessed a demonstration of modern farming equipment on the plantation owned by M. J. Carbone of the Louisiana Tractor and Machinery company of Tallulah, owners.

When Mr. Carbone took over the plantation on March 1, only 300 acres were in cultivation in scattered patches. Today approximately 500 acres are cleared and visitors who were acquainted with the plantation were amazed to find 100 acres of fine alfalfa and 75 acres of vetch growing on land that only a few months ago was covered with trees.

Greatest interest in the demonstration centered in the land clearing operation. One tractor on a Drexel tractor with bulldozer has cleared more than 425 acres of land at an average cost of only $14 per acre. He cleared from four to 10 acres a day and visitors estimated that this one outfit did the work of 15 men. Trees as large as 14 inches in diameter were uprooted and pushed into woodpiles for burning during the demonstration.

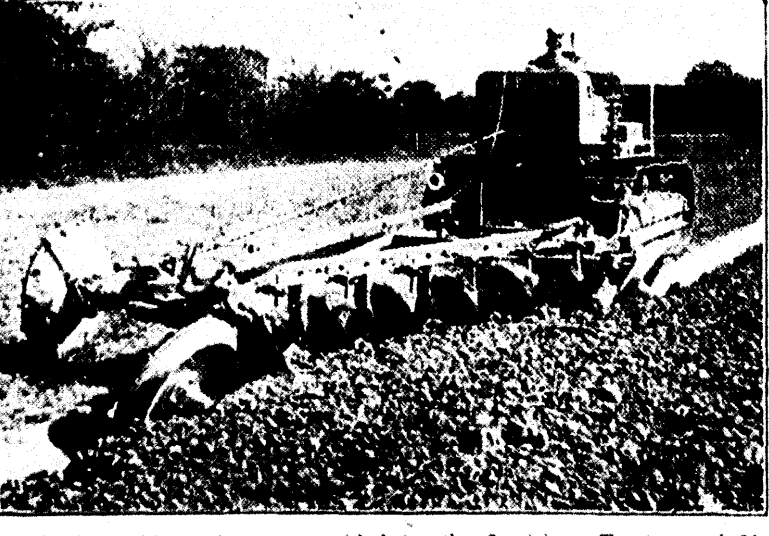

After the land is cleared it is immediately ditched for drainage. Main ditches are dug with a tractor-mounted dragline which moves more than 600 yards of dirt a day. Laterals are dug with a road grader pulled by a track-type tractor.

In addition to these operations, visitors saw 15 modern agricultural implements at work. Enthusiasm was manifested over a four-row tractor-mounted mulch-plow which breaks land at a cost of 24 cents an acre as compared with 41 cents an acre for a four-row team and header plow.

The demonstration at Tallulah differed from many in that each operation was accompanied by a set of complete cost figures made on the plantation by Mr. Carbone and H. W. Gerlach, Caterpillar Tractor company engineer.

Implements shown included mulch-plows, breaking plows of different sizes, wide and narrow disc, spring

TRACTOR PLOWING DEMONSTRATED

Plowing with equipment provided by the Louisiana Tractor and Machinery company, of Tallulah, for its demonstration plantation 16 miles south of Tallulah, is pictured above. tooth weeders, a land leveler and four sizes of track-type tractors.

All this equipment will be in regular use at the plantation for several weeks and can be seen at any time. However, so much interest was shown in this field day that Mr. Carbone has decided to repeat it next Tuesday. All plantation owners and others interested are invited to see the various operations on that date.

LARGE GAIN IN OUACHITA COTTON YIELD REPORTED

A noteworthy gain in production of cotton in Ouachita parish was shown yesterday when E. R. Nicks, special agent of the commerce department's census bureau, reported that 19,440 bales were ginned in the parish from the crop of 1937 up to November 1, as compared with 15,963 bales ginned up to November 1 of last year from the crop of 1936. The gain in production was 4,544 bales.

JUNIOR GAME WARDENS WILL GET 'COMMISSIONS'

BROKEN TOYS NOW BEING MENDED FOR CHRISTMAS TIME

Continuing activities that in past years have contributed to the spreading of Christmas cheer in homes of the less fortunate, the toy shop is now open and is being operated at 219 South Fifth street as a WPA project.

Broken or discarded toys will be collected and repaired for presentation on or before next Christmas eve, stated Mrs. Mildred Taylor, WPA supervisor.

Five Boy Scout troops made a house-to-house collection of toys on a recent Saturday, delivering several truck loads to the toy shop.

Workers are now engaged in the work of restoring toys and dolls, under the personal direction of Mrs. Lottie Farrar, foreman.

The Council of Social Agencies has named a committee that will arrange to secure material required for the work of toy repairing, Mrs. Taylor said.

Several thousand toys were reconstructed last year and the workmanship was declared to be of so high grade that it was almost of professional nature and elicited much commendation.

As the work progresses and toys and dolls are reconstructed additional collections will be made of damaged or discarded toys from the homes of Monroe and West Monroe by groups of Boy Scouts.

Mrs. Jonas Selig, chairman of the committee from the Council of Social Agencies, which has charge of the securing of material for the toy shop, stated Saturday that her efforts and that of the committee have received excellent success and cooperation.

TRI-PARISH SINGERS TO GATHER AT JENA

Members of the Tri-Parish singing convention comprising the parishes of LaSalle, Catahoula and Franklin, will meet today at the Jena High school auditorium, according to an announcement made by W. M. Beuge.

The convention will begin at 9:30 a. m., and continue until 3:30 p. m. The public is invited to attend and enjoy the singing.

FIRE DESTROYS CAR

An automobile belonging to R. R. McCurdy was reported by the Monroe fire department to have been destroyed by fire on the Winthrop road late Friday night. The blaze was attributed to faulty wiring in the car. A company from the central fire station answered the call and used a hoister pump in an effort to extinguish the fire and save the automobile but without avail.

Chemical properties in the blood of males and females are different.

TO CONDUCT MISSION

TALLULAH, La., Nov. 13.—(Special)—Rev. Thomas S. J. McGrath will conduct a mission for one week, beginning Sunday, at St. Agnes Catholic church here. Rev. John C. Vandegraaf is the local priest. There will be two services daily, at 7 o'clock in the morning and 7:30 o'clock at night.

NATIONAL SOCIETY OFFERS CHARTER TO PARISH SCHOOL BAND

The National Band and Honor society, of which A. R. McAllister, of Joliet, Ill., is president, has just announced the selection of the Ouachita Parish High school band as one of the first in the country to be offered a charter in the organization he represents.

The local band was organized in September, 1936, and has been directed by Walter Minnear. It comprises the present time 62 pieces. In the national band contest for region No. 3 held in Jackson, Miss., last spring, the local musical group was awarded the championship of Class D bands.

The letter to Mr. Minnear announcing the latest honor to be awarded the Ouachita High school band is as follows:

"To be pleasure in writing you in order that the Ouachita High school band has been selected as one of the first bands in the United States to be offered a charter in the National Band and Orchestra Honor society."

"The fine work that your band has done and the interest that you have made have placed them in this position. Your smart appearance is enclosed and you will be expected to return it not later than December 1, as this is the date set for these charters to go out.

"I compliment your organization on having been selected for this honor and wish for you and them continued success."

The letter was signed by Roy M. Martin, secretary-treasurer of the organization.

COUPLE WILL TAKE PASTEUR TREATMENT

Mr. and Mrs. George Butler, residing near Baton Rouge, not far from the Louisiana Baptist Children's home, are taking Pasteur treatment for prevention of rabies.

A cow owned by the Butlers went mad after it was believed to have been bitten by a dog. A veterinarian was summoned and treated the cow, but it died late Friday night, and the carcass was promptly destroyed by burning.

As both Mr. and Mrs. Butler had been bitten by the dog, in order to take Pasteur treatment in the advice of the family physician.

'JEALOUS RAGE' CLAIM SCOUTED

Prosecutors Intimate They Think Wright Trapped Wife And Friend

GLENDAL, Calif., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Paul A. Wright stood mute and pale today at his murder arraignment even as prosecutors discounted his "jealous rage" account of killing his pretty young wife and a close friend in his luxurious home here Tuesday.

The 32-year-old airport president waived, through counsel, the formality of reading the complaint that charged he murdered his wife, Evelyn, 29, and John B. Kimmel, 32, his operations manager.

"If my conclusions are borne out by subsequent developments," said Eugene Williams, district attorney's chief investigator, "the state will attempt to prove that Mrs. Wright and Kimmel were killed in cold blood, their deaths being premeditated and possibly accomplished by entrapment."

Wright told police immediately after the shooting that he emptied an automatic pistol into his wife's and Kimmel's bodies when he found them caressing on a piano bench as he entered his living room after awaking from an alcohol-induced nap.

Williams said investigators' examination of physical evidence led them to believe the two were shot at close range and not from a distance as Wright said.

Jerry Geisler, Wright's attorney, said Wright would plead not guilty at his preliminary hearing Thursday. That would preclude the possibility of an insanity defense. Under California law, a plea of not guilty by reason of insanity results first in a trial of the facts, then trial of the prisoner for his sanity.

Geisler indicated, however, he would try to show that Wright had become emotionally unstable because of incidents in his married life. He previously said Wright had related he underwent a sterilization operation after the birth of a daughter three years ago when a physician advised that another childbirth would be hazardous for Mrs. Wright.

Dr. William E. Branch, the Wrights' physician, said Wright was shell-shocked during the World war.

"My wife looked up at me and smiled or sort of laughed and then kissed Johnny on the lips," Wright told police when he surrendered immediately after the killing. Everything went white hot. I got my automatic pistol. I don't know how many times I fired."

Police Chief V. B. Browne maintained a 24-hour guard on Wright, expressing a fear he might try suicide.

UNEMPLOYED!

Beginning on November sixteenth and ending promptly at midnight on November twentieth, the United States Government will make a census to accurately determine the number of unemployed people in this entire country.

The postal authorities of Monroe and West Monroe will, on the morning of the sixteenth of November, place an individual unemployment report card in every post office box as well as deliver to every home in Monroe, West Monroe and suburbs of these two Cities and rural route carriers will deliver these cards and place same in each rural route mail box in districts covered by rural carriers from Monroe and West Monroe Post Offices.

Each firm and individual receiving these cards are urgently requested to see that same are placed in the hands of some unemployed person and the public at large is requested to assist any and all unemployed in properly filling out these cards.

All cards will have to be filled out and mailed into the post offices not later than midnight of November 20th. There is no postage required, simply drop in any mail box in the Cities of Monroe or West Monroe or place in a rural route mail box and they will be picked up by postmen in their regular rounds.

If anyone does not receive a card by November 17th, he can secure cards from the Post Offices, Police Jury, City Halls, Labor Council, Louisiana Employment Bureau at 423 DeSiard Street, Social Welfare Exchange located in old Central Savings Bank Building on South Grand Street.

All are requested to get individual assistance from friends or relatives in filling out these cards. However, if this is not possible assistance can be had at rooms 306 and 307 Monroe Post Office, West Monroe Post Office, City Halls of Monroe and West Monroe, Police Jury rooms in Court House, Labor Council, Louisiana Employment Bureau at 423 DeSiard Street or Social Welfare Exchange in old Central Savings Bank Building on South Grand Street.

Notice to All Churches, Clubs, Civic Organizations, Labor Organizations and Schools

Please have the above announcement made at all church services today, Sunday, November 14th, and at each of your meetings during the coming week and urge all of your members to assist in every way possible in this census.

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES

(Reprinted from the Unemployment Report Card)

THE WHITE HOUSE
Washington

TO EVERY WORKER:

If you are unemployed or partly unemployed and are able to work and are seeking work, please fill out this report card right away and mail it before midnight, Saturday, November 20, 1937. No postage is needed.

The Congress directed me to take this census. It is important to the unemployed and to everyone in this land that the census be complete, honest, and accurate. If you give me the facts, I shall try to use them for the benefit of all who need and want work and do not now have it.

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

Who Should Register?

5. Individual Registration.

Each person in every family should fill out and return an individual Unemployment Report Card to the post office if he is included in any of the groups described in the following paragraph entitled, "Persons Who Should Register." An adequate supply of cards should be made available upon request, in order to assure the inclusion in the census of each person who should register.

6. Persons Who Should Register.

a. All persons who are totally unemployed, able to work, and want work. Included in this group are the following:

- (1) Persons who have worked for pay, who are able to work, and still want work.
- (2) Persons who formerly had their own business, farm, or professional practice, and no longer work at it, who are able to work, and want work.
- (3) Persons now looking for their first jobs.

b. All persons who are partly employed, able to do more work, and want more work. Included in this group are the following:

- (1) Persons working part-time at regular jobs, who are able to do more work, and want more work.
- (2) Persons employed part time on irregular work (including casual workers) who are able to do more work, and want more work.

c. All persons working full time or part time on projects of WPA, NYA, CCC, or other emergency work projects which are supported by public funds. Included in this group are the following:

- (1) Persons working on Works Progress Administration projects or on emergency projects of other Federal agencies under the Works Program.
- (2) Enrollees working in CCC camps.
- (3) Persons employed on NYA work projects.
- (4) Persons receiving NYA student aid.
- (5) Persons working on emergency work projects conducted by State or local governments as part of a work relief program.

7. Persons Who Should NOT Register.

a. The following groups of employed persons should NOT fill out and return Unemployment Report Cards:

- (1) Persons who are working full time for wages or commissions, or persons who devote full time to their own business, farm, or professional practice. Note that some of these workers may be looking for another job, but they should not register.

- (2) Persons who are working part time (except on emergency work projects which are supported by public funds) and who do not want more work.

- (3) Persons who are on strike unless actively seeking another job.

- (4) Persons who are temporarily sick or disabled but have a full time job to which they will return as soon as they get well.

- (5) Persons who are on vacation or are taking time off from a job to which they will return.

- (6) Administrative employees of WPA, NYA, CCC, or other agencies which are conducting emergency work projects which are supported by public funds.

b. Other groups specifically excluded from registration are:

- (1) Persons who are unable to work because of permanent disability or chronic illness.
- (2) Persons who have retired or who do not want work.
- (3) Young persons excluded from work because of State child labor laws or local ordinances.

8. Special Groups.

Paragraphs 6 and 7 list the general definitions covering those who should and those who should not fill out and return the Unemployment Report Card. There are, however, certain groups of persons regarding which questions will arise frequently:

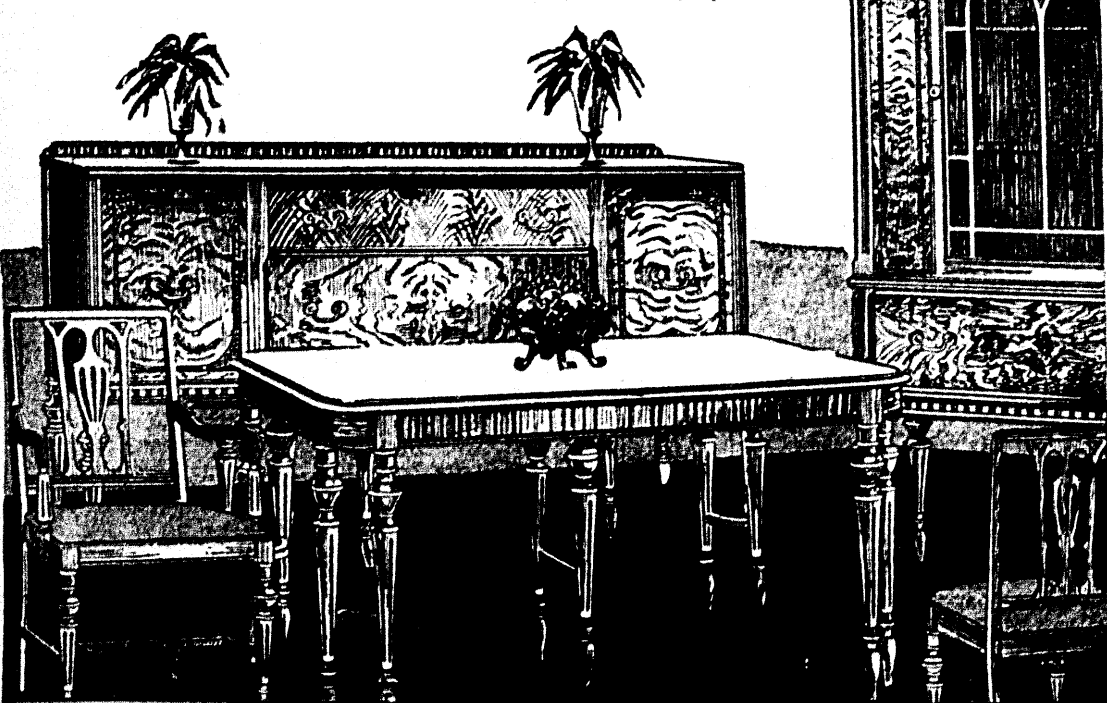

Housewives engaged in domestic duties, or helping in a family business, store, or on the family farm should not fill out cards unless they are able to do other work and are looking for work for pay. Note that some housewives are regularly employed for pay or profit either part time or full time, and that these women should follow the instructions for other full-time and part-time workers.

Unpaid family workers (that is, persons whose work is in the home, the family store, on the family farm, etc., without pay) who formerly had a paid job, or who are looking for a first job, should fill out the card if they are able to work and want a job for pay. However, unpaid family workers who expect to continue at their present work should not fill out the card.

Full-time students at high school or college ordinarily will not fill out cards even though they are seeking incidental employment. However, if they are receiving NYA student aid or are looking for full-time work and expect to quit school when they find work they should fill out and return cards.

Inmates of institutions, such as penitentiaries, jails, hospitals, homes for the aged, insane asylums, etc., should not fill out Unemployment Report Cards, and no cards will be left by the post office for their use. Persons other than inmates in such institutions are eligible to register if they can qualify in the groups mentioned in paragraph 6 above. Inmates at poorhouses, poor farms, etc., who are receiving institutional care in place of home or work relief and who are able to work and want work, should fill out and return Unemployment Report Cards.

UNEMPLOYED!

Beginning on November sixteenth and ending promptly at midnight on November twentieth, the United States Government will make a census to accurately determine the number of unemployed people in this entire country.

The postal authorities of Monroe and West Monroe will, on the morning of the sixteenth of November, place an individual unemployment report card in every post office box as well as deliver to every home in Monroe, West Monroe and suburbs of these two Cities and rural route carriers will deliver these cards and place same in each rural route mail box in districts covered by rural carriers from Monroe and West Monroe Post Offices.

Each firm and individual receiving these cards are urgently requested to see that same are placed in the hands of some unemployed person and the public at large is requested to assist any and all unemployed in properly filling out these cards.

All cards will have to be filled out and mailed into the post offices not later than midnight of November 20th. There is no postage required, simply drop in any mail box in the Cities of Monroe or West Monroe or place in a rural route mail box and they will be picked up by postmen in their regular rounds.

If anyone does not receive a card by November 17th, he can secure cards from the Post Offices, Police Jury, City Halls, Labor Council, Louisiana Employment Bureau at 423 DeSiard Street, Social Welfare Exchange located in old Central Savings Bank Building on South Grand Street.

All are requested to get individual assistance from friends or relatives in filling out these cards. However, if this is not possible assistance can be had at rooms 306 and 307 Monroe Post Office, West Monroe Post Office, City Halls of Monroe and West Monroe, Police Jury rooms in Court House, Labor Council, Louisiana Employment Bureau at 423 DeSiard Street or Social Welfare Exchange in old Central Savings Bank Building on South Grand Street.

Notice to All Churches, Clubs, Civic Organizations, Labor Organizations and Schools

Please have the above announcement made at all church services today, Sunday, November 14th, and at each of your meetings during the coming week and urge all of your members to assist in every way possible in this census.

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES
(Reprinted from the Unemployment Report Card)

Washington

TO EVERY WORKER:

If you are unemployed or partly unemployed and are able to work and are seeking work, please fill out this report card right away and mail it before midnight, Saturday, November 20, 1937. No postage is needed.

The Congress directed me to take this census. It is important to the unemployed and to everyone in this land that the census be complete, honest, and accurate. If you give me the facts, I shall try to use them for the benefit of all who need and want work and do not now have it.

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

- 5. Individual Registration.
Each person in every family should fill out and return an Individual Unemployment Report Card to the post office if he is included in any of the groups described in the following paragraph entitled, "Persons Who Should Register." An adequate supply of cards should be made available upon request, in order to assure the inclusion in the census of each person who should register.
- 6. Persons Who Should Register.
a. All persons who are totally unemployed, able to work, and want work. Included in this group are the following:
- (1) Persons who have worked for pay, who are able to work, and still want work.
 - (2) Persons who formerly had their own business, farm, or professional practice, and no longer work at it, who are able to work, and want work.
 - (3) Persons now looking for their first job.
- b. All persons who are partly employed, able to do more work, and want more work. Included in this group are the following:
- (1) Persons working part-time at regular jobs, who are able to do more work, and want more work.
 - (2) Persons employed part time on irregular work (including casual workers) who are able to do more work, and want more work.
- c. All persons working full time or part time on projects of WPA, NYA, CCC, or other emergency work projects which are supported by public funds. Included in this group are the following:
- (1) Persons working on Works Progress Administration projects or on emergency projects of other Federal agencies under the Works Program.
 - (2) Enrollees working in CCC camps.
 - (3) Persons employed on NYA work projects.
 - (4) Persons receiving NYA student aid.
 - (5) Persons working on emergency work projects conducted by State or local governments as part of a work relief program.
- 7. Persons Who Should NOT Register.
a. The following groups of employed persons should NOT fill out and return Unemployment Report Cards:
- (1) Persons who are working full time for wages or commissions, or persons who devote full time to their own business, farm, or professional practice. Note that some of these workers may be looking for another job, but they should not register.

- (2) Persons who are working part time (except on emergency work projects which are supported by public funds) and who do not want more work.
 - (3) Persons who are on strike unless actively seeking another job.
 - (4) Persons who are temporarily sick or disabled but have a full time job to which they will return as soon as they get well.
 - (5) Persons who are on vacation or are taking time off from a job to which they will return.
 - (6) Administrative employees of WPA, NYA, CCC, or other agencies which are conducting emergency work projects which are supported by public funds.
- b. Other groups specifically excluded from registration are:
- (1) Persons who are unable to work because of permanent disability or chronic illness.
 - (2) Persons who have retired or who do not want work.
 - (3) Young persons excluded from work because of State child labor laws or local ordinances.
- 8. Special Groups.
Paragraphs 6 and 7 list the general definitions covering those who should and those who should not fill out and return the Unemployment Report card. There are, however, certain groups of persons regarding which questions will arise frequently:
- Housewives engaged in domestic duties, or helping in a family business, store, or on the family farm should not fill out cards unless they are able to do other work and are looking for work for pay. Note that some housewives are regularly employed for pay or profit either part time or full time, and that these women should follow the instructions for other full-time and part-time workers.
- Unpaid family workers (that is, persons whose work is in the home, the family store, on the family farm, etc., without pay) who formerly had a paid job, or who are looking for a first job, should fill out the card if they are able to work and want a job for pay. However, unpaid family workers who expect to continue at their present work should not fill out the card.
- Full-time students at high school or college ordinarily will not fill out cards even though they are seeking incidental employment. However, if they are receiving NYA student aid or are looking for full-time work and expect to quit school when they find work they should fill out and return cards.
- Inmates of institutions, such as penitentiaries, jails, hospitals, homes for the aged, insane asylums, etc., should not fill out Unemployment Report Cards, and no cards will be left by the post office for their use. Persons other than inmates in such institutions are eligible to register if they can qualify in the groups mentioned in paragraph 6 above. Inmates at poorhouses, poor farms, etc., who are receiving institutional care in place of home or work relief and who are able to work and want work, should fill out and return Unemployment Report Cards.

TALK OF DIVORCE NEWS TO FANNIE

Comedienne Who Wept Her
Way To Fame Wants To Talk To Billy Rose

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—(P)—Theatrical troupers have been gossiping about Fannie Brice and Billy Rose for years, and today their chit chat tingled with the news that the sad-voiced comedienne who wept her way to fame singing "He's My Man" is waiting for a word with her producer-husband.

Rose, nearing San Francisco with effervescent Eleanor Holm whom he says he is going to marry, still has to explain to his present wife, Miss Brice.

"My husband and I have never discussed divorce," she said in a telephone conversation from Hollywood. And there the matter rests until Rose arrives to convince her, or at least make the attempt, that she should no longer think of him when she sings "He's My Man."

The shapely swimmer, awaiting the time until she is divorced from the orchestra leader, Arthur Jarrett, to wed Rose, the modern P. T. Barnum of producers, has changed the line to "He's the Boss."

The scenario, in brief, is this: Rose and Miss Holm want to get married and they are asking, in proper order, that Miss Brice and Jarrett, their current mates, divorce them. But, in the background is a comedy-drama of careers and domesticity that out-Barnums any of the extravaganzas ever produced by the imaginative Rose.

Today Rose wired this message back to his Broadway pals:

"As soon as our respective mates and divorce laws allow it, Eleanor and I will be devoted exclusively to being Mrs. Rose and learning how to make good coffee.

"This Lothario business is a bit out of my line, and I am sure I would look funny in velvet pants and strumming a mandolin.

"As for my plans, I am working on an ambitious departure in mass entertainment, but the plans are too fantastic to put into cold type.

Rose, a lively man of 37 (Miss Brice is 46, Miss Holm 23), once was a champion courtship shorthand reporter. Then he became a song writer and later a producer. His first big success was "Crazy Quilt," a noisy revue that revived the one night stands. Then he produced his gargantuan "Jumbo" with elephants and other circus features, which occasioned his remark that he supposed Miss Brice "who smokes of elephants." His last ventures were the rodeo cabaret at Fort Worth, Tex., and the Girty-Girty Aquacade at Cleveland, O.

It was at the Cleveland Aquacade that his romance with Miss Holm blossomed, she being one of the stars at that show.

Yesterday Rose said that "there is no fun in being married to an electric light," and added that his marriage to Miss Holm would mean the end of her career as swimmer and actress.

"I'm ready to dry off anyway," she said.

DIERLAMM FACES TRIAL ON MONDAY

to testify in behalf of the 49-year-old minister, who had charge of several small congregational churches in Ouachita and Jackson parishes.

In an alleged confession, said to have been made in the presence of District Attorney Frank W. Hasler and Sheriff Milton Coverdale, and other parish authorities soon after Dierlamm's arrest, the minister reportedly admitted relations with the girl and stated that the girl had lived in his home for about a year where she helped Mrs. Dierlamm with the house work.

The warrant for the arrest of Dierlamm, who is free under $500 bond, was sworn out by the girl's father. The girl reportedly confided in her mother, telling her of the alleged conduct with the minister, and the mother in turn told the father.

Dierlamm, at the time of his arrest, was reported as claiming that the charge against him was the outgrowth of a blackmail attempt. In respect to this, he said, "Verlamm caused the arrest of Oscar Turley, 23-year-old West Monroe truck driver, whom he accused of attempting to secure $200 from him by blackmail."

However, Turley, who was reported engaged to the 15-year-old girl at the time, and who was said to have known of the alleged relations between the girl and minister, was not indicted at the meeting of the grand jury last month.

The murder of Frank P. Nesbit, 32-year-old grocer, as he sat reading a newspaper at his store on the corner of Dick Taylor and Jack McHenry streets on Saturday night, February 12, was sensational at the time because it was first believed that the negro, said to have slain Nesbit, was the same man who earlier in the night shot Robert L. Powell, grocer at 3261 Beards street, and fired a pistol at Emma Stewart, negro woman, in the Leon Cuth grocery, corner of Oak and Ninth streets.

However, W. D. Atkins, state police ballistics expert at Baton Rouge, who will testify in the trial, told the grand jury in its recent session that the bullet which had slain Nesbit had not been fired from the same gun used in the other two shootings of the same night. Reed, he was arrested soon after the shooting on an alleged during statement of Nesbit that he had been shot by "Floyd Reed," it is said to have had as his motive for slaying the grocer some trouble the negro and grocer had had last Christmas.

According to police reports of the shooting, the negro entered the store and fired one time at the grocer from close range. The bullet struck Nesbit in the neck near the right shoulder and ranged downward through his body to lodge in his left hip. The negro fled the scene and Nesbit died a few minutes later at Riverside sanitarium.

KILLS

His trusty double-barreled shotgun over his shoulder, James Bullman, 24, of Smers, Wis., is shown above on his country road where he shot and killed an unidentified burglar. The store's seventh shooting an attempted robbery. Warned by his home-made burglar alarm, Bullman has captured six other robbers. Only the seventh was foolish enough to dare the store-keeper's marksmanship.

The reference, getting a low squirt away down under a furious noise, said, he thought he saw Thorpe deliver a punishing short-arm jab to Robeson. He was about to sock Carlisle with a penalty when, as the scrimmage cleared, he saw that the big colored boy was facing to do a little penning on his own account. He was more, strong Jim for the mid one-two. The referee cleared away the tangle of players and let them have plenty of room.

It was an ultra-sock battle in which Robeson set himself up, in the eyes of the cheering multitude, as a human battering ram. He dumped the great Thorpe, when nobody had ever dared to tackle head-on before, and reporters fanned up the story all over the country.

son with white fighters, suddenly getting adulation and money after a lifetime of "sparring for cats."

Which brings up a story of how Paul Robeson almost became a prizefighter instead of a singer. Robeson was a magnificent athlete, big, powerful, swift and courageous—a football player at Rutgers college. His father was a preacher and he was preparing for the ministry.

IN A GAME with the Carlisle Indians, Robeson, in the line, bucked Jim Thorpe, the famous Indian—"the greatest athlete of all time," they used to call him. Thorpe's errand thumb was apt to get in somebody's eye in reference to his feet were always looking for some kind of mayhem and preparing for the worst.

The referee, getting a low squirt away down under a furious noise, said, he thought he saw Thorpe deliver a punishing short-arm jab to Robeson. He was about to sock Carlisle with a penalty when, as the scrimmage cleared, he saw that the big colored boy was facing to do a little penning on his own account. He was more, strong Jim for the mid one-two. The referee cleared away the tangle of players and let them have plenty of room.

It was an ultra-sock battle in which Robeson set himself up, in the eyes of the cheering multitude, as a human battering ram. He dumped the great Thorpe, when nobody had ever dared to tackle head-on before, and reporters fanned up the story all over the country.

Robeson from fight managers, among them a gill-edged proposition from Tex Rickard. Robeson was an earnest, ambitious lad, and the last thing in the world he wanted to be was a prizefighter. But his parents had been making severe sacrifices to keep him in college. He felt that he must get money to repay his debt and take care of them. He wanted to be a singer, but that seemed a doubtful career, as to money returns. He thought he might have a voice, but he wasn't sure.

He was pondering all this, trying to make up his mind, when his father died. He decided he would continue his preparation for the ministry. The presiding bishop of his church came from south Jersey to conduct the funeral service. After he had delivered his sermon, he told the congregation he had no money for a ticket home—that a collection must be taken.

FOSTER SANFORD, Rutgers' coach, walked with Robeson from the church. Sanford knew Robeson had a voice. "Paul," he said, "you see what it means to be a minister among your people. Even your bishop is penniless and helpless. You can't be a prizefighter, you wouldn't be. There is nothing for you to do but develop your voice. You will be a great singer."

That was the crossroads in Robeson's career. Sanford helped him get friends and backing. One wonders what might have happened if Foster Sanford had not attended that funeral service.

Just a footnote, nothing to do with the elongated heel-shoulder take around Brund Holland, Cornell's left end this year, born in the dormitory where his father is janitor, a new stand-out in the flock of colored athletes.

Size, an elephant, proportionately to size, ate as much food as a mouse, it would consume 10 tons of fodder daily.

man said the northern and southern columns were pressing westward after occupation of Kiating and Kashi. United States Consul General Clarence E. Gauss, in Shanghai was negotiating with Japanese officials to establish a safety zone at Soochow, known to Chinese for 2,000 years as "paradise under heaven." Gauss was acting at the request of Ambassador Nelson Johnson to whom American missionaries had appealed for help.

Reports to Shanghai, however, said that all foreigners, as well as wealthy Chinese, had evacuated the ancient city which is one of China's cultural centers.

With the war far beyond Shanghai, the municipal council attacked food hoarders and profiteers who had attempted to corner the rice and flour market while 1,500,000 Chinese residents of the international settlements were virtually bankrupt.

The council supplied retail stores from its own rice stocks, fixing a uniform price and allowing each buyer only one dollar's worth at a time. There was little danger of a food shortage as the municipality had nearly 3,000,000 bags of flour on hand.

The Chinese boom across the upper

Whangpoo river was destroyed today and a Japanese gunboat made an exploratory voyage that indicated Japan was preparing to use the stream to supply its westward advancing armies. Japanese officials declared they intended to use Soochow creek to transport supplies through the international settlement.

Foreign defense officers recognize the creek as an open waterway, although British officials had prevented armed Japanese launches from going up the creek before the Chinese withdrew from its northern bank.

EXPERT CLEANING IMPROVES AUTO

Owner Startled By Effect Of Service Performed By
Mills

Shortly after a Kerrick Kleener was installed at Mills' Downtown parking, 201 North Second street, two weeks ago, it was used on the automobile of one of the patrons of the filling station.

Both the motor and the chassis of the car were cleaned. As a result the "old bus" showed more power than its owner suspected it possessed.

A few hours after leaving the service station, he telephoned the proprietor, C. C. Mills. The patron wanted to know if the motor had been tuned up, if anything had been done to step up the ignition.

Mr. Mills replied that nothing, aside from cleaning the motor and chassis, had been done; that the automobile apparently was merely showing its appreciation for the thorough bath it had received.

Through the use of a mixture of hot water and chemicals, the Kerrick Kleener removes every speck of grease and dirt from the motor and chassis of a car. Here are some of the effects a Kerrick cleaning has on an automobile:

The motor, minus its accumulation of grease and dirt, runs cooler, dissipating heat faster.

Ignition is improved. Electricity travels more rapidly through clean wires and connections.

Safer driving is possible. With dirt and all other abrasives removed from the steering mechanism, the car can be handled with greater ease.

Deterioration is arrested. The absence of grit means less wear and tear on the moving parts of the automobile.

And last, but not least, a service station is in a position to give a better lubrication job when the steering mechanism and chassis of a car are thoroughly clean.

Mr. Mills installed the Kerrick Kleener in order to give the best care possible to the cars of his patrons. Mills' Downtown parking specializes in scientific washing and expert lubricating, but it also handles Pan-Am gasoline, oils of all kinds, tires and tubes and accessories of various kinds. Moreover, it has one of the most convenient parking lots in Monroe.

Cars are classified under 16 principal types, and each has a Latin name, by which it is known in every civilized country in the world.

HOT DOGS GREAT WITH ICE CREAM

Inexpensive Lunches Available
At Blue Ribbon Ice Cream
Company

It tastes better than it sounds—hamburgers and ice cream. In fact, it is an unbeatable combination. If you don't believe so, go to Blue Ribbon Ice Cream company, 114 Catalpa street. You'll have your skepticism blasted.

Another superior combination is hot dogs and ice cream. This, too, is available at Blue Ribbon Ice Cream company.

Of course the components of the combinations are not eaten together, but separately. In other words, an inexpensive lunch is now available at Blue Ribbon Ice Cream company.

Besides ice cream, which the firm has been manufacturing for more than two years, hamburgers and hot dogs and soft drinks and milk are now served there. And what surpasses ice cream as a dessert to top off a hamburger or a hot dog and a cold drink? Nothing.

Blue Ribbon Ice Cream company installed the hot dog counter the first of the current month. It is designed, E. R. Norton, manager of the firm, said, to supplement the ice cream business during the warm months and to take up the slack in that line of business during the cold months.

A venture that is meeting with popular approval, the hot dog counter is as scrupulously clean as the ice cream plant. And the latter has to be sanitary in the highest degree to comply with local ordinances and state statutes.

Besides retailing its ice cream and ice cream novelties at the plant, Blue Ribbon Ice Cream company distributes these products through drug stores, restaurants and similar places. It maintains a rapid free delivery to any part of Monroe and West Monroe. Its telephone number is 610.

Next Best Thing To Metal Covering

Although he insists that metal shingles are the most durable and, therefore, in the long run, the most economical, J. G. Bell, owner and operator of J. G. Bell Roofing and Sheet Metal works, located at 410 Walnut street, considers the next best thing—Mule-Hide Cor-Du-Roy shingles.

Mule-Hide shingles, according to Mr. Bell, the very best in the field of composition shingles. He said they are manufactured of Trinidad asphalt and other materials of the highest quality.

The manufacturers of Mule-Hide shingles make these four cardinal claims for their product:

1—"Rich colorful texture with distinctive contrasting shadow line . . . gives new beauty."

2—"Cor-du-roy texture adds rigidity . . . strength . . . gives greater wind and storm resistance."

3—"Cor-Du-Roy surface gives quicker rain drainage . . . greater protection."

4—"Corrugations act like expansion joints . . . Greatly increasing life and wear."

Moreover, they maintain that: "Water—the roof enemy—has no chance to settle around the nails and rust them out. The wide, deep corrugations provide faster drainage."

Mule-Hide Cor-Du-Roy shingles are made in a variety of colors and blends. Besides lasting value, they possess character and individuality in addition to beauty. But more than anything else, their manufacturers say, they are inexpensive.

For people who want ultimate value in low-priced roofs, Mr. Bell, who has been laying roofs for approximately half a century, advises Mule-Hide Cor-Du-Roy shingles. He contends that they can't be beat for the price.

Establishment

A sign on your place of business is one of the most important forms of advertising, according to L. H. Serwisch, manager of Neon Sign Manufacturing company, 361 Walnut street. It tells people who you are, what you are and where you are.

The most superior type of sign, Mr. Serwisch maintains, is the Neon sign. Besides being the most economical illuminated sign, Neon lends itself to arresting the startling designs. This, combined with its brighter color, commands attention.

Neon Sign Manufacturing company is equipped to turn out the most individualistic kind of Neon sign. The only concern of its kind in northeast Louisiana that actually builds Neon signs, it is in a position to incorporate any idea that a purchaser desires in a display.

Offering prompt attention and rapid service on all orders, the firm maintains a designing department to aid its customers in determining the best type of Neon sign for their particular lines of business.

TALK OF DIVORCE
NEWS TO FANNIE

Comedienne Who Wept Her
Way To Fame Wants To Talk To Billy Rose

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Theatrical troupes have been gossiping about Fannie Brice and Billy Rose for years, and today their chat chat tingled with the news that the sad-voiced comedienne who wept her way to fame singing "He's My Man" is waiting for a word with her producer-husband.

Rose, nearing San Francisco with effervescent Eleanor Holm whom he says he is going to marry, still has to explain to his present wife, Miss Brice.

"My husband and I have never discussed divorce," she said in a telephone conversation from Hollywood. And there the matter rests until Rose arrives to convince her, or at least make the attempt, that she should no longer think of him when she sings "He's My Man."

The shapely swimmer, awaiting the time until she is divorced from the orchestra leader, Arthur Jarrett, to wed Rose, the modern P. T. Barnum of producers, has changed the line to "He's the Boss."

The scenario, in brief, is this: Rose and Miss Holm want to get married and they are asking, in proper order, that Miss Brice and Jarrett, their current mates, divorce them. But, in the background is a comedy-drama of careers and domesticity that out-Barnums any of the extravaganzas ever produced by the imaginative Rose.

Today Rose wired this message back to his Broadway pals:

"As soon as our respective mates and divorce laws allow it, Eleanor's future will be devoted exclusively to being Mrs. Rose and learning how to make good coffee.

"This Lothario business is a bit out of my line, and I am sure I would look funny in velvet pants and strumming a mandolin.

"As for my plans, I am working on an ambitious departure in mass entertainment, but the plans are too fantastic to put into cold type.

Rose, a lively man of 37 (Miss Brice is 46, Miss Holm 23), once was a champion courtroom shorthand reporter. Then he became a song writer and later a producer. His first big success was "Crazy Quilt," a noisy revue that revived the one night stand. Then he produced his Gargantuan "Jumbo" with elephants and other circus features, which occasioned his remark that he supposed Miss Brice didn't enjoy having a man around "who smelled of elephants." His last ventures were the rodeo cabaret at Fort Worth, Tex., and the Girty-Girty Aquacade at Cleveland, O.

It was at the Cleveland Aquacade that his romance with Miss Holm blossomed, she being one of the stars at that show.

Yesterday Rose said that "there is no fun in being married to an electric light," and added that his marriage to Miss Holm would mean the end of her career as swimmer and actress.

"I'm ready to dry off anyway," she said.

DIERLAMM FACES

to testify in behalf of the 49-year-old minister, who had charge of several small congregational churches in Ouchita and Jackson parishes.

In an alleged confession, said to have been made in the presence of District Attorney Frank W. Hawthorne, Sheriff Milton Coverdale and other parish authorities soon after Dierlamm's arrest, the minister reputedly admitted relations with the girl and stated that the girl had lived in his home for about a year where she helped Mrs. Dierlamm with the house work.

The warrant for the arrest of Dierlamm, who is free under $500 bond, was sworn out by the girl's father. The girl reputedly confided in her mother, telling her of the alleged conduct with the minister, and the mother in turn told the father.

Dierlamm, at the time of his arrest, was reported as claiming that the charge against him was the outgrowth of a blackmail attempt. In respect to this angle, Dierlamm caused the arrest of Oscar Turley, 28-year-old West Monroe truck driver, whom he accused of attempting to secure $200 from him by blackmail.

However, Turley, who was reported engaged to the 15-year-old girl at the time, and who was said to have known of the alleged relations between the girl and minister, was not indicted at the meeting of the grand jury last month.

The murder of Frank P. Nesbit, 52-year-old grocer, as he sat reading a newspaper at his store on the corner of Dick Taylor and Jack McEnery streets on Saturday night, February 13, was sensational at the time because it was first believed that the negro, said to have slain Nesbit, was the same man who earlier in the night shot Robert L. Powell, grocer at 2501 Beards street, and fired a pistol at Leon Cash grocery, corner of Oak and Ninth streets.

However, W. D. Atkins, state police ballistics expert of Baton Rouge, who will testify in the trial, told the grand jury in its recent session that the bullet which had slain Nesbit had not been fired from the same gun used in the other two shootings of the same night. Reed, who was arrested soon after the shooting on an alleged dying statement of Nesbit that he had been shot by "Floyd Reed," is said to have had as his motive for slaying the grocer "some trouble" the negro and grocer had had last Christmas.

According to police reports of the shooting, the negro entered the store and fired one time at the grocer from

His trusty double-barreled shotgun over his shoulder, James Bullamore, 78, of Samers, Wis., is shown above in his country store where he shot and killed an unidentified burglar (the store's seventh) during an attempted robbery. son with white fighters, suddenly getting adulation and money after a lifetime of "sparing for cats."

Which brings up a story of how Paul Robeson almost became a prizefighter instead of a singer. Robeson was a magnificent athlete, big, powerful, swift and courageous—a football player at Rutgers college. His father was a preacher and he was preparing for the ministry.

IN A GAME with the Carlisle Indians, Robeson, in the line, bucked Jim Thorpe, the famous Indian—"the greatest athlete of all time," they used to call him. Thorpe's errant thumb was apt to get in somebody's eye in a scrimmage and his foes were always looking for some kind of mayhem and preparing for the worst.

The referee, getting a low squint away down under a furious melee, saw, or thought he saw Thorpe deliver a punishing short-arm jab to Robeson. He was about to sock Carlisle with a penalty when, as the scrimmage cleared, he saw that the big colored boy was fixing to do a little penalizing on his own account. He was measuring Jim for the old one-two. The referee cleared away the tangle of players and let them have plenty of room.

It was an ultra-sock battle in which Robeson set himself up, in the eyes of the cheering multitude, as a human battering ram. He dumped the ogreish Thorpe, whom nobody had ever dared to tackle head-on before, and reporters fanned up the story all over the country.

OFFERS OF CONTRACTS and funds for training came pouring in on Robeson from fight managers, among them a gilt-edged proposition from Tex Rickard. Robeson was an earnest, ambitious lad, and the last thing in the world he wanted to be was a prizefighter. But his parents had been making severe sacrifices to keep him in college. He felt that he must get money to repay his debt and take care of them. He wanted to be a singer, but that seemed a doubtful career, as to money returns. He thought he might have a voice, but he wasn't sure.

He was pondering all this, trying to make up his mind, when his father died. He decided he would continue his preparation for the ministry. The presiding bishop of his church came from south Jersey to conduct the funeral service. After he had delivered his sermon, he told the congregation he had no money for a ticket home—that a collection must be taken.

FOSTER SANFORD, Rutgers' coach, walked with Robeson from the church. Sanford knew Robeson had a voice. "Paul," he said, "you see what it means to be a minister among your people. Even your bishop is penniless and helpless. You can't be a prizefighter, you wouldn't be. There is nothing for you to do but develop your voice. You will be a great singer."

That was the crossroads in Robeson's career. Sanford helped him get friends and backing. One wonders what might have happened if Foster Sanford had not attended that funeral service.

Just a footnote—nothing to do with the elongated heel—should take account of Brund Holland, Cornell's left end this year, born in the dormitory where his father is janitor, a new stand-out in the flock of colored athletes.

If an elephant, proportionately to size, ate as much food as a mouse, it would consume 10 tons of fodder daily.

United States Consul General Clarence E. Gauss, in Shanghai was negotiating with Japanese officials to establish a safety zone at Soochow, known to Chinese for 2,000 years as "paradise under heaven." Gauss was acting at the request of Ambassador Nelson Johnson to whom American missionaries had appealed for help.

Reports to Shanghai, however, said that all foreigners, as well as wealthier Chinese, had evacuated the ancient city which is one of China's cultural centers.

With the war far beyond Shanghai, the municipal council attacked food hoarders and profiteers who had attempted to corner the rice and flour market while 1,500,000 Chinese residents of the international settlements were virtually bankrupt.

The council supplied retail stores from its own rice stocks, fixing a uniform price and allowing each buyer only one dollar's worth at a time. There was little danger of a food shortage as the municipality had nearly 3,000,000 bags of flour on hand.

The Chinese boom across the upper

Whangpoo river was destroyed today and a Japanese gunboat made an exploratory voyage that indicated Japan was preparing to use the stream to supply its westward advancing armies. Japanese officials declared they intended to use Soochow creek to transport supplies through the international settlement.

Foreign defense officers recognized the creek as an open waterway although British officials had prevented armed Japanese launches from going up the creek before the Chinese withdrew from its northern bank.

EXPERT CLEANING
IMPROVES AUTO

Owner Startled By Effect Of Service Performed By
Mills

Shortly after a Kerrick Kleaner was installed at Mills' Downtown parking, 201 North Second street, two weeks ago, it was used on the automobile of one of the patrons of the filling station.

Both the motor and the chassis of the car were cleaned. As a result the "old bus" showed more power than its owner suspected it possessed.

A few hours after leaving the service station, he telephoned the proprietor, C. C. Mills. The patron wanted to know if the motor had been tuned up, if anything had been done to step up the ignition.

Mr. Mills replied that nothing, aside from cleaning the motor and chassis, had been done; that the automobile apparently was merely showing its appreciation for the thorough bath it had received.

Through the use of a mixture of hot water and chemicals, the Kerrick Kleaner removes every speck of grease and dirt from the motor and chassis of a car. Here are some of the effects a Kerrick cleaning has on an automobile:

The motor, minus its accumulation of grease and dirt, runs cooler, dissipating heat faster.

Ignition is improved. Electricity travels more rapidly through clean wires and connections.

Safer driving is possible. With dirt and all other abrasives removed from the steering mechanism, the car can be handled with greater ease.

Deterioration is arrested. The absence of grit means less wear and tear on the moving parts of the automobile.

And last, but not least, a service station is in a position to give a better lubrication job when the steering mechanism and chassis of a car are thoroughly clean.

Mr. Mills installed the Kerrick Kleaner in order to give the best care possible to the cars of his patrons. Mills' Downtown parking specializes in scientific washing and expert lubricating, but it also handles Pan-Am gasoline, oils of all kinds, tires and tubes and accessories of various kinds. Moreover, it has one of the most convenient parking lots in Monroe.

HOT DOGS GREAT

Inexpensive Lunches Available
At Blue Ribbon Ice Cream
Company

It tastes better than it sounds—hamburgers and ice cream. In fact, it is an unbeatable combination. If you don't believe so, go to Blue Ribbon Ice Cream company, 114 Calappa street. You'll have your skepticism blasted.

Another superior combination is hot dogs and ice cream. This, too, is available at Blue Ribbon Ice Cream company.

Of course, the components of the combinations are not eaten together, but separately. In other words, an inexpensive lunch is now available at Blue Ribbon Ice Cream company.

Besides ice cream, which the firm has been manufacturing for more than two years, hamburgers and hot dogs and soft drinks and milk are now served there. And what surpasses ice cream as a dessert to top off a hamburger or a hot dog and a cold drink? Nothing.

Blue Ribbon Ice Cream company installed the hot dog counter the first of the current month. It is designed, E. R. Norton, manager of the firm, said, to supplement the ice cream business during the warm months and to take up the slack in that line of business during the cold months.

A venture that is meeting with popular approval, the hot dog counter is as scrupulously clean as the ice cream plant. And the latter has to be sanitary in the highest degree to comply with local ordinances and state statutes.

Besides retailing its ice cream and ice cream novelties at the plant, Blue Ribbon Ice Cream company distributes these products through drug stores, restaurants and similar places. It maintains a rapid free delivery to any part of Monroe and West Monroe. Its telephone number is 670.

FIRM'S SPECIALTY

Monroe Armature Works Gives Rapid And Unexcelled Service

While it does every kind of work pertaining to electrical devices, Monroe Armature works, 2019 DeSiard street, specializes in repairing and maintaining industrial equipment. In a position to give rapid service, the concern turns out jobs unexcelled in workmanship and material.

Besides operating a repair and maintenance service, however, the firm engages in buying and selling used electrical equipment and equipment. Its stock of used mechanisms includes motors of every description, from a quarter horsepower to 100 horsepower; starters for all kinds of motors; and made-to-order switchboard equipment for alternating and direct current generators.

But the concern handles new, as well as used, equipment. Its new merchandise includes motors, all types of brushes and bearings and small supplies too numerous to mention.

Before they are offered for sale by Monroe Armature works, according to M. S. Harrison, manager, all used mechanisms are thoroughly reconditioned in the firm's modern shop. Such equipment, when rebuilt by the experienced craftsmen employed by the concern, Mr. Harrison said, is virtually as good as new.

Mr. Harrison said Monroe Armature works was in a position to handle jobs, either large or small, at a moment's notice.

BRUSSELS MEET CRITICIZES JAPS

Several Nations, However, Reserve Right to Consult Governments

BRUSSELS, Nov. 13.—(P)—The Brussels conference on the Chinese-Japanese conflict tonight approved a modified draft of a declaration criticizing Japan's policy in China.

This action was taken, however, with the understanding that those delegations which possessed no instructions from their governments could make alterations at a meeting to be held Monday.

Italy and Sweden particularly insisted upon time to submit the declaration to their home governments.

The original draft was prepared by the United States, Great Britain and France after Japan's second refusal to work with the conference, which was called under the Washington treaty for the respect of China's territorial integrity.

The conference earlier today, convinced its dignity would not permit it to address a new peace appeal to Japan, rejected an Italian proposal to send another message to Tokyo.

Italy, meanwhile, dramatically opposed a Chinese demand for virtual sanctions against Japan.

Count Luigi Aldrovandi-Marescotti, the Italian delegate, flatly asserted: "That is entirely ruled out. We are not here for that. It is entirely outside the scope of the conference."

Norman H. Davis, head of the United States delegation, expressed the hope Japan would "still see the way clear" to cooperate with the conference.

The draft of the declaration also expressed hope Japan would not maintain her refusal to cooperate with the conference.

It warned Tokyo that the states represented at the conference must consider what is to be their common attitude when one party to a treaty maintains against the views of all other parties that action it had taken does not come within scope of the treaty.

The declaration emphasized that the Japanese-Chinese hostilities were affecting adversely the material interests of all nations and were filling all peoples with "horror and indignation."

It said a just and enduring settlement could not be expected from direct negotiations between China and Japan.

The draft as approved on the first reading eliminated a phrase reflecting Japan's contention that she was preventing the spread of communism in China.

The reference was made to read that there exists no warrant in law for intervention by armed forces of one country in the internal affairs of another without purpose and that any general assumption of such a right would lead to continuous conflict.

Also eliminated was a reference to the fact that the League of Nations had gone on record that Japan's action in China was a matter of concern to all nations.

This was removed on the ground that it would support Japan's contention the Brussels conference was linked up with the league.

What the conference will do next will be decided at its second stage, probably Monday, after the expected adoption of the declaration in final form.

It was expected that at the second stage two Chinese requests would be examined, one for material help for China and the other for the withholding of war supplies and credit from Japan.

REORGANIZATION WILL BE STUDIED

opposed by southern senators, had been set as the second order of business in the senate, but Barkley said this meant only that it should be taken up immediately following the farm bill.

This move to give reorganization precedence over anti-lynching was expected to draw opposition, however, with the possibility that the senate might become embroiled in controversy right at the start.

The wage and hour bill, already passed by the senate, now is pending in the house. Mr. Roosevelt was expected to make a strong recommendation for enactment of this measure.

Barkley said this program would be essential to "spread employment" as the government pulled the purse strings tighter around relief spending.

In the house, Speaker Bankhead said two pending reorganization bills had been set tentatively as the first order of business. Three bills carrying out provisions of the president's five-point reorganization program were passed last session.

Bankhead said the present "is probably one time that business is glad to see congress back in session" because business interests have been anxious for tax relief.

SPECIAL SESSION TO HEAR FISCAL TALK

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—(P)—President Roosevelt's drive toward a balanced budget appeared today to depend upon how well he can whip up business recovery with one hand and keep a close rein on congress with the other.

The treasury forecasts that the president should end his fiscal year next June 30 with a 12-month deficit of $805,000,000. But in the following fiscal year, the one beginning July 1, the administration hopes the money spent by the government will equal or be less than the amount it takes in as taxes.

Secretary Morgenthau said in his New York speech Wednesday night that such balance should be achieved by cutting expenses. He suggested cuts in relief, highways, public works and agriculture—all forms of expenditure for which congress has a tender feeling, especially in a pre-election year session.

This fiscal program will not be worked out finally until the regular session of congress beginning in January, but the session beginning Monday will hear plenty of talk about it.

To bring about an upturn in business the administration's approach is vastly different from the methods of its early years when federal funds were pouring into private industry, directly and indirectly, at the rate of millions a day.

Recently the administration has said to business in effect that it must be its own savior. The government, it said, is willing to help to the extent that it will.

Revise certain business taxes, notably those on capital gains and undivided profits.

Seek to stimulate home building and heavy construction—but not with government funds.

Try to strengthen railways by favoring moderate rate increases.

Tend to reduce government activity in the public utilities field provided the industry will, in effect, reduce rates.

Mr. Roosevelt said this week that the building program, which would be achieved through cooperation of capital, labor and government, is still in the study stage. So is the utilities move, although he will meet with leaders of that industry next week.

Chairman Jesse H. Jones of the Reconstruction Finance corporation said the business recession was "not as serious as some think" but he joined with other administration leaders in the suggestions for effecting improvements.

Some business leaders appeared to be intent upon going much further than the administration in demanding tax revision. William B. Warner, president of the national association of manufacturers, wrote all congressmen yesterday that the situation needed immediate remedying.

He asked for modification of the undistributed net income tax, repeal of the capital stock and excess profits tax, modification of the capital gains tax and reductions in individual surtax rates. He also urged congress to give assurance that "new uncertainties involving drastic regulation would not be legislated" upon industry.

RESCUE OF OTHERS NOT EXPECTED SOON

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 13.—(P)—All but six members of the crew of 28 men believed aboard the Greek freighter Tzenyehandris when she sank off the North Carolina coast early today were adrift in heavy seas and foggy weather tonight some 35 miles northeast of Diamond shoals.

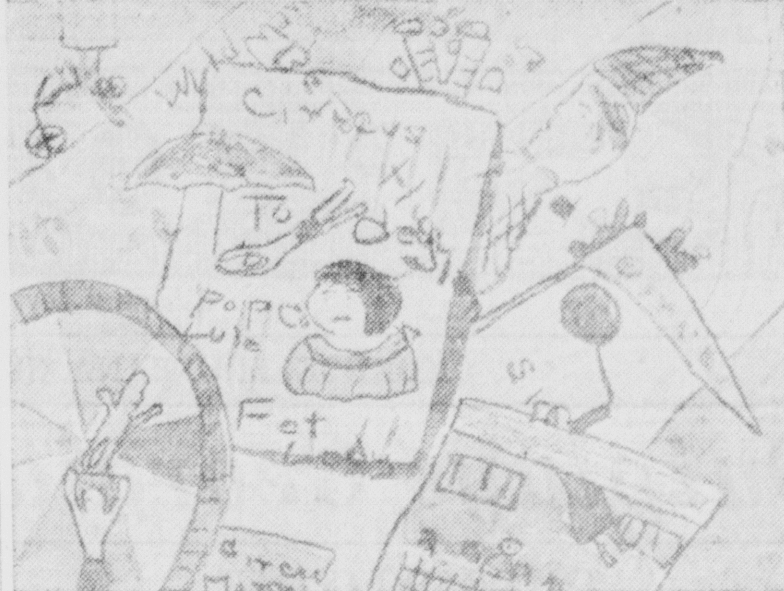

Coastguard headquarters here said information received from the C. D. Mallory steamer, Swiftsure, which picked up six survivors in a life boat, was that eight men were adrift in life belts and 14 others in a small boat.

"The wind is from the southwest and it is almost a gale," a spokesman in coast guard communications headquarters said. "It is also getting thick and there seems little chance that additional survivors will be picked up before morning."

The Swiftsure reported that none of the six men rescued spoke English and, therefore, little information could be obtained from them.

Aiding the Swiftsure in the search was the cutter Sebago and early tonight the cutter Modoc from Wilmington and the Bibb, Mendota and Dione from Norfolk were nearing the scene. The first SOS flashed over the which affected my general health. I was subject to awful sick headaches and dizzy spells. My stomach became badly disordered and I endured gas, bloating, and severe attacks of indigestion. My kidneys did not function in the proper manner at all and their too frequent action kept me up at night. Then lumbago attacked me with awful stiffness and soreness. I tried every medicine I ever heard of but always met with the same results—failure. Gly-Cas wasted no time in getting to the source of my health troubles.

"Gly-Cas really gave me the results that the other medicines had promised but failed to accomplish," continued Mrs. Beckman. "My kidneys and bowels have been so regulated that my entire system has been cleansed of those awful poisons which were so affecting my health. Football men in general regret Notre Dame's break with Pittsburgh.

Notre Dame has a perfect right to play whoever it pleases.

Notre Dame may be stepping up in the Purity league in its desire to be a sort of American Oxford, but the unofficial explanation that Pittsburgh places too much stress on the game rounds a bit out of place coming from South Bend, where for years they dished it out in large quantities and where you still find more than 200 young huskies on the varsity roster.

The Irish won only one of the last half dozen games from the Panthers. They scored only two touchdowns against them in the same period.

Notre Dame men who long ago came to expect the best football from their campus do not want to break with an opponent holding such a jump on the Old Gold and Light Blue.

Knute Rockne wouldn't break with a rival boasting such a commanding lead.

Frankly, it appears as though the current football administration at Notre Dame can't take it.

Thornhill suggests change in the system of converting points after touchdowns.

Stanford's coach contends that all the fun is taken out of the thing the way it is done now. A team makes a touchdown, puts the ball on the two-yard line in front of the posts, snaps it back, and attempts to kick goal.

Thornhill would like to return to the old rules under which, if the ball was downed in the corner of the field after a touchdown, it was brought straight out and the kick was tried from that angle.

"The extra point meant something then," he explains. "Smart teams phlegmated around until they could down the ball right between the posts, thus making the attempt comparative-ly easy. It would add to the interest and suspense if the ball remained in play in the end zone, until downed. As it is now, it's all over as soon as the ball is lugged across the last stripe."

Thornhill now has an end, Grant Stone, calling Stanford plays on the ground that back to the interest, beating, mentally and physically, to be expected to be cute and cagey. An end, to his way of thinking, is an observer observing with the proper perspective.

Best Not Let Down

Although Harvard was nixed out by Army by the margin of a point after touchdown, trained observers suspect that the Crimson will be higher than ever for Yale at Cambridge, November 20.

It was a Harvard team that was as inopportune as it was injury-riddled that sloughed off the game to the Cadets dissipating marked superiority for three-quarters of the engagement, and then presenting West Point with a scoring chance late in the going.

But it was cheering to Harvard supporters looking forward to Yale, when even an almost complete team of Crimson substitutes held a distinct advantage over Army.

Four Harvard backs, the mighty Vernon Struck, Chief Boston, Torbert Macdonald and Bob Burnett, watched the game from the press box.

All agreed that it was the best place to watch a game that they ever had seen, and expressed the wish that they could have as good a view of the proceedings when they tackle Yale.

Far As He Would Go

Saint Mary's has been more down than up this fall, but the Gallatin Gals always are good for a flock of good stories.

Four regulars were out of the Marquette game in Chicago a year ago, and a dozen others required plenty of tape and gauze. The dressing room looked like an emergency hospital in Shanghai.

Seeking to pull his boys together, Slip Madigan told in stirring tones the famous story of the Rutgers' back who broke his leg in a game and still objected to being removed, saying, "I'd die for dear old Rutgers."

As Madigan concluded his heart-warming recitation, he turned to his fullback, Tony Falkenstein, who had a black eye, sprained ankle, and a big bandage on one elbow.

"How about you, Tony," he asked, "are you ready to go?"

"Yeah, I can play," replied Falkenstein, "but this ain't Rutgers and I don't wanna die!"

CALIFORNIA BEARS WALLOP OREGON ELEVEN, 26 TO 0

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 13.—(AP)—The University of California's football team trounced the University of Oregon, 26 to 0, today in their Pacific Coast conference game played on a muddy, rain-swept field.

Twenty thousand fans saw the Bears, favorites to represent the Coast in the New Year's day Rose bowl game at Pasadena, punch over three touchdowns in the second period and add a fourth in the third.

The closest Oregon came to a scoring threat was at the start when Halfback Nicholson returned the kick-off 40 yards to the Oregon 48. Oregon marched through California's third team to the California 30, but was forced to punt.

JONES DENIES HE WILL QUIT AT SOUTHERN CAL

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Coach Howard Jones of the University of Southern California denied published reports today that he had tendered his resignation, to be effective at the end of the current football season.

"I positively have not handed in my resignation," he said, "and what is more I have no intention of doing so. My contract expires a few months after the football season. My hope is that it will be renewed."

The Examiner carried a story today quoting an unnamed close friend of the "Trojan" coach as saying Jones would quit.

ALABAMA SHADES GEORGIA TECH IN LATE DRIVE, 7-0

Crimson Tide Outplayed During Most Of Game But Ekes Out Close Win

By Kenneth Gregory

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 13.—(AP)—The Crimson Tide of Alabama, outplayed most of the way by a gamely fighting Georgia Tech eleven, overhauled the Engineers, 7 to 0, today in a whirlwind finish before close to 26,000 spectators.

For the second straight Saturday, Alabama had to call into action a driving power reminiscent of the days of the "Red Elephants" to continue along the trail of the nation's major undefeated and untied teams.

The closely won decision, coming on a 43-yard drive with a little more than four minutes to play remaining, left only the Thanksgiving day encounter with Vanderbilt between Alabama and the Southeastern conference championship.

Georgia Tech, its Golden-shirted gridder to a man playing an inspired battle under the leadership of Captain Fletcher Sims, twice threatened the Crimson goal in the second period, once on a drive to the one-foot line.

Captain Joe Kilgore set the stage for Alabama's winning touchdown after the Tide had advanced to the Georgia Tech 31. The Alabama field general went through tackle, reversed the field and raced 28 yards before being run out of bounds on the three-yard stripe by Dutch Konekman. Line thrusts netted one yard, but on fourth down Kilgore rifled a pass over center to End Tut Warren, who caught it barely a yard over the goal.

Aided by the wonderful place-kicking of Sims, Georgia Tech had the upper hand throughout the first three periods.

In the third period, Georgia Tech, with the aid of Konekman's punt, returned to Alabama's 35, drove to the Tide 16, where passes failed to connect. That was the last of Tech's determined scoring punches and only the late drive by Alabama tripped a team that lost a tough game.

RICE GAINS 6-6 TIE WITH AGGIES

Neither Team Able To Kick Extra Point And Conference Tilt Is Deadlock

HOUSTON, Tex., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Burley Ernie Laine, the ball-tossing sophomore of the Rice Owls, scored with three minutes to play today to give the Southwest conference leaders a 6-6 tie with Texas A. and M.

Laine crossed up the Aggies, who had almost stopped his passing game, and plunged over from the two-yard line to climax a 43-yard march in which he and Dan Coffey, sub back, alternated in lugging the ball.

Not a pass was thrown during the drive. Red Vickers, substitute Rice back, tried to kick the goal, but the Aggies' line blocked it.

Dick Todd, the Aggie star ball carrier, rambled 33 yards on a punt return to put the ball on the Rice 14 in the second quarter. A moment later, he wriggled away from Rice linemen and threw an end zone pass to Britt, big end, for the first score. Audish, substitute Aggie back, missed try for point.

Todd had an average gain of 7.3 yards in nine plays from scrimmage. Laine, who tried many passes early in the game, averaged 3.4 yards per try in 13 attempts.

T. C. U. FROGS WIN FROM TEXAS, 14-0

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Davy O'Brien personally conducted Texas Christian university to a 14-0 gridiron victory over the University of Texas today, scoring every point the Horned Frogs counted.

Texas Christian's first marker resulted from a 75-yard sustained drive the first time it got its hands on the ball. John Hall, Linnon Blackmon and Spud Taylor figured in the ground play.

Davy O'Brien hurled one to Don Looney on the Texas 11. Davy then whisked through left tackle and squirmed over for the touchdown. His placement was good.

O'Brien also launched the second scoring drive when he ripped off 53 yards to the Texas 22 in the second period. Then he tossed a pass to Williams on the 8. A Longhorn penalty placed the ball on the one-yard stripe and O'Brien dashed over standing up. Again he placekicked point.

BULLDOGS SCORE EARLY TO UPSET GREENIE ELEVEN

Bulldogs Have Net Gain Of Only Four Yards But Win On Punt Return

By Lewis Hawkins

ATHENS, Ga., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Tulane won the statistics but Georgia won the ball game, 7-6, today before 12,000 poppetic customers.

Held to a net gain of four yards from scrimmage, the battered Bulldogs scrambled through to an upset victory on a 37-yard punt return by sophomore Vassa Cate and a dead stop placement by Billy Mims, another first year man.

The Green Wave surged along the turf and through the air for 22 yards but was able to cross the ultimate barrier only on a 12-yard pass from Buddy Banker to John Dirmann in the fourth period. "Dub" Mattis' place kick was low.

Captain Dill Hartman, shifted from fullback to half in the injury ridden Georgia lineup, set the stage for the Georgia score early in the first period when he punted 44 yards out of bounds on the Tulane two.

Stanley Nyhan's kick sailed only 35 yards out into the face of a brisk breeze and Cate snatched it near the sideline on the Green 37, cut infield to his right, emerged from a pile of white-shirted tacklers and scampered untouched down the boundary to score standing up.

Georgia's alert defense choked off all Tulane threats until the final minutes of the first half, when Buddy Banker and Mattis passed and ran the ball to the Georgia four, only to lose it on downs.

All through the second half, Mattis tore Georgia's line for repeated gains and Banker skirted the ends and passed for still more yards. But one drive was killed on the one-yard stripe when End Marvin Gillespie slashed through and dropped Mattis for a three-yard loss on the fourth down. Another push bogged on the Georgia 20 and Troutman's pass interception stopped another advance at the same point just before the game ended.

QUACHITA PLAYS AT LAKE CHARLES

Lions Tackle South Louisiana Club Before Meeting Bolton Here

The Lions of Ouachita Parish High school, beaten in every last AA game so far this season, will go to Lake Charles next week-end for a non-conference game with the Lake Charles High school eleven of the southern Louisiana class AA district.

The Lions, after wallowing by eleven in their own north Louisiana division, took a breather at the expense of Choudrant's Aggies, 26 to 6, Friday, to get back in their offensive form after being kept on the defensive for two successive weeks.

Coach "Lefty" Haynes and his boys are confident they will be able to stop the Lake Charles aggregation which defeated Baton Rouge High school, 6 to 0, Friday, but which was stopped, 6 to 0, by Neville of Monroe earlier in the season.

After the Lake Charles invasion, the Lions will return to Monroe for their "biggest" home game of the season against their old and traditionally powerful rivals from Alexandria, the Bolton High school Bears. The Bolton game promises to be one of Ouachita's most heated battles of the season and is always looked forward to by the local eleven.

BENTON, FAULK TIE

The Lida Benton and Barkdull Faulk grammar school elevens battled to a 6 to 6 tie last Friday. Lanier scored the touchdown for Lida Benton and Marshall Williams scored for Barkdull Faulk. It was the first game of the year for the two teams.

TWO TOUCHDOWNS MADE IN FOURTH PERIOD OF GAME

Tigers Get Breaks And Milner's Boot Provides Margin Of Victory

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Auburn's fumbles gave Louisiana State breaks enough for the Bayou Tigers to chalk up a 9-7 victory today in a thrill-packed Southeastern conference football battle witnessed by some 30,000 fans.

A field goal "Cotton" Milner kicked in the first period proved the margin of victory. The teams emerged with a touchdown apiece from a riotous fourth stanza marked by dazzling runs and bruising line play.

Auburn's quarterback, Walker, fumbled a bad pass from center in the first period and Ogden Baur, L. S. U. end, recovered on Auburn's 18. After several attempts to gain through the line, Milner stepped back as Barrett Booth held the ball in place and kicked the field goal.

Coaches Bernie Moore of Louisiana State and Jack Meagher of Auburn substituted freely in the second and third periods in attempts to get player combinations to break an impasse. L. S. U. threatened twice in the third but Auburn's scrapping linemen fought off the efforts.

Young Bussey, L. S. U. sophomore back, got off a 52-yard quick-kick shortly after the fourth period began that rolled down near Auburn's goal line.

Kenmore allowed the ball to strike his hands and bounce into the arms of Jabbo Stell, subbing for Milner, on Auburn's six.

Bussey and Stell plunged for three yards and then Stell ran wide around left end for a touchdown. Booth missed the attempt for extra point from placement.

Kelly, substitute Plainsman halfback, ran the kickoff from his nine to midfield, where Fenton and Sitz, brilliant Auburn back, took over to plough to the Louisiana 12-yard line. Two five-yard penalties advanced Auburn to the L. S. U. two and Sit.

The PAYOFF

Football men in general regret Notre Dame's break with Pittsburgh. Notre Dame has a perfect right to play whoever it pleases. Notre Dame may be stepping up in the Purity League in its desire to be a sort of American Oxford, but the unofficial explanation that Pittsburgh places too much stress on the game sounds a bit out of place coming from South Bend, where for years they dished it out in large quantities and where you still find more than 200 young huskies on the varsity roster. The Irish won only one of the last half dozen games from the Panthers. They scored only two touchdowns against them in the same period. Notre Dame men who long ago came to expect the best football from their campus do not want to break with an opponent holding such a jump on the Old Gold and Light Blue. Knute Rockne wouldn't break with a rival boasting such a commanding lead.

Frankly, it appears as though the current football administration at Notre Dame can't take it.

Thornhill Suggests Change
Tiny Thornhill suggests a change in the system of converting points after touchdown.

Stanford's coach contends that all the fun is taken out of the thing the way it is done now. A team makes a touchdown, puts the ball on the two-yard line in front of the posts, snaps it back, and attempts to kick goal.

Thornhill would like to return to the old rules under which, if the ball was downed in the corner of the field after a touchdown, it was brought straight out and the kick was tried from that angle. "I mean something then," he explains. "Smart teams phlegmated around until they could down the ball right between the posts, thus making the attempt comparatively easy. It would add to the interest and suspense if the ball remained in play in the end zone, until downed. As it is now, it's all over as soon as the ball is lugged across the last stripe."

Thornhill now has an end, Grant Stone, calling Stanford plays on the ground that backs take too much beating, mentally and physically, to be expected to be cute and cagey. An end, to his way of thinking, is an observer observing with the proper perspective.

Best Not Let Down
Although Harvard was noted out by Army by the margin of a point after touchdown, trained observers suspect that the Crimson will be higher than ever for Yale at Cambridge, November 20.

It was a Harvard team that was as inopportune as it was injury-riddled that sloughed off the game to the Cadets dissipating marked superiority for three-quarters of the engagement, and then presenting West Point with a scoring chance late in the going. But it was cheering to Harvard supporters looking forward to Yale, when even an almost complete team of Crimson substitutes held a distinct advantage over Army.

Four Harvard backs, the mighty Vernon Struck, Chief Boston, Torbert Macdonald and Bob Burnett, watched the game from the press box. All agreed that it was the best place to watch a game that they ever had been, and expressed the wish that they could have as good a view of the proceedings when they tackle Yale.

Far As He Would Go
Saint Mary's has been more down than up this fall, but the Galloping Geels always are good for a flock of good stories. Four regulars were out of the Marquette game in Chicago a year ago, and a dozen others required plenty of tape and gauze. The dressing room looked like an emergency hospital in Shanghai.

Seeking to pull his boys together, Slip Madigan told in stirring tones the famous story of the Rutgers halfback who broke his leg in a game and still objected to being removed, saying "I'd lie for dear old Rutgers." As Madigan concluded his heart-warming recitation, he turned to his fullback, Tony Falkenstein, who had a black eye, a sprained ankle, and a big bandage on one elbow. "How about you, Tony," he asked, "are you ready to go?" "Yeah, I can play," replied Falkenstein, "but the ain't Rutgers and I don't wanna die!"

CALIFORNIA BEARS WALLOP OREGON ELEVEN, 26 TO 0

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 13.—(AP)—The University of California's undefeated football team trounced the University of Oregon, 26 to 0, today in their Pacific Coast conference game played on a muddy, rain-swept field. Twenty thousand fans saw the Bears, favorites to represent the Coast in the New Year's day Rose bowl game at Pasadena, punch over three touchdowns in the second period and add a fourth in the third. The closest Oregon came to a scoring threat was at the start when Halfback Nicholson returned the kickoff 40 yards to the Oregon 48. Oregon marched through California's third team to the California 30, but was forced to punt.

JONES DENIES HE WILL QUIT AT SOUTHERN CAL

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Coach Howard Jones of the University of Southern California denied published reports today that he had tendered his resignation, to be effective at the end of the current football season. "I positively have not handed in my resignation," he said, "and what is more I have no intention of doing so. My contract expires a few months after the football season. My hope is that it will be renewed." The Examiner carried a story today quoting an unnamed close friend of the Trojan coach as saying Jones would quit.

Tulane Outplays Georgia But Loses Decision, 7 To 6

ALABAMA SHADES GEORGIA TECH IN LATE DRIVE, 7-0

Crimson Tide Outplayed During Most Of Game But Ekes Out Close Win

By Kenneth Gregory
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 13.—(AP)—The Crimson Tide of Alabama, outplayed most of the way by a gamely fighting Georgia Tech eleven, overhauled the Engineers, 7 to 0, today in a whirlwind finish before close to 26,000 spectators.

For the second straight Saturday, Alabama had to call into action a driving power reminiscent of the days of the "Red Elephants" to continue along the trail of the nation's major undefeated and untied teams.

The closely won decision, coming on a 43-yard drive with a little more than four minutes to play remaining, left only the Thanksgiving day encounter with Vanderbilt between Alabama and the Southeastern conference championship.

Georgia Tech, its Golden-shirted gridgers to a man playing an inspired battle under the leadership of Captain Fletcher Sims, twice threatened the Crimson goal in the second period, once on a drive to the one-foot line.

Captain Joe Kilgore set the stage for Alabama's winning touchdown after the Tide had advanced to the Georgia Tech 31. The Alabama field general went through tackle, reversed the field and raced 28 yards before being run out of bounds on the three-yard stripe by Dutch Konemann. Line thrusts netted one yard, but on fourth down Kilgore rifled a pass over center to End Tut Warren, who caught it barely a yard over the goal.

Aided by the wonderful place-punting of Sims, Georgia Tech had the upper hand throughout the first three periods.

In the third period, Georgia Tech, with the aid of Konemann's punt returned to Alabama's 38, drove to the Tide 16, where passes failed to connect. That was the last of Tech's determined scoring punches, and only the late drive by Alabama tripped a team that lost a tough game.

Neither Team Able To Kick Extra Point And Conference Tilt Is Deadlock

HOUSTON, Tex., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Burley Ernie Laine, the ball-tossing sophomore of the Rice Owls, scored with three minutes to play today to give the Southwest conference leaders a 6-6 tie with Texas A. and M. Laine crossed up the Aggies, who had almost stopped his passing game, and plunged over from the two-yard line to climax a 43-yard march in which he and Dan Coffee, sub back, alternated in lugging the ball.

Not a pass was thrown during the drive. Red Vickers, substitute Rice back, tried to kick the goal, but the Aggies' line blocked it. Dick Todd, the Aggie star ball carrier, rammed 35 yards on a punt return to put the ball on the Rice 14 in the second quarter. A moment later, he wriggled away from Rice linemen and threw an end zone pass to Britt, big end, for the first score. Audish, substitute Aggie back, missed try for point.
Todd had an average gain of 7.3 yards in nine plays from scrimmage. Laine, who tried many passes early in the game, averaged 3.4 yards per try in 13 attempts.
The attendance was 20,000.

T. C. U. FROGS WIN FROM TEXAS, 14-0

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Davey O'Brien personally conducted Texas Christian university to a 14-to-0 gridiron victory over the University of Texas today, scoring every point the Horned Frogs counted.
Texas Christian's first marker resulted from a 75-yard sustained drive the first time it got its hands on the ball. John Hall, Lincolnton Blackman and Spud Taylor figured in the ground play.
Davey O'Brien hurried one to Don Looney on the Texas 11. Davey then whisked through left tackle and squirmed over for the touchdown. His placement was good.
O'Brien also launched the second scoring drive when he ripped off 53 yards to the Texas 22 in the second period. Then he tossed a pass to Williams on the 8. A Longhorn penalty placed the ball on the one-yard stripe and O'Brien dashed over standing up. Again he placekicked point.

DARTMOUTH HELD TO 6-6 TIE BY CORNELL TEAM

HANOVER, N. H., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Dartmouth's Indians, unbeaten but tied by Clint Frank's Yale Blues, had to come from behind to save themselves from defeat at the hands of Cornell today, finally emerging with a 6-6 tie.
Cornell had scored but failed to convert a placement point before the Indians rose to crash through for a touchdown.
A slanting rainfall played havoc with ball carriers and it was a fumble, late in the third period, that set up Cornell's chance. Sid Roth smothered Bob MacLeod's bobble on the Green's 33. One play and the period ended but on the changing sides Bob Rose, a backfield replacement, plunged over. He missed the point and then Dartmouth went to town.

BULLDOGS SCORE EARLY TO UPSET GREENIE ELEVEN

Bulldogs Have Net Gain Of Only Four Yards But Win On Punt Return

By Lewis Hawkins
ATHENS, Ga., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Tulane won the statistics but Georgia won the ball game, 7-6, today before 12,000 poppetic customers.

Held to a net gain of four yards from scrimmage, the battered Bulldogs scrambled through to an upset victory on a 37-yard punt return by sophomore Vassa Cate and a dead spot placement by Billy Mims, another first year man.

The Green Wave surged along the turf and through the air for 23 yards but was able to cross the ultimate barrier only on a 12-yard pass from Buddy Banker to John Dirmann in the fourth period. "Dub" Mattis' place kick was low.

Captain Dill Hartman, shifted from fullback to half in the injury ridden Georgia lineup, set the stage for the Georgia score early in the first period when he punted 44 yards out of bounds on the Tulane 20.

Stanley Nyhan's kick sailed only 35 yards out into the face of a brisk breeze and Cate matched it near the sideline on the Green 37, cut infield to his right, emerged from a pile of white-shirted tacklers and scampered untouched down the boundary to score standing up.

Georgia's alert defense choked off all Tulane threats until the final minutes of the first half, when Buddy Banker and Mattis passed and ran the ball to the Georgia four, only to lose it on downs.

Mattis is one of the hardest running backs seen here in years. The lineups:

QUACHITA PLAYS AT LAKE CHARLES

Lions Tackle South Louisiana Club Before Meeting Bolton Here

The Lions of Ouachita Parish High school, beaten in every last AA game so far this season, will go to Lake Charles next week-end for a non-conference game with the Lake Charles High school eleven of the southern Louisiana class AA district.
The Lions, after wallpings by Double A Byrd and Haynesville eleven in their own north Louisiana division, took a breather at the expense of Choudrant's Aggies, 26 to 6, Friday, to get back in their offensive form after being kept on the defensive for two successive weeks.
Coach "Lefty" Haynes and his boys are confident they will be able to stop the Lake Charles aggression which defeated Baton Rouge High school, 6 to 0, Friday, but which was stopped, 6 to 0, by Neville of Monroe earlier in the season.
After the Lake Charles invasion, the Lions will return to Monroe for their "biggest" home game of the season against their old and traditionally powerful rivals from Alexandria, the Bolton High school Bears. The Bolton game promises to be one of Ouachita's hardest battles of the season and is always looked forward to by the local eleven.

BENTON, FAULK TIE

The Lida Benton and Barkdull Faulk grammar school eleven battled to a 6 to 6 tie last Friday. Lanier scored the touchdown for Lida Benton and Marshall Williams scored for Barkdull Faulk. It was the first game of the year for the two teams.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 13.—(P)—In a copyrighted last-period surge that lifted 71,000 stunned spectators off their seats, Pittsburgh's Panthers

The big clock showed nine minutes and 55 seconds left to play and Nebraska ahead, 7-0, when the Panther clawed out of their cage with a relentless attack and a choice bit of luck to come from a high kick, a shuffling to come from behind to a winning conquest for the third time in as many weeks. First, they marked 89 yards on 13 plays, missed on a placement to tie the score, and then grasped a Nebraska fumble to push over the winning score with less than five minutes to go.

Pitt made 13 first downs to two for Nebraska and gained 250 yards from rushing while tossing Nebraska to a total of minus nine yards. Nebraska tried 10 passes and completed but one while the Panthers completed two out of five.

"Treat Yourself to the Best"

Beware of It Spreading

When the virus spreads, it's a matter of life and death.

[illegible]

Here's How to Treat It

If I was developed only by the power of treating Athlete's Foot, it is a liquid that penetrates and dries quickly. You just put the affected parts. It peels off the tissue of the skin where the germ boards.

Itching Stops Immediately

And that the itching is immediately relieved. You should paint the affected part with H. F. night and morning until your feet are well. Usually this takes from three to ten days, although in severe cases it may take longer or in mild cases less time.

If F. will leave the skin soft and smooth. You will marvel at the quick way it brings you relief, especially if you are one of those who have tried for years to get rid of Athlete's Foot without success.

PITT, ALABAMA SURVIVE WAVE OF GRID UPSETS

DUKE, NEBRASKA FALL BY WAYSIDE IN CRUCIAL TILTS

Several Surprises Mark Week-End Schedule Of Important Contests

By Herbert W. Barker
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Football's exclusive undefeated club has a couple of charter members, Duke and Nebraska, but the boys still are looking for the combination that will stop Pitt and Alabama, twin-powerhouses of the east and south.

Nebraska, tied twice but previously undefeated, led Pitt as late as the fourth period yesterday but ultimately fell victim to the customary Panther late finish, 13-7, in a game that left a crowd of 71,000 limp with excitement. Duke, with only a tie with Tennessee to mar its record, found itself badly outplayed by North Carolina's Tarheels and not only lost the decision, 14-6, but its chance of retaining the Southern conference crown as well.

Meanwhile Alabama, rated with Pitt and Fordham as outstanding Rose Bowl contenders, withstood Georgia Tech's early assaults and then pushed over a fourth quarter touchdown to win 7-0, and remain undefeated and untied. Fordham was idle.

No championship hung in the balance but a terrific downpour couldn't keep 78,000 people from sitting in on the proceedings in the Yankee stadium as Notre Dame, cap in line on an early break, downed the Army, 7-0.

Clint Frank Yates' great back, scored four touchdowns as the Elis spilled Princeton, 26-0, and remained undefeated. Yale's chief Ivy league rival, Dartmouth, likewise remained unbeaten but had to come up with a late rally to tie Cornell's big Red array, 6-6.

Despite Army's defeat and the 7-0 trimming Michigan handed Penn, the east again had a good day in intercollegiate football. In addition to Pitt's stirring setback of Nebraska, Boston college stopped Kentucky, 13-0; Harvard turned back Davidson, 15-0; Manhattan trounced North Carolina State, 15-0; Penn State nosed out Maryland, 12-14; West Virginia pushed over Toledo, 34-0, and George Washington won from North Dakota State, 33-0.

On the other side of the ledger, Rutgers dropped a 13-0 decision to Ohio university and Carnegie Tech fell before Michigan State, 13-6.

Lafayette's surprising Leopards tripped Washington and Jefferson 6-0 to remain the east's only major undefeated and untied eleven. Holy Cross protected its unbeaten record with a 7-0 conquest of Brown. Columbia surprised by holding Syracuse to a 6-6 draw while Temple played its fourth scoreless tie of the season, this time with Bucknell. Georgetown took advantage of a late break to nip New York university, 6-0, and Amherst captured the Little Three title by disposing of Williams, 13-6.

There was no change in the Big Ten picture where Minnesota pushed over Northwestern, 7-0, and remained the only team unbeaten within the conference. Ohio State easily won from Illinois, 19-0, but Indiana had to fight for its life to get past Iowa, 3-0. Wisconsin and Purdue played to a 7-7 draw.

Kansas State tossed a major surprise into Big Six ranks by beating Kansas, 13-6.

ARKANSAS PASSES WAY TO 32-TO-6 WIN OVER REBELS

Razorback Aerial Attack Clicks And Ole Miss Absorbs Trouncing

By Harry P. Snyder
MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 13.—(AP)—The customers who like their football played in the air had a gala day here in neutral Crump stadium today as the Arkansas Razorbacks fashioned a 32 to 6 victory over the Mississippi Rebels.

Dwight Sloan of Van Buren, Ark., used his whip-lash right arm to back the Mississippi Rebellion. The Porkers, known as the "passingest" team in the nation, went to the air 36 times, completing 21 of the tosses for 250 yards and five touchdowns.

Lanky Jim Benton and big Ray Hamilton, the flankers, divided most of the receiving with Quarterback Jack Robbins.

The Rebels completed only 8 passes in 26 tries for a total of 59 yards. Their running game netted only 105 yards.

Mississippi's lone tally came in the first quarter after Ham Murphy intercepted a Parker lateral, putting the ball on Arkansas' 26. Schneller, a sub half, reversed to the 2 and then Hal passed to Murphy.

Sloan ran two yards for Arkansas' first touchdown after a series of passes had brought it up from their own 32. Benton caught one from Floyd Lyons for the second after Lalman blocked a Rebel punt.

Sloan passed to Robbins, then Eakin, and finally to Hamilton for touchdown number three and minutes later the bombing began again, Robbins throwing to Sloan, then Sloan to Hamilton, and, for the score, to Benton.

Atwood, a substitute halfback, returned a punt 33 yards shortly after the fourth period opened to begin another series of passes that resulted in Montgomery slipping across for the final.

MAROONS DEFEAT SEWANEE, 12 TO 0

Mississippi State Scores Touchdowns In First Two Periods To Win

STATE COLLEGE, Miss., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Mississippi State's Maroons put over touchdowns in the first and second periods today before a crowd of 8,000 to defeat Sewanee, 12 to 0, in a Southeastern conference game.

The Maroons reserves took over after the first team scored the markers, and although they invaded Sewanee territory frequently, failed to count again. One drive for 69 yards reached the Tiger four-yard line.

The Maroons, in the fourth period, knocked at the goal line 5 times but intercepted passes or penalties stopped the drives.

Marcy took a Sewanee pass on the Tiger 40 and went to the eight before he was knocked out of bounds. On the next play the Maroons drew a 15-yard holding penalty to kill scoring chances.

Not until the last period did the Maroons open up with passes. Twice intended receivers let tosses slip out of their fingers on the goal line.

The Tigers got into State territory but, once, and then on the 33.

The Maroons made 19 first downs to six for the Tigers.

TUNNEY TODAY

Wondering where his ball will land seems to be the reason for the expression on the face of Gene Tunney, former heavyweight champion, after slicing his drive at Pinehurst, while playing in a tournament sponsored by Attorney-General Homer S. Cummings.

The Tech coaches were returning from the Louisiana State-Auburn football game at Baton Rouge. Officers said their car collided with a truck driven by O. E. McCoy of Bunkie. McCoy was uninjured. McLane was pinned beneath the coaches' car.

Passing motorists freed him. Physicians said McCoy was suffering from shock and could give no account of the accident.

McLane went to Louisiana Tech in 1924 after serving as head coach at 1924 college, Birmingham, Ala., for several years.

In the 1934, 1935 and 1936 seasons Tech lost only two S. I. A. conference football games under McLane.

This season the Techmen have defeated Oklahoma City university, Millsaps, Mississippi State Teachers and Louisiana Normal, losing to Ole Miss and Illinois Wesleyan.

Coach Eddie McLane, who was critically injured in an automobile wreck at Bunkie last night, was just recovering from another car crash in which he suffered a cut over the eye.

The first wreck occurred as Coach McLane and Coach Herb Duggans, who also was hurt in the Bunkie crash, were en route to Lafayette, La. two weeks ago to scout the Southwestern Louisiana institute team, which played Tech at Ruston last Friday night. The two were traveling in Coach Duggans' car, which was practically demolished. Coach Duggans escaped unhurt.

Mrs. McLane and Mrs. Duggans were advised of the accident at Bunkie immediately after it happened and left Ruston last night at 10 o'clock with Freshman Coach George "Blue" Hogz.

Coach McLane, who has made a remarkable record at Louisiana Tech since taking over the head coaching duties there four years ago, came to Ruston from Howard college, in Birmingham, where he piloted the football team to Dixie conference and S. I. A. A. championships.

Coach McLane came with Coach McLane from Howard, while Coach Duggans joined the staff after finishing his athletic career at Purdue university three years ago.

They had, however, already come up with a number of recommendations of interest to athletes and sports followers throughout the nation. These recommendations were subject to ratification by the board of governors.

The track and field committee's motion to retain the metric system was passed after Coach Johnny Magee, of Bowdoin, reported as a result of his recent European trip that England would soon adopt the metric system or sports measurements.

Similarly the track and field committee recommended the use of starting blocks, subject to action at the March meeting of the International Amateur Athletic federation in London.

The legislative committee recommended revision of the rule on professionalism in the A. A. U. code. An athlete now loses his amateur standing by announcing a determination to become a professional, or participating in a tryout with a professional team. The latter clause was retained, but the former stricken out and in its place was substituted a ban on:

"The solicitation of employment for gain on his athletics services."

CLEMSON SHADES FLORIDA WITH BELATED FIELD GOAL

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Ben Pearson, Clemson halfback, kicked the only field goal recorded in the eight-year history of Florida's Athletic field today to beat the Gators 10 to 9 in the last two minutes of play.

Clemson's final victorious thrust carried 65 yards to the 'Gator five. Dropping back to the 18, Pearson got off a high place kick.

The Tigers took the opening kick-off and marched 65 yards to their touchdown.

Walter Mayberry hit his stride in the third period and led the way to the Florida touchdown. They had scored on a safety in the second.

M'LANE REPORTED HURT CRITICALLY IN BUNKIE WRECK

Herb Duggans And Mike Wells Also Injured As Car Collides With Truck

Hospital authorities at Bunkie told The Morning World just before midnight that Coach Eddie McLane, athletics director at Louisiana Tech who was injured in an automobile collision at Bunkie at 8:30 o'clock last night, had been taken to Baptist hospital at Alexandria in a critical condition.

The World was told that Coach McLane suffered a fractured skull, as well as multiple fractures of both legs and other injuries. He was given emergency treatment at Bunkie. Coach McLane was conscious when admitted to the Bunkie clinic but in a comatose condition when removed.

Coaches Herb Duggans and Mike Wells remained at Bunkie.

BUNKIE, La., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Eddie McLane, Herb Duggans and Mike Wells, athletic coaches at Louisiana Polytechnic institute at Ruston, La., were seriously injured in an automobile accident one mile east of here tonight.

McLane, head coach, was in critical condition at the Bunkie clinic with two broken legs, internal injuries and cuts about the face.

The conditions of Duggans and Wells were undetermined. Duggans had internal injuries and cuts of the face, legs and body. Wells suffered a crushed chest and cuts of the face and arms.

The Tech coaches were returning from the Louisiana State-Auburn football game at Baton Rouge. Officers said their car collided with a truck driven by O. E. McCoy of Bunkie. McCoy was uninjured. McLane was pinned beneath the coaches' car.

Layden, Miller Booked For Stadium Main Event

Myers And Joe Dillman Matched In Semi-Final Here Wednesday Night

Charlie Layden, the former Texas university football star who has won a large following since the light heavyweight grapplers took charge at Twin City stadium two weeks ago, will return next Wednesday night for a main event match with Walter Miller, former middleweight champion of the world.

Layden made his debut on the first light heavyweight card by wrestling a one-hour draw with "The Dragon," rough performer who gave the Texan a busy evening. Then last week Charlie defeated Mike Nazarian, rugged Syrian from Pennsylvania, to further entrench himself in the good graces of the local fans. It was a fast match, with Layden matching blow for blow with the best the former college miner could offer.

Next Wednesday night, however, Layden may have his hands full in his match with Miller. The former middleweight champion has put on quite a bit of poundage since he held forth as the kingpin at his weight, and he's likely to provide more than Layden can handle. Miller was rated as one of the smartest campaigners ever to hold the middleweight crown and he's certain to give a good account of himself. He has been something of a sensation since joining the light heavyweight ranks.

In the semi-final Wednesday night, Lee Myers, who made his local debut last week by winning in straight falls from Raul Lopez, the clever Mexican, will meet Joe Dillman, of "Indiana" known over the circuit as the "Terrible Turk." Dillman is another of those grapplers who care little for science as long as they are allowed to use their fists and otherwise batter their opponents with illegal tactics.

Myers looked good in beating Lopez and he should be able to hold his own against the rough East Indian.

It was announced yesterday that Tom Moore has succeeded Charlie Bruscato as matchmaker at the stadium, and he will handle the shows in conjunction with C. C. Scharff, who is business manager of the arena. No further changes in stadium officials is contemplated, Moore said, and popular prices will remain in effect.

COLUMBIA TEAM LODGES PROTEST

State Athletic Group Meets Wednesday To Probe Newellton Eleven

LAKE PROVIDENCE, La., Nov. 13.—(Special)—C. E. Holley, principal of Lake Providence High school, and member of the executive committee of the Louisiana High School Athletic association, has announced the calling of a meeting of the association committee at Byrd High school in Shreveport next Wednesday at 10:30 a.m.

Principal Holley stated that a protest against the Newellton Bears would be considered at that time. The protest against Newellton, charging the ineptitude of two football players, was filed by Columbia High school authorities, Holley stated.

The protest came after difficulties concerning a Columbia-Newellton game scheduled for two weeks ago which was never played. Columbia failed to go to Newellton for the game on the plea that Newellton authorities had not notified them within a limited time of the selected officials, and asked a postponement of the game. The postponement was granted by the district Class B committee.

Holley said, and the two teams were ordered to play, but Columbia again balked and filed protests of the eligibility of two Newellton players.

Neither Newellton nor Columbia has been defeated in Class B.

The executive council to consider the protest is composed of J. M. Boyette, Vinton, president; Clyde Madden, Choudrant, vice-president; Grover

PITT RALLIES TO DEFEAT NEBRASKA IN THRILLER, 13-7

Panthers Pack All Their Punch In Final Quarter To Score Twice

By Paul Mickelson
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 13.—(AP)—In a copyrighted last-period surge that lifted 71,000 stunned spectators off their seats, Pittsburgh's Panthers broke loose again today to blast surprising Nebraska from the ranks of the undefeated, 13 to 7.

The big clock showed nine minutes and 35 seconds left to play and Nebraska ahead, 7-0, when the Panthers clawed out of their cage with a relentless attack and a chance bit of luck to come from behind to a thrilling conquest for the third time in as many weeks. First, they marked 80 yards on 13 plays, missed on a placement to tie the score, and then grasped a Nebraska fumble to push over the winning score with less than five minutes to go.

The Cornhuskers, working behind a line that starred the famed Charlie Brock, Bob Mehring and Elmer Dohrmann, hardly gave Marshall Goldberg a chance to break loose.

Pitt made 13 first downs to two for Nebraska and gained 250 yards from rushing while tossing Nebraska to a total of minus nine yards. Nebraska tried 10 passes and completed but one while the Panthers completed two out of five.

Pitt's conquest gave them a season's record of seven victories and one tie (a scoreless one with Fordham) and left them in an apparently commanding position to lead the nation's 10 ranking teams for the second straight week.

CLARKS LUMBERJACKS WIN FROM GRAYSON TEAM, 50-13

CLARKS, La., Nov. 13.—(Special)—The Clark's high school football team defeated Grayson on the local field Thursday night 50 to 13, marking the eighth consecutive victory, with no defeats not to mar this season's record.

Led by the spectacular fullback, Bobbie Corbin, the locals overcame a shaky start in which Grayson scored 13 points and soon after the third quarter opened, started a touchdown parade to run up the impressive score that swamped the visitors. Corbin scored three touchdowns, getting away for 80, 75, and 50 runs. Others scoring for Clarks were Carroll two, Kirk Sellers and Rogers.

In winning their eight games the Lumberjacks have scored 302 points to their opponents' 19. They defeated L. T. I. of Monroe 14 to 0, Wisner 20 to 6, Gilbert 26 to 0, Olla 12 to 0, Winnfield 48 to 0, Jena 13 to 0, Monterey 59 to 0, and Grayson 50 to 13. Loy Camp of Louisiana State Normal has coached the Lumberjacks since football was inaugurated, three years ago, in the Clark's high school.

The next game will be played on Thursday night, when the Jonesville team will come to Clarks to meet the Lumberjacks.

CARNIVAL WILL OPEN TUESDAY

St. Matthew's Church Plans To Reach Goal Of $1,500 This Year

The annual carnival sponsored by St. Matthew's Catholic church will be open in the Adler building, South Grand street, opposite Hotel Monroe, Tuesday at 11 a.m. It will be continued for three days under the general direction of Mrs. W. A. Burgoyne, who has served in similar capacity for several carnivals of this church that have been held. The first year's carnival netted $800, while each year has seen an increase of $200 or more, and the goal set for this year is $1,500.

Mrs. J. B. Filhiol, chairman of meals, has announced that turkey dinners will be served daily and also for supper on Tuesday and Thursday. On Wednesday the supper will comprise spaghetti and meat balls.

A novelty booth will be operated by Eddie Fitzpatrick and Eddie Shaughnessy which will comprise a game of skill to see who can throw rings around the necks of live ducks which will be swimming in a huge water-filled tub.

A cedar chest filled with exquisite linens donated by the altar society will comprise the main award. The cedar chest was made from pieces of cedar willed to the church by the late Miss Lou Bree.

Each afternoon from 2:30 to 5 o'clock will be devoted especially to children, all games and booths being operated for them. It is suggested that children come in the afternoon rather than at night, unless it is necessary that they accompany their parents.

Free registration will be in charge of Miss Tina Collins and Mrs. T. L. Morris. The nightly prize will be awarded to a person whose name is drawn from the list.

TECH TRAINING SCHOOL PUPILS FIND SKELETON OF AN OLD INDIAN MAN

RUSTON, La., Nov. 13.—(Special)—Youthful dreams of finding buried treasure became a reality in one sense of the word to 20 fifth grade boys and girls at Louisiana Tech's Teacher Training school recently when they accidentally unearthed a skeleton of what is said to have been an old Indian man.

As part of their unit study for the year, the children were taken to the site of an old Indian village about four miles north of Vienna by their teacher, Miss Leola Rodgers. They were in search of Indian relics, bits of pottery, arrow heads and beads. To their surprise they discovered the grave of an old Indian man. Strange to say, the skeleton was minus feet and hands.

The skeleton was found by one of the children, Ann Reese. Her cries of enthusiasm brought her school chums over to help her unearth her find. Under the guidance of their teacher, they carefully brushed away the soil, and later called upon Dr. J. R. Fowler, head of the biology department at Tech, for assistance in getting the remains of the old man back to their classroom without spoiling the original positions of the bones.

The bones were taken, with permission, from the property of William Richardson, according to Miss Rodgers. "I have no doubt but that the bones are of an old Indian man," said Dr. Fowler, who based his assertion upon the fact that there were Indian relics near the skeleton. He explained that this is common in the burial of Indians.

Dr. Fowler said that there was no definite way in which he could tell how old the Indian was at the time of death, or how long he had been buried. The condition of the teeth indicated, however, that the man was very old. The teeth were in good condition, but were worn flat on the top surface.

The fifth grade class in the Teacher Training school here is using the skeleton as "exhibit A" in their "museum." According to their teacher, the skeleton has stimulated much interest in the study of the American Indian, his customs and characteristics.

When asked whether any of the children feared the sight of the grinning skull and dusty bones, their teacher, Miss Rodgers, confided that some of the children on rainy days clamored for a seat where they could eat and watch, with sandwich in hand, the "old Indian man" in his new pine box.

NEW CHURCH TO BE OPEN TODAY

Nazarenes Will Worship In Thomas Street Edifice; Speakers To Participate

Services will be held for the first time today in the new Nazarene church, Thomas and Richmond streets. The formal opening will be held at 3 p.m., and the public is invited, stated Rev. G. M. Akin, pastor.

Participating on the program will be Senator James A. Noe; Rev. D. D. Cantrell, pastor of the Central Baptist church; Rev. J. M. Alford, pastor of the Gordon Avenue church; Rev. L. J. Brooks, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church; Rev. Ira Yeager, pastor of the Methodist Protestant church, and others.

There will be several quartet selections and other musical numbers. The church was organized in 1929 and has enjoyed a steady, healthy growth. At present there are 111 members.

The pastors have been the late Rev. H. F. Camp, who organized the group; Rev. J. J. Douglas and Rev. G. M. Akin, incumbent.

Special pains have been taken to erect a new structure that will be adequate to the needs of the congregation. The building is 32 by 50 feet, of frame construction. The auditorium is 32 by 45 feet and has seating capacity for 225. There are seven Sunday school rooms, an office for the pastor, and for the Sunday school superintendent. The interior finish is artistic. Light fixtures are also the best obtainable.

FATHER OF W. W. VEACH IS DEAD IN WYOMING

Word was received by W. W. Veach of the death of his father, W. W. Veach, Sr., in Fort Francis Warren, Wyo., Friday. The funeral and interment will take place there.

Mr. Veach was a native of Indianapolis, Ind., and was 75 years old. He was an old-time baseball player having played professional baseball with the Cleveland, O., team when it was affiliated with the old American association, and he was a friend of many well known baseball players of years ago.

Since the death of his wife, Mr. Veach had spent most of his time with his children of whom there were four sons and two daughters. He was visiting his daughter in Wyoming when his death occurred. He also had a daughter in Omaha, Neb.

The four sons surviving are, besides Mr. Veach of Monroe, Herbert Veach of Pomona, Calif.; Paul Veach of Dayton, O., and Ted Veach of Fort Wayne, Ind.

1937 Citizenship Trophy To Be Given To Capt. Cooley

American Legion To Present Award For Distinguished Community Service

When the L. B. Faulk post of the American Legion meets for its regular meeting December 6 at 8 p.m., it will award Captain G. B. Cooley its 1937 citizenship trophy for distinguished and meritorious community service. This will comprise the first annual award and each year a similar award will be made to the most outstanding citizen of Monroe, in the opinion of a special legion committee, the identity of which is not made known.

Captain Cooley was officially advised of the honor that is to be bestowed upon him when Saturday noon he received a telegram from Charles E. McKenzie, commander of the L. B. Faulk post, which was his first information of what was in store for him. The wire was as follows:

"Captain G. B. Cooley, Monroe, La. 'I have the honor to advise you that L. B. Faulk post No. 13, the American Legion, has awarded you its 1937 citizenship trophy for distinguished and meritorious community service. In anticipation of your acceptance of this award, we are preparing to present it to you at the regular post meeting at the American Legion home in Monroe, at 8 p.m., December 6, 1937."

(Signed) "CHARLES E. MCKENZIE, Commander."

It was stated by Mr. McKenzie that Captain Cooley's efforts and financial support of the new tuberculosis hospital near White's Ferry were one of the chief considerations in making the award. The captain has ever been foremost in every project that deals with stamping out tuberculosis and has been president of the Ouachita Tuberculosis and Public Health association here ever since it was formed.

He also is active in Red Cross programs and in all civic enterprises that make for a better Monroe and Ouachita parish. These other interests also were considered when the award was made, it was stated.

Captain Cooley, a native of Savannah, Ill., has resided in Monroe continuously since 1894, when he came south to start, in a modest manner, the first steam laundry in the community. From the outset he was identified with social, business and civic affairs and as his business grew he devoted increasingly of his time and finances in unselfish interests. For years he has been regarded one of the most financially successful and most generously disposed residents of the city.

Three hobbies have been his through the years—his laundry, which has grown to become one of the largest in the south, his boating activities, which have consumed much of his time and energy, together with those of his brother, the late L. V. Cooley, nationally noted old-time Mississippi and Ouachita river steamboat captain, and last but by no means least, his constant interest in waging warfare on the white plague.

Through his cash donation, it was possible to secure federal financial aid for the new G. B. Cooley sanatorium at White's Ferry, which when opened is expected to prove a life-saver for scores of persons both white and negro afflicted with tuberculosis.

The award will be in the nature of a bronze sailboat, selected because of the captain's fondness for things nautical, bearing a suitable inscription and the emblem of the American Legion. This will not be the first time that the captain has been recognized as an outstanding citizen of Monroe. In 1929, he was awarded a handsome silver loving cup by the local Elks lodge as recognition for community services performed that year.

Captain Cooley and Mrs. Cooley reside in a handsome home on South Grand street which is from time to time the scene of many social activities for which the Cooleys are famous. The captain is a member of the Lotus club; a past president of the Rotary club; holds membership in the Elks; Lakeside Country club; Monroe Recreation association; and also has held various offices in the Chamber of Commerce of Monroe and West Monroe.

Society Looks Forward To Busy Days As Thanksgiving And Yuletide Loom

College Students To Come Swarming Home

Adelia Sandel Much Feted; Club Women Hear Annette Duchain And Dr. Daggett

By Eve Bradford
THE TANG and crispness of autumn air, the ripening of the pumpkins and the apprehensive gobbling of the old turkey cock remind us that Thanksgiving is near at hand and families will soon be reunited around the festive board.

This silver-foxy world of ours is already beginning to spin in a sort of holiday madness. While parties in retrospect are memory-ful, one likes parties in anticipation even more. And there will be a perfect deluge during the month of December when brides are being feted and college boys and girls come swarming home for the Yuletide. Members of the younger set are shaking out their party clothes in readiness for one of the gayest seasons

Monroe has experienced in many a year.

In retrospect we view again the autumnal sartorial thrill from the white-ribboned news at the Thompson-Sparks wedding.

The music, while the guests were being seated, was enchanting—a superb melange of Lohengrin, Mendelssohn, Bond and Wagner. The deep-toned words of the minister, the vibrant "I do" of the bridegroom and the flute-like voice of the bride, were spiced in the hushed atmosphere of the lily-scented church.

Down the aisle swept the pansy-eyed bride, ultra feminine and supremely lovely. The bride's mother was a youthful, lovely figure in a blue lame. The bridegroom's mother was lovely, too, in black velvet and lace and rhinestones. All the young and lovelies were out for the wedding and the reception later at the Thompson home, where the biggest and most artistic wedding cake we ever gazed upon towered chandelier-ward with lilies of the valley spilling over the topmost layer. It is not often that older women rave over young girls, but Lillie's friends are of all ages and they admire her enchanting young slimness and beauty of auburn hair, her sweet, gracious disposition and thoughtfulness of others. In fact, they seem to credit her with all the graces. The picture Lillie created as she stood in her shining wedding gown before the superb cake was something to remember.

Jim Nelson, suave, friendly and altogether likeable, was a prominent figure at the wedding. He was in immaculate evening attire as customary, and with him was his handsome wife, tall and slender and beautifully gowned in black with seal coat and sequin cap with flaring veil. Jim's beautiful young daughter has inherited her father's sartorial perfection if one can judge from the lovely fur coat and the exquisite party frock she was wearing.

Saw Marguerite Hill, starchy-eyed and unusually radiant, the other day. The good-looking stranger she had in tow might have been the cause. Anyhow we did not hear that a friendship dating back to school days has been revived. It developed when Marguerite and Katie Mae Thornhill motored over to Alabama recently. Marguerite has displayed very little enthusiasm about returning to Los Angeles, where her job (a man's sized one) still waits for her.

Society went gaily from tea to luncheon to dinner and to football games as they busily chaffed off engagements from their jamming calendar last week. Many fair members of the fashionable world were drafted to the tea table and others presided over luncheon tables banked high with flowers and radiant with candlelight. Lucille Tronzo's tea on Friday for Adelia Sandel was altogether lovely in the candlelight among the flowers tea was poured from antique silver services and tray upon tray of edibles passed among the well-dressed throng of guests.

There was plenty of food for thought scattered around last week. Several speakers, women prominent in literary fields, tried their best to help build our little women into right-thinking citizens. Annette Duchain, for instance—the reviewed book after book, bringing out the gems of thought and the meaning of things between the lines. And there was Dr. Harriett Daggett at Lillian Williamson's home giving graphic accounts of European women and the fears that beset them. The happiest moment of her life, it seems, occurred when her best friend into New York harbor, past the statue of liberty and home. The words, "Land of the free and home of the brave," held a world of significance for her after a summer in Europe. Every woman who heard Dr. Daggett felt the glow of patriotism that colored her talk that evening.

Elizabeth and Eldredge Carroll gath. ered their entire wedding party together in their new home in Columbia on November 7, for their first wedding anniversary. Elizabeth donned her regal satin wedding gown and

Playthings For This Year Based On National Events Even Dolls Follow The News

Can Christmas be far away when children are already flocking to toyland, where the wonders of science continue to provide practical toys for the curious child?

A visit to Toyland, the children's paradise, revealed the fact that playthings for the precocious child of 1937 have drawn plentifully on events in the national theme. The trailer vogue which attained its greatest popularity on the nation's highways last summer has been mirrored in a score of toys.

Even the baby dolls have followed the news. The quintuplets are true little ladies now, far more mature than the chubby tots of a year ago. Their companions in the nursery are no less changed. Few dolls are content with the monotonous long curl or lacquered wigs that once sufficed. Coiffures are the rage, with the "o the face" and "curls and bangs" style sharing greatest favor.

For the young girl whose dolls are the favorite possession, a busy season is in prospect. The well-dressed dolls no longer content with the drab gaudies of other years, have taken abreast of the styles with well-stocked wardrobes of Chesterfields, polo coats and wear for the house, the street and the party. For the girl who craves reality among her doll part goes, a make-up kit has been provided.

A new toy, the laborer in red neckerchief, blue cap and overalls, as join the cowboys, Indians, soldier sailors, marines and policemen and the Christmas tree this year.

Even the basic wooden blocks have been brought up to the minute. No they grove together to make less likely the delightful collapses of tower playground structures. On their side the alphabet is still taught but "which once stood for "egg" or "ee" now means "engine." "Z" is "tractor" and "Z" for "zap."

Toy manufacturers this year expect the Christmas sale to top 1936 by per cent and to reach a seven-year peak.

There are trailers for velocipedes, with room enough for a child to ride. Other trailers have been hooked up to the miniature automobiles, and the lo cabin construction sets boast full equipment for the erection of a trailer camp.

"Gifts From the World Around"

Monroe has experienced in many a year.

In retrospect we view again the autumnal sartorial thrill from the white-ribboned pews at the Thompson-Sparks wedding.

The music, while the guests were being seated, was enchanting—a superb melange of Lohengrin, Mendelssohn, Bond and Wagner. The deep-toned words of the minister, the vibrant “I do” of the bridegroom and the flute-like voice of the bride, were spoken in the hushed atmosphere of the lily-scented church.

Down the aisle swept the pearly-eyed bride, ultra feminine and supremely lovely. The bride's mother was a youthful, lovely figure in blue lame. The bridegroom's mother was lovely, too, in black velvet and lace and rhinestones. All the young and lovelies were out for the wedding and the reception later at the Thompson home, where the biggest and most artistic wedding cake we ever gazed upon towered chandelier-ward with lilies of the valley spilling over the topmost layer. It is not often that older women rave over young girls, but Lillie's friends are of all ages and they admire her enchanting young slimness and beauty of auburn hair, her sweetly, gracious disposition and thoughtfulness of others. In fact, they seem to credit her with all the graces. The picture Lillie created as she stood in her shining wedding gown before the super cake was something to remember.

Jim Nelson, suave, friendly and altogether likeable, was a prominent figure at the wedding. He was in immaculate evening attire as customary, and with him was his handsome wife, tall and slender and beautifully gowned in black with seal coat and sequin cap with flaring veil. Jim's beautiful young daughter has inherited her father's sartorial perfection if one can judge from the lovely fur coat and the exquisite party frock she was wearing.

Saw Marguerite Hill, starry-eyed and unusually radiant, the other day. The good-looking stranger she had in tow might have been the cause. Anyhow we did not hear that a friendship dating back to school days has been revived. It developed when Marguerite and Katie Mae Thornhill motored over to Alabama recently. Marguerite has displayed very little enthusiasm about returning to Los Angeles, where her job (a man's sized one) still waits for her.

Society went gaily from tea to luncheon to dinner and to football games as they busily checked off engagements from their jamming calendar last week. Many fair members of the fashionable world were drafted to the tea table and others presided over luncheon tables banked high with flowers and radiant with candlelight. Lucile Trousdale's tea on Friday for Adelia Sandel was altogether lovely. In the candlelight among the flowers tea was poured from antique silver services and tray upon tray of edibles passed among the well-dressed throng of guests.

There was plenty of food for thought scattered around last week. Several speakers, women prominent in literary fields, tried their best to help build our little women into right-thinking citizens. Annette Duchene, for instance—she reviewed book after book, bringing out the gems of thought and the meaning of things between the lines. And there was Dr. Harriett Daggett at Lillian Williamson's home giving graphic accounts of European women and the fears that beset them. The happiest moment of her life, it seems, occurred when her boat drifted into New York harbor, past the statue of liberty and home. The words, “land of the free and home of the brave,” held a world of significance for her after a summer in Europe. Every woman who heard Dr. Daggett felt the glow of patriotism that colored her talk that evening.

Elizabeth and Eldredge Carroll gathered their entire wedding party together in their new home in Columbia on November 7, for their first wedding anniversary. Elizabeth donned her regal satin wedding gown and

Miss Adelia Sandel Center Of Many Attractive Events During Past Week

Marriage Will Take Place November 26

Grace Church To Be Scene Of Nuptials; Bride-Elect To Have Six Lovely Attendants

One bride steps out of the picture and another one comes into view and walks through the crowded hours of the early winter days. Miss Adelia Sandel now claims the spotlight of social attention with her wedding November 26 to be the chef-d'oeuvre of the month.

When she walks down the aisle at Grace church, where so many beautiful brides have gone before, she will be preceded by six lovely maids, a maid of honor and a ring bearer. They are Mrs. James H. Trousdale, Jr., Mrs. Charles Womack, Miss Ann Platt, Miss Glenn Holland, Miss Ruth Atkins, Mrs. Earl Chumney and Miss Ellen Kent Millsaps. The ring bearer will be Barry Barringer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Barringer.

The intervening days are crammed with charming pre-nuptial courtesies leading up to the morning of the wedding when a breakfast will bring the entire bridal party together with Miss Millsaps, Miss Ruth Atkins and Miss Glenn Holland as hostesses.

Cocktails and hors d'oeuvres were served in the drawing room before the luncheon hour.

The table in the dining room was developed in pale yellow with a plaque of glorious chrysanthemums extending the full length of the yellow satin damask covered board. The unique place cards, significant of the approaching nuptials, were taken home by the guests and will be treasured souvenirs of a most delightful occasion.

A five-course luncheon was faultlessly served to Miss Sandel, Miss Parviz Hudson, Miss Ellen Kent Millsaps, Miss Leigh Russell, Mrs. Parviz Hudson, Mrs. James Trousdale, Jr., Mrs. Glenn Holland, Miss Ruth Atkins and the hostess.

Mrs. Biedenharn's gift to Miss Sandel was a set of silver coffee spoons in the Buttercup pattern.

A gracious compliment claiming prominence among the affairs for Miss Sandel last week was the luncheon at the home of Mrs. B. M. McKoin in Edgewater Gardens, with Mrs. J. W. Cummings of Oak Grove, the co-hostess.

A bridal theme was developed in all the appointments of candle-lit table, where fluffy white chrysanthemums bloomed in the midst of white tapers and crystal and silver formed the appointments.

The place cards were unique and colorful, adding to the beauty of the table.

Present to enjoy courtesies, in addition to Miss Sandel, were Miss Parviz Hudson, Miss Leigh Russell, Miss Kent Millsaps, Miss Ann Platt, Mrs. Percy Sandel, Mrs. James Trousdale, Mrs. Glenn Holland, Mrs. Charles Womack.

The nuptials presented Miss Sandel with a gift of silver in the pattern selected for her wedding silver.

Mrs. Miller T. McCann and Mrs. William McCann of Paducah, Ky., guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Seamon, were considerably feted socially last week.

Outstanding among the courtesies was the luncheon party on board the Brown Kraft, with Mrs. B. Beasley hostess.

A trip up the Ouachita was enjoyed during the morning hours and luncheon was served at 12 o'clock in the glass-enclosed cabin.

Last week's compliments also included a luncheon with Miss Frank Farmer as hostess and a bridge affair with Mrs. Harry Newhall the hostess. On Thursday, Mrs. Seamon and guests were entertained at luncheon-bridge at McGuire Golf club.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Wingate of Eros announce the arrival of a daughter, Peggy Jane, at Riverside sanitarium, November 9. Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Head of Eros are the maternal grandparents.

Pumpkin Pie Time Arrives
With Thanksgiving only a short time away it is high time for the novices to begin trying their hands at making pumpkin pie and fixing up festive molds of cranberries.

Across a span of a dozen dinners or so pumpkin pie could still be a welcome holiday treat after the turkey. So, for a fledgling hostess who is not very sure of pastry technique, we suggest an experimental set-to with pumpkin pie and seasonings.

Making "pumpkin" pie is an easier task now than it was in the olden days when a girl had to smash a yellow monster open with a hatchet, for now it is quite the thing to use canned pumpkin.

The other kind is not so difficult if the man of the house can be persuaded to lend a hand at cutting the thing into wedges. Don't peel them. Scrape out the seeds and shreds and put the pumpkin in a pot over a low fire with a cup of water. Its own juice will begin to ooze out right away. It needs to cook slowly for five or six hours until nearly dry. Tear off the peeling. If the pulp still seems watery let it drain in a colander for a few hours. Whether canned or home-made pulp is used, the technique is the same from this point on.

To two cups of pumpkin pulp add two egg yolks, three-quarters of a cup of brown sugar, half a teaspoon each of ground ginger and cinnamon, a cup and a half of milk, half a cup of cream, a teaspoon of vanilla, the juice of half a lemon and a teaspoon of grated lemon rind. After all these are thoroughly mixed, beat the two egg whites with half a teaspoon of salt and fold this in. Turn into two pie tins that have been lined with pastry and bake about 40 minutes in a moderate oven. Pumpkin pie may be served hot or cold. A slice of American cheese should go with each portion. Spooning a slab of whipped cream on top is a nice extravagance.

Garden Club Attends Illustrated Lecture

The Spanish type with its clusters of potted plants on the steps and hanging from the porch. Within continued beauty and usefulness in the interesting spiral staircase with wrought-iron rail, colorful tiled steps and hanging pots of ivy.

A Southern Colonial, its old fashioned garden, latticed tea-house and the charming interior in keeping with the outside architecture. Every space utilized with the maximum of beauty and usefulness.

Maurice Hart Guest Of Honor
Miss Maurice Hart, whose marriage to Mr. Earl Duncan will be an interesting event of today at the West Monroe Methodist church, was the guest of honor at a buffet supper at the home

Local People Take Part In Pageant

The Woman's Benefit association formed a congenial party motoring to Meridian, Miss., to participate in a two day annual pageant for the relief of the Meridian Junior college.

Monroe leaves at 11, opening the procession with a drill consisting of fourteen guards dressed in red and white satin uniforms, led by Mildred Lucky and Bessie Bennett, all carrying huge American flags.

The pageant was directed by the supreme vice-president, Mrs. Pearl H. Crox, and the state field director, Mrs. Lucille Sharp of Birmingham, Ala., in the absence of the regular pageant director, Mrs. Jennie Little of Port Huron, Mich.

Members present from Monroe, were: Mrs. Josie Henderson, Mildred Lucky, Myrtle Stubbs, Bertha Wallace, Bernice Goss, Lucy Durbin, Georgia Stephens, Bessie Bennett, Billie Cole, Lettie Smith, Rubie Gilchrist, Lurline Albright, Mildred Wmush, Alma Bessie, Bobbie Simmons, and Miss Clay Dell Cox.

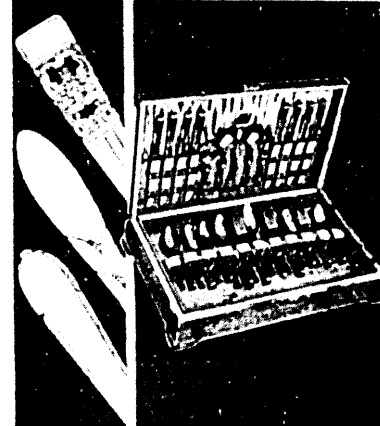

The program was concluded with a dance.

Marriage Will Take Place November 26

Grace Church To Be Scene Of Nuptials; Bride-Elect To Have Six Lovely Attendants

One bride steps out of the picture and another one comes into view and walks through the crowded hours of the early winter days. Miss Adelia Sandel now claims the spotlight of social attention with her wedding November 26 to be the chef-d'oeuvre of the month.

When she walks down the aisle at Grace church, where so many beautiful brides have gone before, she will be preceded by six lovely maids, a maid of honor and a ring bearer. They are Mrs. James H. Trousdale, Jr., Mrs. Charles Womack, Miss Ann Platt, Mrs. Glenn Holland, Miss Ruth Atkins, Mrs. Earl Chumney and Miss Ellen Kent Millsaps. The ring bearer will be Barry Barringer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Barringer.

The intervening days are crammed with charming pre-nuptial courtesies leading up to the morning of the wedding when a breakfast will bring the entire bridal party together with Miss Millsaps, Miss Ruth Atkins and Mrs. Glenn Holland as hostesses.

Cocktails and hors d'oeuvres were served in the drawing room before the luncheon hour.

The table in the dining room was developed in pale yellow with a plaque of glorious chrysanthemums extending the full length of the yellow satin damask covered board. The unique place cards, significant of the approaching nuptials, were taken home by the guests and will be treasured souvenirs of a most delightful occasion.

A five-course luncheon was faultlessly served to Miss Sandel, Miss Pargie Hudson, Miss Ellen Kent Millsaps, Miss Leigh Russell, Mrs. Percy Sandel, Mrs. James Trousdale, Jr., Mrs. Glenn Holland, Miss Ruth Atkins and the hostess.

Pumpkin Pie Time Arrives
With Thanksgiving only a short time away it is high time for the novices to begin trying their hands at making pumpkin pie and fixing up festive molds of cranberries.

Across a span of a dozen dinners or so pumpkin pie could still be a welcome holiday treat after the turkey. So, for a fledgling hostess who is not very sure of pastry technique, we suggest an experimental set-to with pulp, mixing bowl and seasonings.

Making "pumpkin" pie is an easier task now than it was in the olden days when a girl had to smash a yellow monster open with a hatchet, for now it is quite the thing to use canned pumpkin.

The other kind is not so difficult if the man of the house can be persuaded to lend a hand at cutting the thing into wedges. Don't peel them. Scoop out the seeds, and shreds and put the pumpkin in a pot over a low fire with a cup of water. Its own juice will begin to ooze out right away. It needs to cook slowly for five or six hours until nearly dry. Tear off the peeling. If the pulp still seems watery, let it drain in a colander for a few hours. Whether canned or home-made pulp is used, the technique is the same from this point on.

To two cups of pumpkin pulp add two egg yolks, three-quarters of a cup of brown sugar, half a teaspoon each of ground ginger and cinnamon, a cup and a half of milk, half a cup of cream, a teaspoon of vanilla, the juice of half a lemon and a teaspoon of grated lemon rind. After all these are thoroughly mixed, beat the two egg whites with half a teaspoon of salt and fold this in. Turn into two pie tins that have been lined with pastry and bake about 40 minutes in a moderate oven. Pumpkin pie may be served hot or cold. A slice of American cheese should go with each portion. Spooning a dab of whipped cream on top is a nice extravagance.

Garden Club Attends Illustrated Lecture
"Beauty and Usefulness in Home and Garden," was the theme of Mrs. Frederick Williamson's talk before members of the Garden club at their regular November meeting last week at the Virginia hotel.

The illustrated lecture was in the nature of a tour of America's beautiful homes and gardens.

The first shown was an attractive Connecticut home. The approach was like an introduction of a good story with its well-placed flagstone steps following the house line from driveway to entrance. The foundation planting in scale with the lines of the house, high at the corners and low beneath the windows. Vines and well-filled boxes at the upstairs dormer windows relieved the higher wall expanses.

The most interesting pictures shown were the gardens and interiors of a charming little Cape Cod cottage. Though built close to the street, it possessed a sense of privacy because of its white picket fence and shrubbery planting at the corners and along the driveway. The lamp post at the fence corner not only served as a quaint and decorative unit, but was useful by night as a light for the driveway and sidewalk. American cranberry bushes veiled the house corners and unified it with the garage.

The interior of this delightful cottage was noted for its appropriate simplicity, its many features of combined beauty and utility that put every space to work. Pewter and old blue glass used as appropriate containers against the painted pine walls.

Upstairs the boys room was a delight. Pine bunks gave twin-bed accommodations and at the same time saved floor space for track layouts and amateur railroad engineers. The woodwork was of natural pine surfaced with ordinary cold-water paint and waxed to make a finish impervious to the wear and tear of a family of boys.

From the quaint dormered bedrooms, the lovely stairway led the way to a combination basement-dining-and-game-room. This livable room opened onto a flagstone terrace that overlooks a hillside garden and outdoor living room and a path that leads over an oaken bridge. The planting had been kept natural as one would find it in surrounding woodland areas.

Many types of homes were shown—the English type of cottage with its house number directly below the simple lamp, its natural garden and garden pool. An old millstone used as a fountain and a quaint ox-yoke added an unusual touch.

The Spanish type with its clusters of potted plants on the steps and hanging from the porch. Within continued beauty and usefulness in the interesting spiral stairway with wrought-iron rail, colorful tiled steps and hanging pots of ivy.

A Southern Colonial, its old fashioned garden, latticed tea-house and the charming interior in keeping with the outside architecture. Every space utilized with the maximum of beauty and usefulness.

Maurice Hart Guest Of Honor
Miss Maurice Hart, whose marriage to Mr. Earl Duncan will be an interesting event of today at the West Monroe Methodist church, was the guest of honor at a buffet supper at the home of Miss Helen Hunt, with Mrs. Robert May, Mrs. Charles Chishum, Miss Edwina Mitchell and Mrs. Horace Ayers, hostesses.

Following the serving of supper from a flower adorned, silver appointed buffet, a "shower" of beautiful gifts was bestowed upon Miss Hart.

Present in addition to Miss Hart and her fiancé, were Misses Clarice Weir, Coleen Hart, Hazel Bandy, Helen Nowell, Francis and Elizabeth Langford, Mary Mills Hunt, Marjorie Rasmussen, Jackie Golley, Messrs. Claire Hunt, David Hunt, Bill Byrd, Bill Mayo, Charles Chishum, Robert May, Marshall Downs, R. G. Hart, Horace Ayers, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Hunt, and the mother of the honor guest.

Impressive Ceremony Marks Marriage Of Lillie Thompson And James Spark

Wedding Unites Two Prominent Families

Reception Held At Home Of Bride's Parents; Newlyweds On Honeymoon Trip To New York

Ecclesiastical candles gleamed in the midst of calla lilies marking the pews of the aisle of Grace Episcopal church, down which Miss Lillie Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wood H. Thompson, walked when she became the bride of Mr. James Sparks, son of Mrs. R. C. Sparks, Sr., Saturday night, November 6, at 7:30 o'clock.

The wedding, of considerable pomp and ceremony and one of paramount social interest due to the prominence of the contracting parties, was one of the most brilliant of the season and claimed fashionable Monroe, en masse.

The church was banked in calla lilies and woodwardia ferns with myriad cathedral tapers burning in seven-branched candelabra forming an aisle to the altar where Rev. E. F. Hayward, rector of Grace church, in his robes of office, stood with Mr. Sparks and his best man, Mr. R. C. Sparks, Jr.

A wedding bell fashioned of calla lilies suspended by garlands of English ivy, hung directly over the altar. The lighting of the candles by two altar boys was a feature of the ceremony.

While the guests were being seated by the ushers, Mr. Henry Bernstein, Mr. Benjamin Dawkins, Jr., Mr. Ben Downing, Jr., Mr. Harry Hawthorne, Mr. Gilbert Faulk, Mr. Carey Thompson, Jr., Mr. Victor Davis and Mr. Martin Burks of Roanoke, Va., a pre-nuptial concert was rendered by the organist, Mr. Roger Frisbie. The soloists were Miss Frances Boutt of Vicksburg, Miss and Mr. Jack May.

The bridesmaids, Miss Louise Gray, Miss Dorothy Calvert, Miss Clara Virginia Terzia, Mrs. James Dorman, Mrs. Vernon LaCour of Thibadeaux, Mrs. Moise Bloch of New Orleans, Mrs. Thomas White of Shreveport, and the maid of honor, Miss Sydney Calongne, wore ivory chiffon velvet and white tulle models of distinctive design. The skirts, long and full, were cut in petals on a foundation of tulle. The bodices were tight fitting and the sleeves short and puffed at the shoulders. They all wore tulle caps edged with velvet and carried sheaves of calla lilies tied with wide satin ribbons in shades of Wallis blue, emerald green and daffodil yellow.

The flower girl, Martha Clark Sparks, niece of the bridegroom, wore a French floor length frock of white ruffled tulle with chapel of rose buds in her hair. She carried a Marie Antoinette basket filled with old fashioned flowers.

The ring bearers, Edward Seymour, Jr., and Carlton Christie Kemp of Lafayette, wore white velvet trousers with satin blouses with accented pleating at the neckline. They carried the rings on white satin cushions. The bride given in marriage by her father, wore the traditional white Duchess satin wedding gown, an Emily model, fashioned along bouffant lines. The skirt, with flounce of rose point lace, was corded at the waistline ending in a long court train over which fell the voluminous tulle veil caught to the hair with a cap of rose point lace edged with pearls. The sleeves, long and tight-fitting, were puffed at the shoulders. She carried a distinctive bouquet of white orchids and valley lilies.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Thompson home on Park avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. R. C. Sparks, Sr., stood with the wedding party to receive the guests. Mrs. Thompson wore a beautiful blue lame evening model with shoulder knot of Johanna Hill roses. Mrs. Sparks wore a black crepe evening model with jeweled clips and a corsage of white roses.

Assisting in the courtesies were the bride's aunt, Mrs. M. C. Thompson, in black lace, and the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Ben Downing, and his aunts, Mrs. Alice Nelson Briggs, Mrs. B. D. Hodges and Mrs. Janet Powell. Mrs. Downing wore a horizon blue crepe evening model with Juliet cap of rhinestones. Mrs. Powell wore a flame-colored flowered evening model. Mrs. Briggs wore a poudre blue crepe evening model and Mrs. Hodges wore a black velvet and lace evening model.

The wedding cake, a triumph of the confectioner's art, centered the Italian lace draped table in the dining room. It was a three-tiered confection, each tier raised high above the other with a lattice work. The top tier was surmounted with a silver wedding bell from which overflowed crystalized valley lilies. Cherubs with silver arrows encircled the cake and, linked together with clusters of bride's roses, encircled the base. Plaques of white bride's roses, white larkspur, bouvardia and cypripedium, graced either end of the table.

Champagne punch was served from a deep crystal bowl and ices and individual bride's cakes were passed among the guests by white-clad attendants.

Guests were privileged to view the lavish gifts on display in the library. Served by Gorbam and an entire set of Wedgwood was noted, in addition to linens, bric-a-brac, numerous objet d'art and rock crystal.

Mr. and Mrs. Sparks left in their new automobile, a wedding gift, for New York City. Upon their return they will be at home in an apartment until their own home is built.

Mrs. Sparks, a noted beauty, is a member of an old and aristocratic southern family, members of which have taken a prominent part in the affairs of parish and state for many years. She was a member of the 1936 graduating class of the Louisiana State university, Baton Rouge, and is a member of Chi Omega sorority.

Mr. Sparks was born and reared in Monroe, where his maternal grandparents were among the early settlers and were extensive land owners. His father, the late R. C. Sparks, Sr., was a well known cotton broker. Mr. Sparks attended Washington and Lee university and received his LL.B. degree in 1932. He is a member of Pi Kappa Alpha social fraternity and Omicron Delta Kappa, Pi Delta Epsilon and Phi Delta Phi, honorary fraternities. He is now practicing law in this city.

Among the out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Martin Burks of Roanoke, Va., Dr. and Mrs. Thomas White of Shreveport, Mrs. Carlton Calongne and son of Lafayette, Mr. and Mrs. Moise Bloch of New Orleans, Mrs. Vernon LaCour of Thibadeaux, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Calongne of New Orleans, Mrs. Howell Carter, Jr., Miss Maud Carter of Baton Rouge, Miss Marjorie Carter of New Orleans, Mr. W. Reedy of Baton Rouge, Miss Frances Boutt of Vicksburg, Misses May and Belle Johnson of Baton Rouge, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Nelson and daughter of Wichita Falls, Tex., Mr. William Nelson of Alexandria, Kan., Mr. Robert Nelson of Wichita, Kan.

The regular meeting of St. Ann's circle was held Tuesday at the residence of Mrs. A. Petrus, Mrs. A. M. Guerriero, the president, presided. General discussions were held regarding the bazaar which will be held November 16, 17 and 18.

Coffee and cake will be served during the day with a special coffee hour at ten each morning. The hostesses for the coffee hour the first day are Mrs. John Guerriero, Mrs. Paul Koller, Mrs. Fred Hill and Mrs. A. M. Guerriero. For the second day Mrs. M. E. Bell, Mrs. Charles Wilds, Mrs. Vance Rhodes and Mrs. Joe Hartman. For the third day, Mrs. Ned Wilson, Mrs. Warren Taylor, Mrs. R. L. Woods and Mrs. Wortham.

Father Walsh attended the meeting and was well pleased with the plans for the bazaar.

During the social hour Mrs. Washburn served a delicious salad course and tea to Mrs. T. O. Brown, Mrs. W. B. Clarke, Mrs. Fred Coon, Mrs. Arthur Dryburgh, Mrs. E. C. Gibson, Mrs. A. R. Holloway, Mrs. Louis Hulm, Mrs. L. N. Luche, Mrs. Flood Madison, Mrs. M. S. McGuire, Mrs. S. M. McReynolds, Mrs. S. J. Meek, Mrs. J. N. Munholland, Mrs. W. C. Oliver, Mrs. Judson Smith and one guest, Mrs. Ernest Holloway.

Miss Deborah Abramson of Baton Rouge, assistant secretary of the Louisiana Library commission, was a visitor here and spoke before the members of the Ferriday Woman's club at the home of Mrs. William Cuthbertson at Frogmore.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McKillips, of Grayson, spent the week-end in the Bethard home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Trichel and daughter Nita, spent the week-end in the home of Mrs. William Cuthbertson at Frogmore.

You Almost Need Formal Introduction To Glamorous Though Casual Clothes

Gold mesh thread hand knit along Mandarin lines gives a sumptuous appearance to the lovely dinner blouse, destined particularly to set off a slender waistline. Note the narrow, plain collar and the buttons down the front. The blouse is worn with a black skirt and veiled hat.

Gold metallic cloth is the luxurious material from which the dressy afternoon or party frock was fashioned. The lines are simple so as not to detract from the fabric. A corded belt and bow at waistline and neck are the only trimming. The black velvet halter hat is a touch of rich contrast.

AT YORK

By accident I dropped into YORK LINEN SHOPS yesterday where I found a big "THANKSGIVING SALE" in progress. I have for you here some of the highlights from this sale that you will be glad to hear about. Beautiful hand-made and applied DINNER SET, size 12x90, with 12 matching napkins (complete set) only $4.95. Yes, this set usually sells for $9.50 and Gee! what a dinner cloth like this wouldn't do for a Thanksgiving table! Another Pure Linen DOUBLE DAMASK (service for 6) cloth with half a dozen napkins for only $2.55. HAND MADE BLEET LACE DINNER CLOTH, size 72x90, a very special value at only $2.49. Really, I know you must think this price an error, but NO, SIR. These cloths never get out of shape when laundered and when you can get a guaranteed hand-made cloth of this beauty, why invest in a machine made cloth? There were many items low priced. Luncheon Sets $1.00 to $12.00. Dinner Sets $1.95 to $275.00. If it's LINENS you want, remember, YORK can sell it to you for LESS.

AT GRIFFIN'S

... 9 days to go ... folks. Yes just nine days to save on your PHOTOGRAPHS at GRIFFIN'S. GRIFFIN'S STUDIO is offering an unusual reduction on Christmas photographs from now until November 25. You'll be mighty busy during the month of December—that's the reason I am urging you to get those Gift Photographs made now. Photographs are such appreciated gifts. Such personal gifts, especially if it is to be one of those "living, breathing" likenesses for which Griffin's have become renowned. Make arrangements NOW for your holiday photograph. It's just plain good "reason" folks because you save money and remember, it takes time to properly finish a photograph. So give Griffin an opportunity to give you their very best work. Phone 6 for appointment.

AT SHERWIN-WILLIAMS

A certain nationally known interior decorator who visited our city this past week tells us that WALLPAPER IS BEING USED NOW MORE THAN EVER. (Glorify your walls with IMPERIAL WALLPAPERS and they're now on display in all their beauty at Sherwin-Williams. Sherwin-Williams is featuring "ROOM OF THE WEEK" ... a breakfast room one week ... a living room the next ... and so on. The very best decorators of the country have contributed their ideas and they have been bottled down into a simple easy decorating plan and given to the public by Sherwin-Williams. A special display room will be arranged each week in their window. Get in touch with this firm tomorrow.

AT EUNICE LEE BEAUTY SHOP

You can't hide behind your hat any more girls! For hats are tell-tales. Strangely, unenvied hair can absolutely ruin the success of your new winter chapeau ... so if you've been wondering what to do with your hair, it's a good wave that you need. And whether you're Miss Jones with a budget or Mrs. Goldruss with an abundance. Eunice Lee Beauty Shop has to give you a perfect "head start" for the winter season. Phone 2670. This shop is so convenient for you Thanksgiving shoppers. Located at 119 North Second St. These operators to serve you—Eunice Lee, Mamie Kent, Marjorie Miller and Clara Belle Graham.

AT JITNEY JUNGLE

If this item doesn't make a hit with the menfolk I don't know what will. In the Bakery of Jitney Jungle on N. Fourth it's a luscious buttered cream pie made of enameled brown sugar and butter mixed with a delicious cream custard. Deliciously browned, meltingly topped it off and the filling is held by flaky old time pie crust. It will be a big event of your dinner, I know. Better have Dad stop and get one on his way home. In case you miss out now, however, you'll find them at this shop every week. Have this shop bake your Thanksgiving treats. Believe me, they can do tricks with cake batter or bread batter.

AT SEARS

It doesn't matter what floor or what department you walk into at SEARS ... you walk right into a regular "nest o' values". With Thanksgiving only 9 days down the "honey moon" ... this news of SEARS "SUPER-VALUE DAYS" (11 days of savings is really good news!) ... Smart new fall dresses at $2.77. New ladies hats only 97c. Sheets that have already been laundered and wrapped in cellophane $1.89 for 90c. Fast color PRINTS only 10c a yard. Double blankets in all shades 98c each. Men's shirts, sanforized—preshrunk, only 39c. Men's regular army duck coat in brush brown ... $2.98. And here is a real value! PROSPERITY RANGE (FREE 12-LB. TURKEY WITH EVERY STOVE SOLD). Smart table top range, only $59.95. You can't beat it in town, housewife! Buy in SEARS on easy terms. Anything you need to yourself or your home. During the next 15 days.

Tallulah

Club Luncheon Enjoyable Affair

The winter social season at McGuire Golf club is now well under way with the semi-monthly golf tournaments, luncheons, and bridge affairs claiming the attention of feminine members.

Last week's luncheon was unusually enjoyable with the beauty of the weather luring golfers to the links where several foursomes were in progress during the morning hours. Later everyone gathered in the comfortable lounge, gay with flowers and radiating gracious hospitality extended by the hostesses of the day Mrs. Sam Humphries, Mrs. Vance Rhodes and Mrs. A. Petrus.

Impressive Ceremony Marks Marriage Of Lillie Thompson And James Sparks

Wedding Unites Two Prominent Families

Reception Held At Home Of Bride's Parents; Newlyweds On Honeymoon Trip To New York

Ecclesiastical candles gleamed in the midst of calla lilies marking the pews of the aisle of Grace Episcopal church, down which Miss Lillie Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wood H. Thompson, walked when she became the bride of Mr. James Sparks, son of Mrs. R. C. Sparks, Sr., Saturday night, November 6, at 7:30 o'clock.

The wedding, of considerable pomp and ceremony and one of paramount social interest due to the prominence of the contracting parties, was one of the most brilliant of the season and claimed fashionable Monroe, en masse.

The church was banked in calla lilies and woodwardia ferns with myriad cathedral tapers burning in seven-branched candelabra forming an aisle to the altar where Rev. E. F. Hayward, rector of Grace church, in his robes of office, stood with Mr. Sparks and his best man, Mr. R. C. Sparks, Jr.

A wedding bell fashioned of calla lilies suspended by garlands of English ivy, hung directly over the altar. The lighting of the candles by two altar boys was a feature of the ceremony.

While the guests were being seated by the ushers, Mr. Henry Bernstein, Mr. Benjamin Dawkins, Jr., Mr. Ben Downing, Jr., Mr. Harry Hawthorne, Mr. Gilbert Faulk, Mr. Carey Thompson, Jr., Mr. Victor Davis and Mr. Martin Burks of Roanoke, Va., a pre-nuptial concert was rendered by the organist, Mr. Roger Frisbie. The soloists were Miss Frances Boult of Vicksburg, Miss, and Mr. Jack May.

The bridesmaids, Miss Louise Gray, Miss Dorothy Calvert, Miss Clara Virginia Terzia, Mrs. James Dorman, Mrs. Vernon LaCour of Thibadeaux, Mrs. Moise Bloch of New Orleans, Mrs. Thomas White of Shreveport, and the maid of honor, Miss Sydney Calongne, wore ivory chiffon velvet and white tulle models of distinctive design. The skirts, long and full, were cut in petals on a foundation of tulle. The bodices were tight fitting and the sleeves short and puffed at the shoulders. They all wore tulle caps edged with velvet and carried sheaves of calla lilies tied with wide satin ribbons in shades of Wallis blue, emerald green and daffodil yellow.

The flower girl, Marjorie Clayton Sparks, niece of the bridegroom, wore a French floor length frock of white ruffled tulle with chapel of rose buds in her hair. She carried a Marie Antoinette basket filled with old fashioned flowers.

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore the traditional white Duchess satin wedding gown, an Emily model, fashioned along bouffant lines. The skirt, with flounce of rose point lace, was corded at the waistline ending in a long court train over which fell the voluminous tulle veil caught to the hair with a cap of rose point lace edged with pearls. The sleeves, long and tight-fitting, were puffed at the shoulders. She carried a distinctive bouquet of white orchids and valley lilies.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Thompson home on Park avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. R. C. Sparks, Sr., stood with the wedding party to receive the guests. Mrs. Thompson wore a beautiful blue lame evening model with shoulder knot of Johanna Hill roses. Mrs. Sparks wore a black crepe evening model with jeweled clips and a corsage of white roses.

Assisting in the courtesies were the bride's aunt, Mrs. M. C. Thompson, in black lace, and the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Ben Downing, and his aunts, Mrs. Alice Nelson Briggs, Mrs. B. D. Hodges and Mrs. Janet Powell. Mrs. Downing wore a horizon blue crepe evening model with Juliet cap of rhinestones. Mrs. Powell wore a flame-colored flowered evening model. Mrs. Briggs wore a poudre blue crepe evening model and Mrs. Hodges wore a black velvet and lace evening model.

The wedding cake, a triumph of the confectioner's art, centered the Italian lace draped table in the dining room. It was a three-tiered confection, each tier raised high above the other by a lattice work. The top tier was surmounted with a silver wedding bell from which overflowed crystalized valley lilies. Cherubs with silver arrows encircled the cake and, linked together with clusters of bride's roses, encircled the base. Plaques of white bride's roses, white larkspur, houndstail and gypsophila, graced either end of the table.

Champagne punch was served from a deep crystal bowl and ices and individual bride's cakes were passed among the guests by white-clad attendants.

Guests were privileged to view the lavish gifts on display in the library. Silver by Gorham and an entire set of Wedgwood was noted, in addition to lurns, bric-a-brac, numerous objet d'art and rock crystal.

The bride changed her wedding gown for a smart tailor of rust-colored wool with matching turban and handsome rust fox furs. A corsage of orchids added a note of distinction.

Mr. and Mrs. Sparks left in their new automobile, a wedding gift, for New York City. Upon their return they will be at home in an apartment until their own home is built.

Mrs. Sparks, a noted beauty, is a member of an old and aristocratic southern family, members of which have taken a prominent part in the affairs of parish and state for many years. She was a member of the 1936 graduating class of the Louisiana State university, Baton Rouge, and is a member of Chi Omega sorority.

Mr. Sparks was born and reared in Monroe, where his maternal grandparents were among the early settlers and were extensive land owners. His father, the late R. C. Sparks, Sr., was a well known cotton broker. Mr. Sparks attended Washington and Lee university and received his LL.B. degree in 1932. He is a member of Phi Kappa Alpha social fraternity and Omicron Delta Kappa, Phi Delta Epsilon and Phi Delta Phi, honorary fraternities. He is now practicing law in this city.

Among the out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Martin Burks of Roanoke, Va., Dr. and Mrs. Thomas White of Shreveport, Mrs. Carlton Calongne and son of Lafayette, Mr. and Mrs. Moise Bloch of New Orleans, Mrs. Vernon LaCour of Thibadeaux, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Calongne of New Orleans, Mrs. Howell Carter, Jr., Miss Maud Carter of Baton Rouge, Miss Marjorie Carter of New Orleans, Mrs. W. E. Reedy of Baton Rouge, Miss Frances Boult of Vicksburg, Misses May and Belle Johnson of Baton Rouge, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Nelson, and daughter of Wichita Falls, Tex., Mr. William Nelson of Wichita, Kan., Mr. Robert Nelson of Alexandria.

You Almost Need Formal Introduction To Glamorous Though Casual Clothes

Gold mesh thread hand knit along Mandarin lines gives a sumptuous appearance to the lovely dinner blouse, designed particularly to set off a slender waistline. Note the narrow, plain collar and the buttons down the front. The blouse is worn with a black skirt and veiled hat.

Gold metallic cloth is the luxurious material from which the dressy afternoon or party frock was fashioned. The lines are simple so as not to detract from the fabric. A corded belt and bow at waistline and neck are the only trimming. The black velvet halo hat is a touch of rich contrast.

She - goes a-Shopping

Being a chronicle of the things she saw and the things she bought on a shopping tour with the merchants of the Twin Cities yesterday.

AT YORK

By accident I dropped into YORK LINEN SHOPS yesterday where I found a big "THANKSGIVING SALE" in progress! I have for you here some of the highlights from this sale that you will be glad to hear about. . . Beautiful hand-made and applique DINNER SET, size 72x90, with 12 matching napkins (complete set) only $4.95. Yes, this set usually sells for $9.50 and Gee! what a dinner cloth like this wouldn't do for a Thanksgiving table! Another Pure Linen DOUBLE DAMASK (service for 6) cloth with half a dozen napkins for only $2.95. . . HAND MADE FILET LACE DINNER CLOTH, size 72x90, a very special value at only $2.49. Really, I know you must think this price an error, but NO, SIR. . . These cloths never get out of shape when laundered and when you can get a guaranteed hand-made cloth of this beauty . . . why invest in a machine made cloth? There were many items low priced. Luncheon Sets $1.00 to $120.00. . . Dinner Sets $1.95 to $275.00. If it's LINENS you want . . . remember, YORK can sell it to you for LESS.

AT GRIFFIN'S

. . . 9 days to go . . . folks. . . Yes just nine days to save on your PHOTOGRAPHS at GRIFFIN'S. . . GRIFFIN STUDIO is offering an unusual reduction on Christmas photographs from now until November 23. . . You'll be mighty busy during the month of December—that's the reason I am urging you to get those Gift Photographs made now. . . Photographs are such appreciated gifts. . . Such personal gifts especially if it is to be one of those "living, breathing" likenesses for which Griffin's have become renowned. Make arrangements NOW for your holiday photograph. . . It's just plain good "reason" folks . . . because you save money and remember, it takes time to properly finish a photograph. . . So give Griffin an opportunity to give you their very best work. . . Phone 6 for appointment.

AT SHERWIN-WILLIAMS'

A certain nationally known interior decorator who visited our city this past week tells us that WALLPAPER IS BEING USED NOW MORE THAN EVER. . . Glorify your walls . . . every wall in the house . . . with IMPERIAL WALL PAPERS . . . and they are now on display in all their beauty at Sherwin-Williams. . . Sherwin-Williams is featuring "ROOM OF THE WEEK" . . . a breakfast room one week . . . living room the next . . . a bedroom the next . . . and so on. . . The very best decorators of the country have contributed their ideas and they have been boiled down into a simple easy decorating plan and given to the public by Sherwin-Williams. A special display room will be arranged each week in their window. Get in touch with this firm tomorrow.

AT EUNICE LEE BEAUTY SHOP

You can't hide behind your hat any more, girls! . . . for hats are tell-tales. Straggly, uneven hair can absolutely ruin the success of your new winter chapeau. . . so if you've been wondering what to do with your hair, it's a good time to try it. . . And whether you're Miss Jones with a budget or Mrs. Goldlocks with an allowance . . . Eunice Lee Beauty Shop has just the permanent wave to give you a perfect "head start" for the winter season. Phone 2070. This shop is so convenient for you Thanksgiving shoppers. Located at 119 North Second St. These operators to serve you—Eunice Lee, Mamie Lee, Marjorie Miller and Clara Belle Graham.

AT JITNEY JUNGLE

If this item doesn't make a hit with the menfolk I don't know what will. In the Bakery of Jitney Jungle on N. Fourth. It's a luscious butterscotch cream pie made of caramelized brown sugar and butter mixed with a delicious cream custard. Deliciously browned meringue tops it off and the filling is held by flaky old time pie crust. It will be a big event of your dinner, I know. Better have Dad stop and get one on his way home. In case you miss out now, however, you'll find them at this shop every week. Have this shop bake your Thanksgiving treats. Believe me, they can do tricks with cake batter or bread batter.

AT CITY BAKERY

When you window shop today . . . don't turn green with envy when you see the new models displayed on "SLIM" figures in the many show windows. . . Slim down a little yourself, sister . . . and here is a most simple way . . . the Mel-O-Toast Bread Diet is an entirely new idea in diets. It is real news-good news to overweight people who must slim down to look the part in the new fall frocks. The Mel-O-Toast Bread Diet is based on the latest discoveries about bread after three years of research at leading universities and laboratories in different parts of the United States. Unlike the extreme diets, the bread diet spares the protein of the muscles. It is an absolutely safe diet for the average person. It supplies all that is essential for safety—carbohydrates, proteins, minerals, vitamins and bulk. The bread diet is for overweight people. To make dieting easy for you and yet allow you delicious, varied meals, The City Bakery, bakers of that delicious Mel-O-Toast bread, has this little booklet ready for you for just the asking. . . Get your copy today. . . Reduce the Mel-O-Toast way.

AT SEARS

Doesn't matter what floor or what department you walk into at SEARS . . . you walk right into a regular "nest of values." . . . With Thanksgiving only 9 days down the "lane" . . . and Christmas 6 weeks away . . . this news of SEARS "SUPER-VALUE DAYS" (15 days of savings) is really good news! . . . P.T.A. Meet Planned At Teacher Convention

Assembly To Be Held Next Friday Morning

Mrs. Maibles, Vice-President Of National Congress, General Convention Speaker

Members of the Louisiana Parent-Teacher association are looking forward to the P.T.A. sectional meeting which will be a part of the annual convention of the Louisiana Teachers association to be held at Shreveport next Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The theme of the sectional meeting which will be held Friday at 10 a.m. at the Shreveport First Baptist church, will be "Avenue to Happiness."

Another feature of the teachers' convention, from the viewpoint of P.T.A. members will be the address of Mrs. Lawrence A. Maibles of Shreveport, vice-president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, who will speak before the general session of the convention. Mrs. Maibles' subject will be "The Parent-Teacher Movement in Modern Education."

Mrs. Maibles has served in many capacities in parent-teacher work. She was president of the Louisiana P.T.A. from 1932 to 1935.

Sections of the teachers' convention will be held at the Shreveport municipal auditorium.

Kindergarten Value Discussed By P.T.A.

The Barkdull Faulk P.T.A. held a monthly meeting at the school auditorium Thursday. The topic of the program was "The Advantages of Kindergarten Training." Miss Catherine Livadaia discussed the subject from the angle of a kindergarten teacher, telling the kind of training given in order to bring about desirable habits, attitudes, appreciations and understandings.

The kindergarten rhythm orchestra demonstrated various types of rhythmic selections to show one phase of the pleasurable aspect of training a pupil in the group receives.

Mrs. O. D. White discussed the advantages of a kindergarten from the viewpoint of a first grade teacher. She told why she, as a first grade teacher, preferred pupils with kindergarten training to those who enter school for the first time in her grade.

Mrs. Robert Cowden told of the advantages of kindergarten training and stressed its importance in the case of her own child.

A business session was held at the close of the meeting with Mrs. Charles Williams presiding in the absence of Mrs. H. F. McCook, president.

The treasurer reported $114.95 in the treasury and Mrs. Al Estmon was given commendation for her work during the tag day sales for the Twin Cities P.T.A. council's fund for underprivileged children.

Miss Julia Weisman, principal of the Barkdull Faulk school, told of how the school has observed American Education week, and invited parents to come to the school to see the posters the children have made.

Mrs. Carl Couch announced that a meeting of the Parent-Teacher group will be held at the Louisiana teachers' convention in Shreveport on Friday, November 19, and urged that there be a large representation present.

Mrs. Surghor's second grade won the prize for having the largest number of mothers present.

Ouachita P.T.A. Outlines Work

Mrs. L. E. Hayden, president of the Ouachita Parish P.T.A., recently called a meeting of the executive board and the room representatives for the purpose of outlining the year's work. All committee chairmen were present and reports of the work were given as follows: Mrs. Wilson Ewing reported plans for the year from the finance committee; Mrs. Jack Castle, welfare; Mrs. Julius Kugler, membership; Miss Sallie Humble, general program.

The main objective of the meeting was to initiate a membership drive to last through November.

Mrs. Couch, fifth district P.T.A. director, urged each one present to work for a large membership.

Mrs. Hayden named the following committees: Council representatives, Mrs. George Pappas and Mrs. Wilson Ewing, publicity chairman; Mrs. H. C. Mayo, Miss Carrie D. Drew, assistant parliamentarian; Mrs. A. G. McLeary.

The projects for the year were chosen as follows: Welfare, completion of a fountain in memory of Mrs. Pearl Morgan; the purchase of a flag for the stage.

Editor Addresses Neville High P.T.A.

"Standards of Conduct in Today's World, or Giving Emphasis to the Right Values of Life and Living" was the subject of an inspirational address given Monday afternoon by Fred Williamson, managing editor of the News-Star and Morning World, before members of the Neville High school Parent-Teacher association.

"Emphasis must be given to the real values of life," said Mr. Williamson. "Spirituality does belong in the school—not, however, the spirituality referring to creeds or theories advanced by religious groups, but that which emphasizes the spiritual things of life."

"Every human being must be led to appreciate and understand that spiritual things are predominant over every thing else."

"The child must be encouraged to study books in order to get the higher

P.T.A. To Support Library Movement

At the recent fifth district P.T.A. meeting held in Bastrop, the members voted unanimously to become members of the citizens' library movement, which was organized in Shreveport last April.

The citizens' library movement is an organization of citizens of Louisiana interested in the development of libraries in this state. It is pledged to promote library development in Louisiana and is desirous of bringing together all citizens of Louisiana interested in such development so that existing libraries may be strengthened, new libraries established and books brought within easy reach of all.

Membership in the organization is open to both individuals and organizations. The dues are 25 cents a year for individual members and $1 a year for organization or sustaining members. Organizations and individuals may take out as many sustaining memberships as they desire. Those desiring to be active members of the citizens' library movement should join as individuals even if affiliated with an organization which is a sustaining member of the movement.

Funds derived from membership dues will be used to pay the postage and other necessary expenses and to publish necessary literature to be used in a series of educational campaigns. All officers are donating their services to the movement.

A membership campaign is planned for the near future when meetings of interested citizens will be held in every parish. Those desiring to join as individuals or as sustaining members send dues to: Margaret Dixon, executive secretary, P. O. Box 131, Baton Rouge, La.

Officers of the citizens' library movement are: Chairman, J. O. Mott, Jr.; Jennings, vice-chairman, Mrs. Fenn A. Leaning; Mansfield, secretary, Mrs. Allen Hackett; New Orleans, treasurer, Ward Delaney; Shreveport, executive secretary, P. O. Box 131, Baton Rouge, La.

Fairbanks P.T.A. Gives Party, Supper

FAIRBANKS, La., Nov. 13.—(Special)—A bridge and bingo party and a chicken-spaghetti supper were held here recently under sponsorship of the Fairbanks Parent-Teacher association, with the proceeds making each event a financial success. The events were also successful from the viewpoint of entertainment.

Mrs. Claude Allen was awarded the women's high score prize for the bridge game, a two-pound fruit cake. Herman Miller made the high score for men. Consolation prizes were awarded Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lawson.

In the bingo game, Carolyn Boyd and Mrs. E. O. Singuefield won the prizes.

The bridge and bingo party was held at the Allen hotel, and the chicken-spaghetti supper was held at the home of Mrs. G. B. Wilson.

The Fairbanks P.T.A. is carrying out an ambitious program this year with Mrs. G. B. Wilson directing the activities in the office of president.

Tallulah P.T.A. To Hear Pastor

TALLULAH, La., Nov. 13.—(Special)—Rev. John C. Vandegard, pastor of St. Agnes Catholic church here, will speak at the November meeting of the Tallulah Parent-Teacher association to be held next Thursday. His subject will be "Character Education."

Mrs. R. E. Gilbert will discuss the legislative program of the state P.T.A.

Dr. W. M. Nason of Monroe, extension instructor of Louisiana State university, will be the guest speaker at the December meeting, speaking on the new curriculum study.

Choudrant P.T.A. Hears Educator

CHOUDRANT, La., Nov. 13.—(Special)—Dr. Amos Ford, head of the economics department of Louisiana Tech, gave an interesting address on the subject, "The Foundation of Every State is in the Education of Its Youth," at a meeting of the Choudrant Parent-Teacher association Thursday night at the Choudrant High school.

Following the address, a social hour was enjoyed, with punch and sandwiches being served.

Members of parent-teacher associations in Monroe and West Monroe have pledged their cooperation with postal authorities in conducting the national unemployment census in the Twin Cities. The census will be conducted from November 16 through November 20.

OUT OF THE NIGHT

CHAPTER XIX

With a quiver of relief, Cilly awakened from a dream of horror. The warm morning sun shone through her open window. What a blessing the morning sun was! All through the night, she had been in Bluefields, where every street was a pitch-black roof, bordered by yawning, treacherous chasms, into which one pitched at the first halting misstep. Where all these streets converged, Jim had stood with arms outstretched to greet her, though a thousand shadowy policemen struggled to hold him back. And along the way drunken Corbets mocked her, and paralyzed men arose from their wheelchairs to block her path.

She sat up in bed and rubbed her eyes. Her heart still thumped from the excitement of her adventure in sleep. Under the covers her feet were cold and damp. Her eyes traveled from one to another of the familiar objects in the room until she was finally, thoroughly, awake.

Today was Wednesday. Only two days since she had last heard from Jim, but what endless days they had been! How many more would she have to wait until he returned to lift the clouds? All the world would be right if she could hear his voice again, if she could feel the strength of his hand on hers.

Thoughtfully she rose and dressed. Then, because she was so miserably lonely and forlorn, she walked down to the drug store on the corner for breakfast. On the way she bought a newspaper. The murder of Amy Kerr, she noticed, was still front page news. She read it as she drank her coffee.

Returning to her apartment she met Detective Martin in the hall.

"Good morning, Miss Pierce," he greeted. "I've just been through the house. Dolan wants everyone down at police headquarters this morning at 10:30."

"Very well, I'll be there," Cilly assured him. She decided that she would be there at 10 o'clock to inform the sergeant of her latest discovery. He had ruled Mr. Hunter out as a possibility because of the man's physical incapacity. This morning, however, Hunter loomed in Cilly's mind as a very important possibility. Why would a man deliberately tie himself to a wheel-chair when he was well able to walk?

Later, however, when a burly policeman ushered her into a private room at police headquarters, she discovered she would have no opportunity to see the sergeant alone. Several of the Bayview tenants had arrived before her. They sat in a semicircle around a plain flat top desk, nervously expecting. She recognized the Downey ex, so obviously mother and daughter. Mr. Hunter, looking feeble and frail in his wheel-chair, was there with his wife. A blanket covered his supposedly helpless limbs. Cilly felt an overwhelming urge to kick him in the shins as she passed, to see if he would jump. She wondered how the man had made the journey, wheel-chair and all. Detective Martin made her a special police car.

Mr. Johnson arrived a few minutes after she was seated and he was followed by a young couple—the Smiths, undoubtedly. As yet there was no sign of Mrs. Wheeler.

Promptly at 10:30, Sergeant Dolan entered the room, followed by Martin. Dolan seated himself at the desk, his back to the double windows. Martin stood behind him, leaning against a window-sill. The tenants sat facing the windows, where the light shone on their faces clearly and objectively. If they lied, Cilly thought, Dolan would be able to read it in their features.

"Everybody here, Martin?" Dolan asked.

Martin checked with a list in his hand. "Dolan get in touch with the Wheeler woman yet?" he reported.

"The three other tenants are still out of town, but I don't see the Corbets," the Corbets, Cilly looked up in surprise. But, of course, they would be summoned. Mrs. Corbett's mother was the only person who actually saw the murder committed. Her testimony would be very important.

Even as Martin spoke, the door opened and three entered. Mrs. Corbett, Cilly noticed, had survived his drinking very well. He was immaculate in a light gray tropical worsted, and he carried himself with an air of assurance.

Mrs. Corbett, the same meek and humble woman Cilly had first met, followed her husband hesitantly into the room. She wore a nondescript blue voile dress, and it hung limply on her thin frame. Her face was pale and drawn. Her mother, in spite of asthma, held her head high and entered the room with a firm step. There was a challenge in her dark eyes, and her chin was aggressive. Small wonder, Cilly thought, that Mrs. Corbett was nervous and haggard. What a life she must endure as the buffer between these two dominant individuals—her husband and her mother!

As soon as they were seated, Sergeant Dolan addressed the group. "You all know I began in a bad way, rather friendly voice, to a young woman was killed in a fall from the roof of the Bayview apartments last Sunday night—or to be more exact, at 12:20 early Monday morning. We have a witness present who can testify that

P.-T.A. Meet Planned At Teacher Convention

Assembly To Be Held Next Friday Morning

Mrs. Maihles, Vice-President Of National Congress, General Convention Speaker

Members of the Louisiana Parent-Teacher association are looking forward to the P.-T. A. sectional meeting which will be a part of the annual convention of the Louisiana Teachers association to be held at Shreveport next Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The theme of the sectional meeting, which will be held Friday at 10 a.m. at the Shreveport First Baptist church, will be "Avenues to Happiness."

Another feature of the teachers' convention, from the viewpoint of P.-T. A. members will be the address of Mrs. Lawrence A. Maihles of Shreveport, vice-president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, who will speak before the first general session of the convention. Mrs. Maihles' subject will be "The Parent-Teacher Movement in Modern Education."

Mrs. Maihles has served in many capacities in parent-teacher work. She was president of the Louisiana P.-T. A. from 1932 to 1935.

Sessions of the teachers' convention will be held at the Shreveport municipal auditorium.

Kindergarten Value Discussed By P.-T. A.

The Barkdull Faulk P.-T. A. held a monthly meeting at the school auditorium Thursday. The topic of the program was "The Advantages of Kindergarten Training." Miss Catherine Livaudais discussed the subject from the angle of a kindergarten teacher, telling the kind of training given in order to bring about desirable habits, attitudes, appreciations and understandings.

The kindergarten rhythm orchestra demonstrated various types of rhythmic selections to show one phase of the pleasurable experiences and training a pupil in this group receives.

Mrs. O. D. White discussed the advantages of a kindergarten from the viewpoint of a first grade teacher. She told why she, as a first grade teacher, preferred pupils with kindergarten training to those who enter school for the first time in her grade.

Mrs. Robert Cowden told of the advantages of kindergarten training and stressed its importance in the case of her own child.

A business session was held at the close of the meeting with Mrs. Charles Williams presiding in the absence of Mrs. R. F. McCook, president.

The treasurer reported $114.95 in the treasury and Mrs. Al Eaton was given commendation for her work during the tag day sales for the Twin Cities P.-T. A. council's fund for underprivileged children.

Miss Julia Wossman, principal of the Barkdull Faulk school, told of how the school has observed American Education week, and invited parents to come to the school to see the posters the children have made.

Mrs. Carl Couch announced that a meeting of the Parent-Teacher group will be held at the Louisiana teachers' convention in Shreveport on Friday, November 19, and urged that there be a large representation present.

Mrs. Surghor's second grade won the prize for having the largest number of mothers present.

Ouachita P.-T. A. Outlines Work

Mrs. L. E. Hayden, president of the Ouachita Parish P.-T. A., recently called a meeting of the executive board and the room representatives for the purpose of outlining the year's work. All committee chairmen were present and reports of the work was given as follows: Mrs. Wilson Ewing reported plans for the year from the finance committee; Mrs. Jack Castle, welfare; Mrs. Julius Kugler, membership; Miss Sallie Humble, general program.

The main objective of the meeting was to initiate a membership drive to last through November.

Mrs. Couch, fifth district P.-T. A. director, urged each one present to work for a large membership.

Mrs. Hayden named the following committees: Council representatives, Mrs. George Pipes and Mrs. Wilson Ewing, publicity chairman, Mrs. H. C. Mayo, Miss Carrie D. Drew, assistant; parliamentarian, Mrs. A. G. McHenry.

The projects for the year were chosen as follows: Welfare; completion of a fountain in memory of Mrs. Pearl Morgan; the purchase of a flag for the stage.

Editor Addresses Neville High P.-T. A.

"Standards of Conduct in Today's World," or Giving Emphasis to the Right Values of Life and Living," was the subject of an inspirational address given Monday afternoon by Fred Williamson, managing editor of the News-Star and Morning World, before members of the Neville High School Parent-Teacher association.

"Emphasis must be given to the real values of life," said Mr. Williamson. "Spirituality does belong in the school—not, however, the spirituality referring to creeds or theories advanced by religious groups, but that which emphasizes the spiritual things of life. Every human being must be led to appreciate and understand that spiritual things are predominate over everything else."

"The child must be encouraged to study books in order to get the higher concepts. It is necessary to see that the child has the right kind of reading and that the real values of recreation are emphasized. Reading of good books and the right kind of recreation is the foundation of character development."

Prior to Mr. Williamson's address, a business session was held with W. H. Armstrong, president, presiding. The newly appointed chairmen and officers were introduced, including Mrs. G. A. Aden, secretary, Mrs. B. W. Morrison, membership chairman, and Mrs. John Myers, hospitality chairman.

Alternates for the representatives of the Twin Cities council, Mrs. Ben Stern and Mrs. H. L. Caviness, were appointed. A report was made by the delegates who attended the fifth district meeting in Bastrop.

A donation of ten dollars toward the flag pole of the school was made by Mrs. H. W. Engstrom in honor of the birthday of her young daughter, Betty Lee.

Rules For Making Scrapbooks Given

The following instructions regarding the publicity scrapbooks to be compiled by Parent-Teacher association publicity chairmen are given by Mrs. Leon McHenry, publicity chairman of the Louisiana P.-T. A.

Covers

The covers are standard and may be obtained in Shreveport.

Identification

The following information should be placed on the first two or three pages: Dates covered by book (not to exceed one year); picture of school; number of pupils; number of teachers; population of town; number of members in association; index or table of contents.

Arrangement

Material should be assembled, filed and mounted in sequence with regard to chronological order. Pages should be numbered. Use paste, rubber cement or fish glue to mount material. Leave liberal margins. More space should be left below clippings than at top and sides of pages; top and side margins should be equal. Clippings should be marked with the name of the periodical, month, day and year. If a large amount of newspaper space is used, select only the most representative clippings.

Contents

The material should be limited to the parent-teacher work of the group compiling the book. Use only materials used by or for the book. Material received from the state and national P.-T. A. congress or other organizations should not be used. Suggested material: Publicity items including clippings, announcements, notices, invitations, local parent-teacher news sheets, programs, banners, miniatures of posters; picture of officers and chairmen; narrative history; letterheads and envelopes used by group; programs and study outlines; address lists of work; lists of officers and chairmen; local by-laws; accounts of special projects; photographs of activities or officers; annual budget; list of publications used during the year; maps or diagrams.

Other more specific rules will be found in the parent-teacher publicity manual, pages 73 and 74.

Family's Part In School Work Told

An address by Mrs. Charles Chisholm and a report on the Halloween carnival held at the W. R. Mitchell school featured the November meeting of the school's Parent-Teacher association. Mrs. Chisholm's address pertained to the family's part in the school program. Mrs. Scott Spencer, president, presided.

Another highlight of the meeting was a Thanksgiving play presented by pupils of the third grade.

Mrs. Spencer announced that boards had been donated by a lumber company for the construction of see-saws at the school.

It was announced that the teachers would serve sandwiches to the pupils on Saturday, the proceeds from which were to be placed in a reserve fund for the teachers.

A tabulation of attendance showed the third grade won the gift for having the most mothers present.

St. Matthew's Plans Panel Discussion

A panel discussion of education and character building, a father's night program and conclusion of the current membership drive of the St. Matthew's Parent-Teacher association will feature a regular meeting of the association next Friday night at St. Matthew's Parochial school. The meeting will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

The discussion of education and character building will be led by Mrs. Walter Savage. Speakers will be the following:

Father N. F. Vandegae, "Relationship Between Education and Christian Character."

Miss Gertrude Hart, "How Report Cards Show New Tendencies in Education and All-Around Development."

SPEAKER
Mrs. Lawrence A. Maihles of Shreveport, vice-president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, will deliver an address before the opening general session of the Louisiana Teachers association's convention to be held at Shreveport Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Rather Than Mental Development, Only
Father M. R. Gremillion, "Educating for Citizenship."

Miss Lucille Godwin, "Relationship of Good Physical Condition and the Sports to Building Character, Clean Living Means Clean Thinking."

Mrs. Paul Keller, "What I Want Education to Mean to My Children."

P.-T. A. To Support Library Movement

At the recent fifth district P.-T. A. meeting held in Bastrop, the members voted unanimously to become members of the citizens' library movement, which was organized in Shreveport last April.

The citizens' library movement is an organization of citizens of Louisiana interested in the development of libraries in this state. It is pledged to promote library development in Louisiana and is designed to bring together all citizens of Louisiana interested in this development so that existing libraries may be strengthened, new libraries established and books brought within easy reach of all.

Membership in the organization is open to both individuals and organizations. The dues are 25 cents a year for individual members and $1 a year for organizations or sustaining members. Organizations and individuals may take out as many sustaining memberships as they desire. Those desiring to be active members of the citizens' library movement should join as individuals even if affiliated with an organization which is a sustaining member of the movement.

Funds derived from membership dues will be used to pay the postage and other necessary expenses and to publish necessary literature to be used in a state-wide educational campaign. All officers are donating their services to the movement.

A membership campaign is planned for the near future when meetings of interested citizens will be held in every parish. Those desiring to join as individuals or as sustaining members send dues to Margaret Dixon, executive secretary, P. O. box 131, Baton Rouge, La.

Officers of the citizens' library movement are: Chairman, J. O. Modette, Jennings; vice-chairman, Mrs. Fenn A. Leaning, Mansfield; secretary, Mrs. Allen Hackett, New Orleans; treasurer, Ward Delaney, Shreveport.

The hostesses, Mesdames W. L. Gill and Clyde Turner, served sandwiches, nut wafers and hot spiced punch.

The Cosmopolitan club met at the residence of Mrs. Holland with 17 members in attendance. The hostesses were Mrs. B. A. Byrgeon, Mrs. E. Galloway and Miss Alene Holland. The program consisted of "Current Events," convention at Alexandria, Miss Valeria McIntosh; book review, "Lost Horizon" (Hilton), Miss Isabel Page.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Copeland of Chicago, Ill., and Hollywood, Calif., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Copeland recently.

At a carnival held at the Oak Grove High school, Cora Etta Sanders was chosen as queen. She was also queen of last year's carnival. She was presented to the assembly and crowned by William Pollard. The page was little "Tootsie" Marcus. Music was furnished by the Oak Grove High school band, under the direction of Solon King, with Catherine Lee at the piano. Tap dances, readings, songs, bingo, cake-walks and "Nite Clubs" were featured. The proceeds will go toward furnishing swings and slides for the playgrounds at the school.

Mary Livingstone Tops Cast Of Gay Musical Picture

The above scenes are from the current attraction "This Way Please," which plays at the Paramount theater today and Monday. Mary Livingstone (Mrs. Jack Benny), who is seen in a clinch with Ned Sparks, makes her screen debut with two other famous radio stars, Fibber McGee and Molly. The cast also includes Betty Grable, who was just chosen "Miss Ideal America" by a newly organized committee for the improvement of American standards of beauty; Charles "Buddy" Rogers, Wally Vernon, Romo Vincent and Jerry Bergen.

Leo Carrillo heads the cast of "Hotel Haywire," with Lynne Overman, Mary Carlisle, Benny Baker and John Patterson, which plays at the Capitol theater Wednesday.

TEACHER MEMBERS OF STATE LEGION PLAN CADDO MEET

The Legionnaire-Schoolmasters club of Louisiana will hold a semi-annual meeting Friday at a breakfast at 8 o'clock in the Washington-Yorke hotel during the Louisiana Teachers association convention in Shreveport.

REAGAN JOINS STAFF OF UNION MOTORS, INC.

J. R. (Jim) Reagan, who has been selling automobiles in Monroe for the past several years, has joined the sales staff of Union Motors, Inc., 312 Walnut street, exclusive authorized Pontiac dealer in this city.

PAPER PUBLISHED BY SCHOOL PUPILS

In recognition of education week, just ended, the Georgia Tucker Mirror, mimeograph publication prepared by pupils of that school, issued an attractive newspaper on November 12. On the first page appears a picture of Superintendent E. L. Neville, and also one of Horace Mann, "Father of Public Schools."

Among the hi-de-highlights in "All Baba Goes to Town," most unusual and extra-glorious mirth-musical either Eddie Cantor (above) or Twentieth Century-Fox ever made, are hundreds of lush harem honeys—and how they swing to those new hits by Gordon and Revel. "All Baba Goes to Town" plays at the Paramount theater Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Roland Young, Louise Hovick, Tony Martin and June Lang make up the supporting cast.

Osa Johnson (above), who with her explorer-husband, filmed thrilling "Borneo," showing today and Monday at the Capitol theater.

'This Way Please' At Paramount

Buddy Rogers, Betty Grable, Ned Sparks in Stellar Cast Of Film

MARY LIVINGSTONE, plus her delicious laugh, and Fibber McGee and Molly, those inimitable funsters of radio fame, make an auspicious screen debut in one of the biggest laugh-getters ever to come out of the Paramount studios, the musical comedy-romance "This Way Please," which opens today at the Paramount theater.

Conceived in the gay tradition which made "Waikiki Wedding," "Turn Off the Moon" and other musical comedies the smash hits of the year, "This Way Please" goes all the way in giving a full portion of side-splitting humor, ear-catching melodies and the wholesome brand of romance.

In addition to the three top-notch radio humorists, the comedy brings to the screen Charles "Buddy" Rogers as a heart-breaking band leader, who cannot resist his allure, that perpetually sour-pussed comedian, Ned Sparks in the role of a phoney-idea press agent, and Lee Bowman, who made such an impression in "I Met Him in Paris," "Last Train from Madrid" and "Sophie Lang Goes West," as the enterprising theater manager. Also add, for generous measure, a quartet of outstanding comedians in Rufe Davis, Romo Vincent, Wally Vernon and Jerry Bergen and a chorus of beautiful girls trained by LeRoy Prinz, Paramount dance director.

Charles "Buddy" Rogers, so the story goes, is ripe for romance when along comes Betty Grable, a song and dance girl needing a job. Betty becomes an usherette and falls under the hand leader's spell. The band leader retaliates by falling for her. Ned Sparks is all for making something of this romance. Trouble begins when Rogers gets fired from his job and believing Betty to blame plans his revenge. He proposes to her and arranges a stage wedding.

Press agent Sparks plays the story for what it is worth and the wedding brings a capacity audience. With an audience held in check by impromptu stage acts, an impatient minister storming, and an anxious Betty decked in bridal splendor pining in the wings, Rogers plays his trump card and fails to show up. Lee Bowman is the theater manager who is in love with Betty and offers himself as substitute. The wedding goes on. At the final moment Rogers has a change of heart and breaks all records in breaking up a bridal party. It is all in the gayest and wholesomest brand of fun.

Mary Livingstone plays the role of the head usherette in love with the press agent. Fibber McGee and Molly enter the show as a couple of trailer tourists who have travelled hundreds of miles to hear Rogers. They too manage to get in plenty of heart-warming tomfoolery.

REV. BROOKS AND FAMILY HONORED

Farewell Banquet Held At Church; Members Voice Their Appreciation

Members of the First Christian church and congregation attended the fellowship meeting accorded the pastor, Rev. Crayton S. Brooks, and family who will leave shortly for Portsmouth, O., to assume the pastorate of a large church there. A generous banquet was served to the assembly which was the largest held in the history of the church. Talks were delivered and a handsome coffee table was presented as token of appreciation.

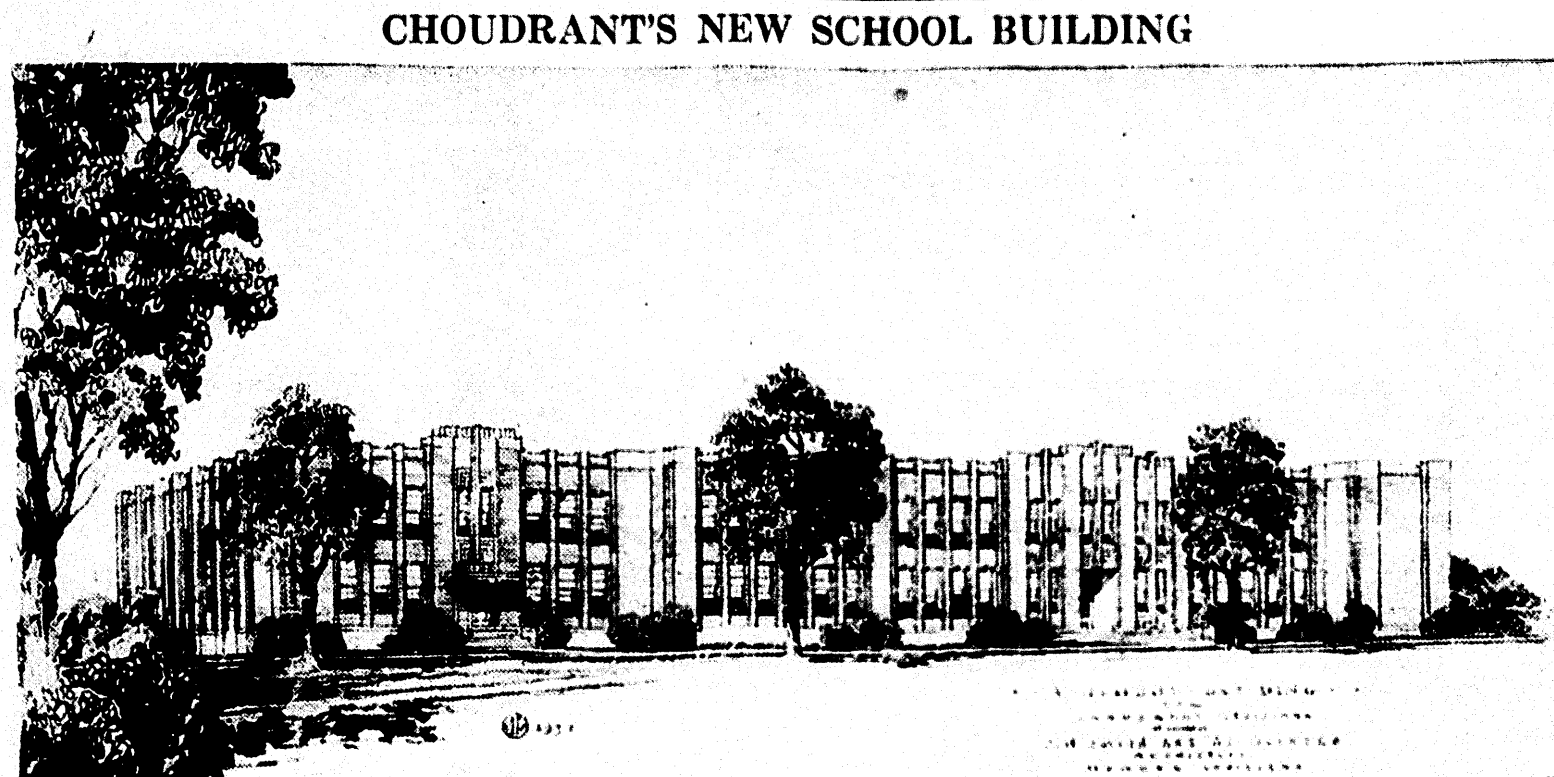

S. A. Moss, chairman of the church board, acted as toastmaster, introducing the various speakers and participants in the musical numbers. These included selections by the Culliphar quartet; reading by Mrs. B. B. Martin; address by E. R. Dawson; remarks by Mrs. J. L. Croft of Little Rock, Ark., former member of the church; and closing remarks and presentation of the coffee table by Mrs. E. H. Williamson.

Mr. Moss, in opening the program at the conclusion of the banquet, spoke in part as follows:

"It is fitting that we give proper recognition to this event marking the termination here of the ministry of Dr. Brooks. I am sure I express the sentiment of all when I say that the past two years have been a period of joy and happy experiences to all. No man in the brotherhood of the disciples of Christ has worked with deeper consecration or greater energy for the cause of the Master than he. No man could have done more under the circumstances than he has done. For two years, no important religious work of the disciples of Christ has gone on in Louisiana without his council, encouragement and approbation.

"Our own church has grown in love and grace and has been made stronger by reason of his ministry. Every cause has been upheld, has been strengthened by him. His presence in the homes of young and old has always been a benediction. He has never turned aside to argue or to strive; he has never failed to declare the whole counsel of God; he has never faltered or hesitated in his devotion to the best things known to man. "Our church is richer in faith, in spiritual life, in aspiration and zeal because of his presence among us, and we pray that the memory of him and his beloved family will continue to inspire us to more devoted and more Christlike living in the days, months and years to come.

"If I were to select a portion of Scripture to characterize his life among us, it should be this highly descriptive and complimentary statement about Barnabas, Acts, 11-24, which reads, 'He was a good man and full of the Holy Spirit and of faith. Everything I could say about Dr. Brooks would be an elaboration of this Scripture.'

Above is shown the structure now in process of erection which will be used, when completed, for grammar and high school departments at Choudrant to replace a building destroyed by fire. The work on the new building, plans for which were drawn by J. W. Smith and Associates, of Monroe, is progressing rapidly. The contractor is W. S. Quick, of Lake Charles, and the cost of the building will be $102,000. It will be of stone and brick and two stories in height. There will be seven classrooms for grammar grades on the first floor, administration offices, shower baths and locker rooms. There will also be an auditorium-gymnasium complete with basketball court and boxing ring. There will be a stage with dimensions of 22 by 40 feet. On the second floor will be the high school grades, lecture rooms, study hall, library, laboratories, cooking and sewing departments.

Nicholas Parole, Milwaukee, Wis., will speak at the tabernacle on November 16, 17 and 18. His message will be on the subject of prophecy and his talks are said to be highly interesting and instructive. The public is cordially invited.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Grammont At Catalpa

Ernest Holloway, Pastor

Mind your own business! "Finding fault with others, picking personal flaws in others, criticizing the manners or condemning the methods of others is your privilege, but not your public right. If you see so much that is wrong in others, but at the same time you find fault in your make-up! Just in proportion to the number of times you find fault in your friends just in that proportion are they liable to see shortcomings in you. There is such a thing as being so observing as to find fault in others that you take no time to think about your own natural or unbecoming ways. The really big job for each of us is to mind his own business, and not see so much that is wrong in others." (The Thought Arouser) "Bringing Heaven to Earth" and "Building a Rich Christian Experience" are the topics to be discussed at the morning and evening worship periods. Will you hear us? The Sabbath school attendance is growing. If the plans materialize we will have a large number this Sabbath. You are invited. Will you fail us? A welcome awaits you.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

GRACE EPISCOPAL CHURCH

North Fourth and Glenmar Streets

Edward Farren Hayward, Rector

Services for the 25th Sunday after Trinity are as follows: Holy Eucharist will be celebrated at 7:30 a.m.; the church school will assemble at 9:30 a.m.; confirmation and sermon at 10:45 a.m. The bishop of the diocese, the Rt. Rev. James Craig Morris, D. D., will make his visit to this parish church and administer the Sacrament of Holy Confirmation at the 10:45 service. The public is cordially invited to attend and join us in this service. Parents are often to blame if their children are indifferent to church and spiritual things in general. When the parents let it be seen that they attach little importance to their children's regularity and promptness in going to church and church school, the children quickly react by losing interest. Is it fair that the children must pay in spiritual blindness for the religious indifference of their parents? Parents, set the example and then your children will be impressed with the necessity of church attendance and church school. The church is open daily from 7:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. Come in, rest, pray, give thanks, meditate.

"Mortals and Immortals" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, November 14, 1937. Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following: from the Bible: "Thus saith the Lord, cursed be the man that trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arm, and whose heart departeth from the Lord; Blessed is the man that trusteth in the Lord, and whose hope the Lord is." (Jer. 17) The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mortal man is the antipode of immortal man in origin, in existence, and in his relation to God." (p. 215).

NURSES TO MEET AT NEW ORLEANS

Ten To Attend From Monroe District; Miss Faris May Be Named President

Ten members of the Monroe district of the Louisiana State Nurses' association plan to attend the annual convention to be held at New Orleans, Nov. 22, through Wednesday, Nov. 24, it was announced yesterday.

Of special interest to Monroe is the fact that Miss Edith Faris, president of the Monroe district, has been nominated for the presidency of the state organization, and as no other nominations have been mentioned it is highly probable she will be elected to this important post. Should she be chosen to head the organization she will be the first member from Monroe to occupy that post of honor. Louisiana State Nurses' association has been functioning for about 20 years.

The principal activity of the association's annual convention, which will be held at the St. Charles hotel, New Orleans, will center about the enactment of the eight-hour duty limit for nurses, it was stated yesterday.

STOLEN CAR FOUND

An automobile belonging to the Commercial Credit company, Inc., of Monroe, which was stolen Nov. 10, yesterday was reported by the Monroe police department to have been found between Junction City and El Dorado, Ark. The machine was spotted by a Union county, Ark., deputy sheriff who informed the local police department that the car had apparently been abandoned and burned. It was said to be a total loss.

REV. BROOKS AND FAMILY HONORED

Farewell Banquet Held At Church; Members Voice Their Appreciation

Members of the First Christian church and congregation attended the fellowship meeting accorded the pastor, Rev. Crayton S. Brooks, and family who will leave shortly for Portsmouth, O., to assume the pastorate of a large church there. A generous banquet was served to the assemblage which was the largest held in the history of the church. Talks were delivered and a handsome coffee table was presented as token of appreciation.

S. A. Moss, chairman of the church board, acted as toastmaster, introducing the various speakers and participants in the musical numbers. These included selections by the Cullipier quartet; reading by Mrs. B. B. Martin; address by E. R. Dawson; remarks by Mrs. J. L. Croft of Little Rock, Ark., former member of the church here; and closing remarks and presentation of the coffee table by Mrs. E. H. Williamson.

Mr. Moss, in opening the program at the conclusion of the banquet, spoke in part as follows: "It is fitting that we give proper recognition to this event marking the termination here of the ministry of Dr. Brooks. I am sure I express the sentiment of all when I say that the past two years have been a period of joy and happy experiences to all. No man in the brotherhood of the disciples of Christ has worked with deeper consecration or greater energy for the cause of the Master than he. No man could have done more under the circumstances than he has done. For two years, no important religious work of the disciples of Christ has gone on in Louisiana without his council, encouragement and approval.

"Our own church has grown in love and grace and has been made stronger by reason of his ministry. Every cause has been upheld, has been strengthened by him. His presence in the homes of young and old has always been a benediction. He has never turned aside to argue or to strive; he has never failed to declare the whole counsel of God; he has never faltered or hesitated in his devotion to the best things known to man.

"Our church is richer in faith, in spiritual life, in aspiration and zeal because of his presence among us, and we pray that the memory of him and his beloved family will continue to inspire us to more devoted and more Christlike living in the days, months and years to come.

"If I were to select a portion of Scripture to characterize his life among us, it should be this highly descriptive and complimentary statement about Barnabas, Acts, 11-24, which reads, 'He was a good man and full of the Holy Spirit and of faith. Everything I could say about Dr. Brooks would be an elaboration of this Scripture.'

"Dr. Brooks, in expressing our high regard for you, we do so with all sincerity and love and best wishes for your future happiness and prosperity."

A final reception will be held at the church Monday from 8 to 10 p. m. when the church membership and public will be invited to attend.

Rev. Brooks and family will leave on Nov. 22 for their new home in Ohio.

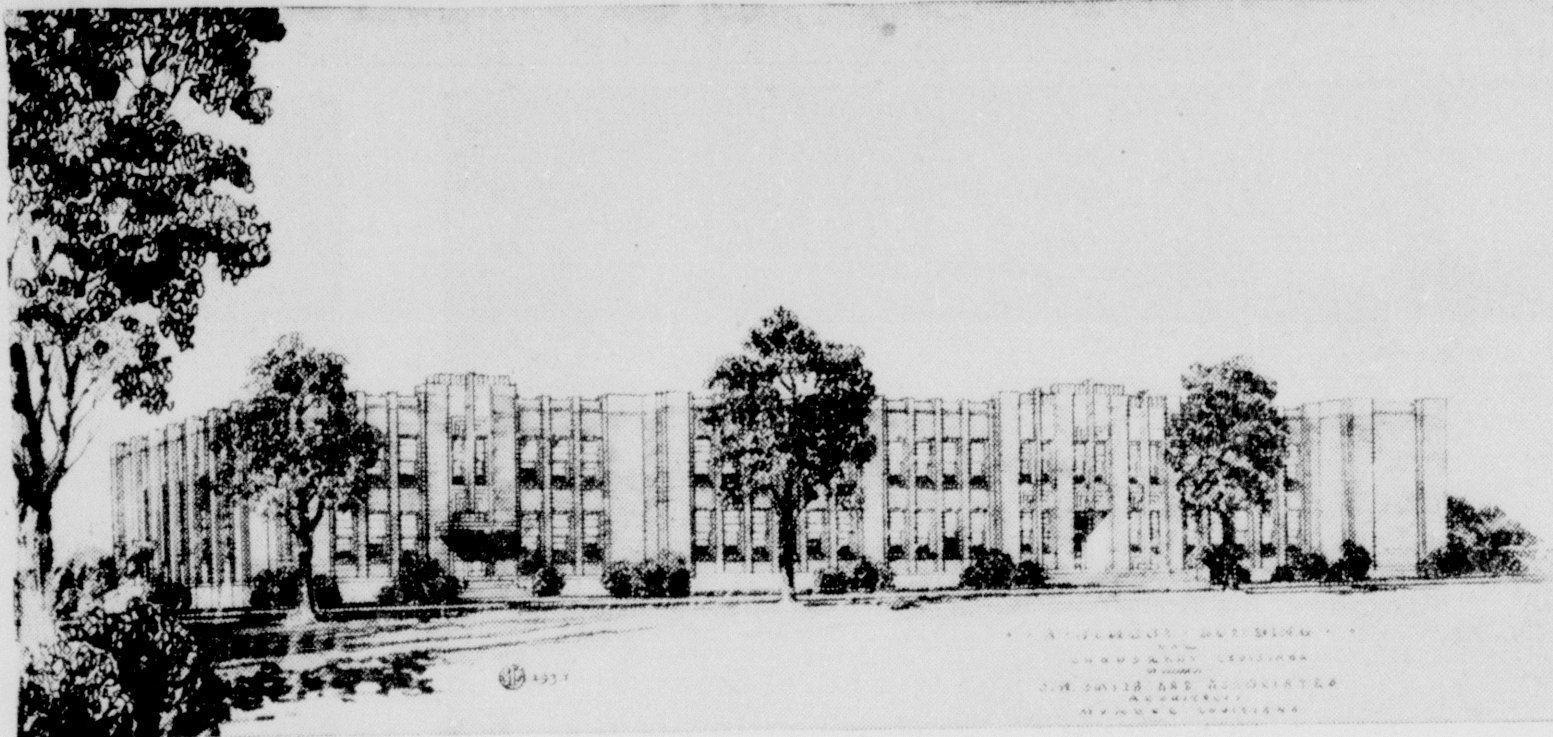

ART PROFESSOR'S WORK ACCEPTED FOR EXHIBIT

PINEVILLE, La., Nov. 13.—(Special)—"Vicksburg," an oil painting by Mr. Stuart R. Purser, professor of art at Louisiana College, has recently been accepted by the jury of selection at the 48th annual exhibition of American paintings and sculpture, according to word received from Mr. R. B. Harshe, director of the Art Institute of Chicago.

An exhibition of the works of Mr. and Mrs. Purser was held at the Bentley hotel, Alexandria, this week.

CHOUDRANT'S NEW SCHOOL BUILDING

Above is shown the structure now in process of erection which will be used, when completed, for grammar and high school departments at Choudrant to replace a building destroyed by fire. The work on the new building, plans for which were drawn by J. W. Smith and Associates, of Monroe, is progressing rapidly. The contractor is W. S. Quick, of Lake Charles, and the cost of the building will be $102,000. It will be of stone and brick and two stories in height. There will be seven classrooms for grammar grades on the first floor, administration offices, shower baths and locker rooms. There will also be an auditorium-gymnasium complete with basketball court and boxing ring. There will be a stage with dimensions of 22 by 40 feet. On the second floor will be the high school grades, lecture rooms, study hall, library, laboratories, cooking and sewing departments.

SHOUTING MADLY, TARZAN DANCED THE DEATH DANCE OF THE DUM-DUM AS SAVAGELY AS HIS FELLOW BEASTS!

SOON TWO OF THE SHAGGY APES TOOK UP CLUBS AND LUMBERED TOWARD THE DOOMED CAPTIVES.

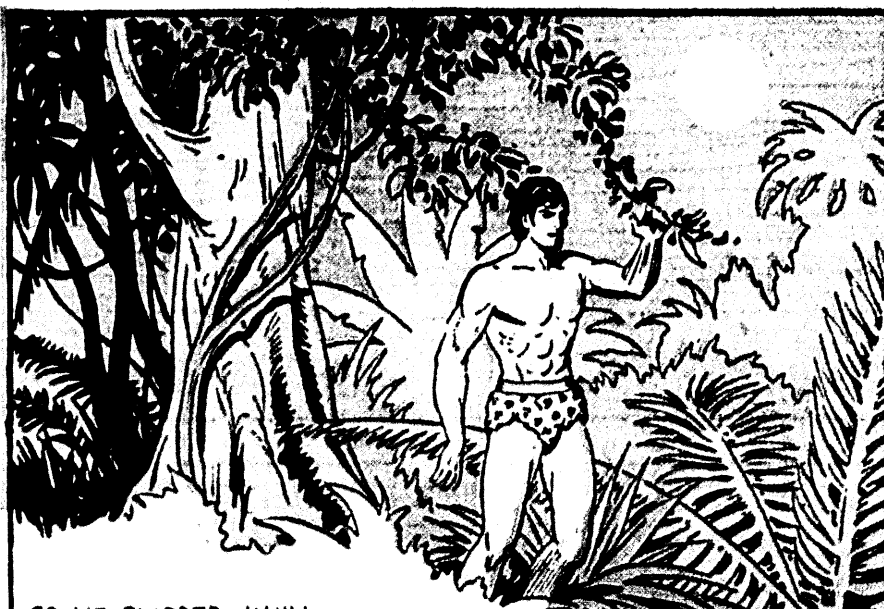

SUDDENLY TARZAN SHOOK OFF THE HYPNOTIC SPELL; AND NOW THIS HIDEOUS REVEL FILLED HIM WITH DISMAY.

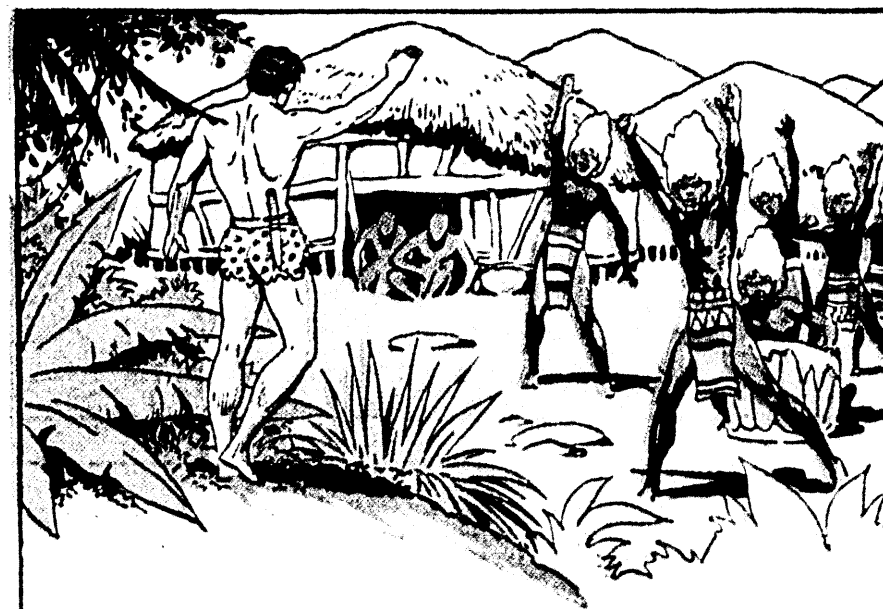

TO DEATH HE WAS NO STRANGER. OFTEN HE, TOO, HAD KILLED FOR JUST CAUSE—BUT SWIFTLY AND WITHOUT PLEASURE.

THOUGH HE HAD BEEN REARED BY THE APES, HE WAS A MAN OF NOBLE HERITAGE; HE COULD NOT SHARE IN THIS BRUTAL ORGY. BUT HE WAS TOO WISE TO ATTEMPT TO IMPOSE HIS OWN CODE UPON THE BRUTE INSTINCTS OF THE APES.

SO HE SLIPPED AWAY UNNOTICED INTO THE JUNGLE, UNOBSERVED BY THE BLOOD-MAD APES.

AFTER A LONG TREK HE CAME ONCE MORE TO HIS OWN DOMAIN WHERE HIS WAZIRI WARRIORS HAILED HIM WITH JOY.

BUT FOR TARZAN THERE WAS NO REST. ONE DAY A STRANGE MESSENGER CAME FROM ISHTAK, A CHIEF OF THE FAR SOUTH.

"EVIL WHITE MEN COME TO KILL US AND STEAL OUR LAND," HE SAID; "AND WE ASK THE AID OF MIGHTY TARZAN."

THE APE-MAN ANSWERED QUIETLY: "WHERE TARZAN IS NEEDED, TARZAN GOES," AND HE FOLLOWED THE COURIER SOUTHWARD----

HOGARTH—

---TOWARD THE AFRICAN VELDT. BUT HE MIGHT HAVE PAUSED HAD HE SEEN THE SLY SMILE OF TRIUMPH ON THE MESSENGER'S EVIL FACE.

SOLDIER OF FORTUNE

FOR TWO LONG WEEKS, OLD HOOT IS KING OF KLEPTOMANIA.

AN HOUR PASSES. HOORAY! I'M FREE! I'M FREE! I'M NO LONGER KING OF KLEPTOMANIA.

AT THE END OF THAT TIME, THE CABINET MEETS IN A SECRET SESSION.

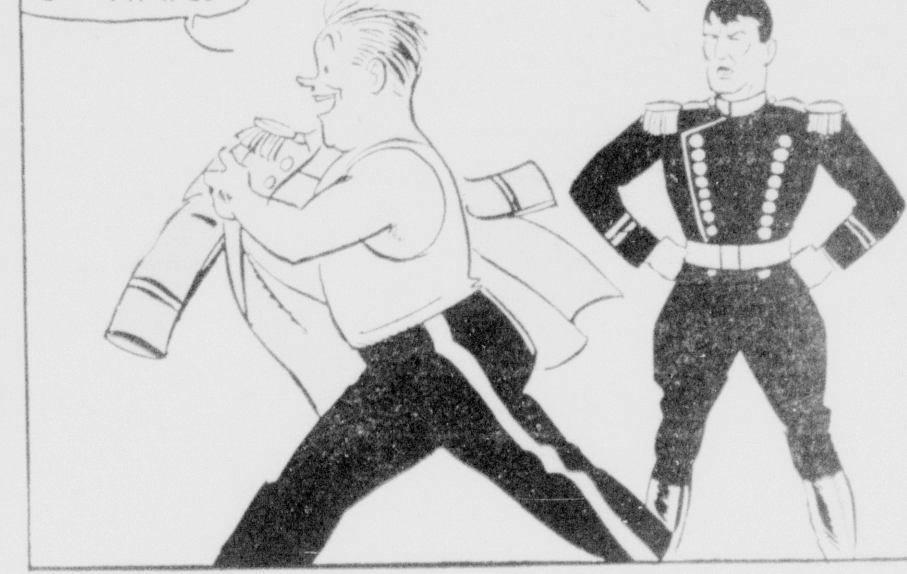

THEY WISH TO CONFER WITH YOUR MAJESTY.

C'MON, CHUM, AT LAST WE CAN THROW A PARTY AND CELEBRATE. THEY'RE PAYING ME $10,000 A MONTH TO GIVE UP THE THRONE.

AW, I WAS SICKA THE JOB, ANYWAY. IT'S FOR THE GOOD OF THE COUNTRY. AND, BY THE WAY, YOU'RE NO LONGER MINISTER OF WAR.

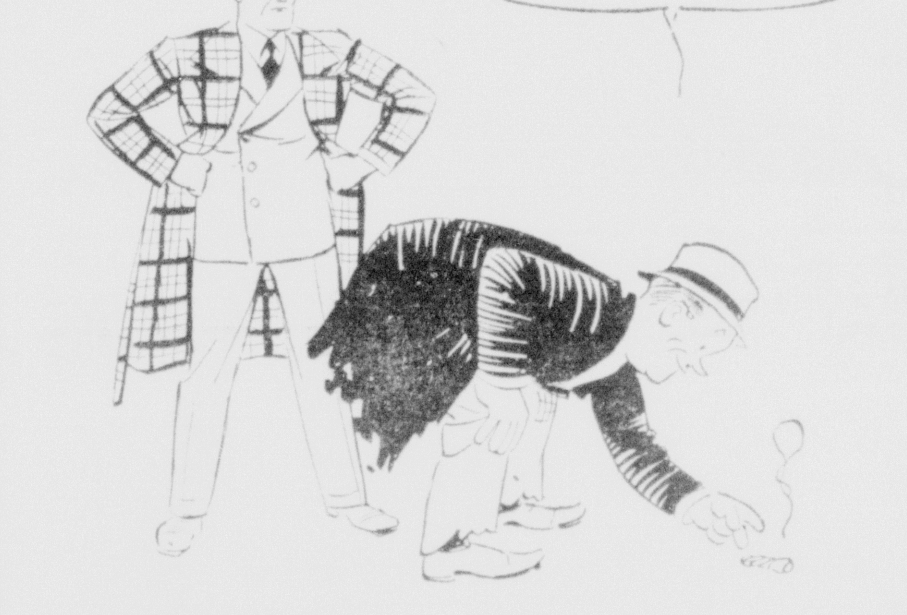

HERE HE COMES. THAT'S HIM.

HEY, HOW ABOUT THAT HOTEL BILL YOU OWE IN NEW YORK? AND THAT YACHT YOU CHARTERED IN MIAMI? AND YOUR 1936 INCOME TAX?

AH, WELL, RIGHT BACK WHERE WE STARTED FROM, EH, PALZY WALZY?

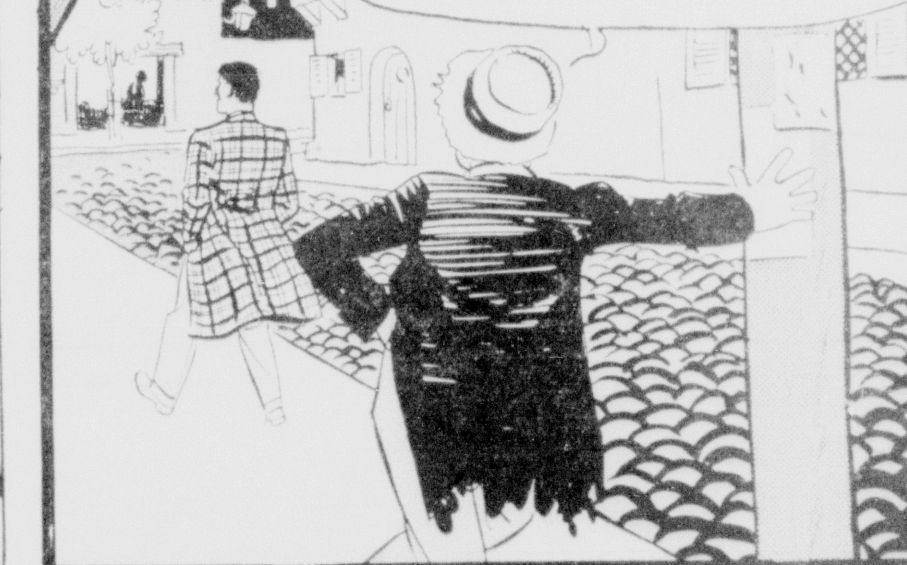

ONCE A BUM, ALWAYS A BUM.

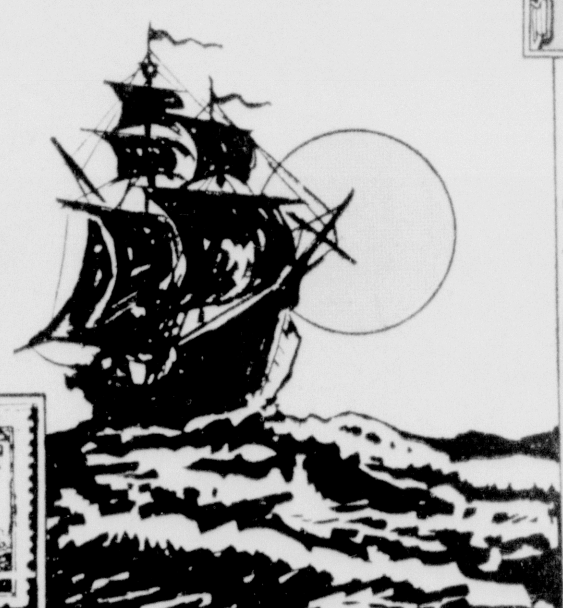

AND DON'T CALL ME CHUM! I TOOK YOU FROM THE GUTTER TO THE THRONE, AND YOU'RE BACK IN THE GUTTER, WHERE YOU BELONG, YOU SPINELESS DEADBEAT, I'M THRU!

AH, WELL, IT TAKES ALL SORTS OF PEOPLE TO MAKE A WORLD. I SUPPOSE HE WANTS TO AMOUNT TO SOMETHING.

THE fever of world conquest was on France when adventurous Jacques Cartier reached manhood at the turn of the 16th century. It was quite natural, therefore, that he should turn explorer. By the time he was 40, he had acquired the reputation of a bold navigator. Accordingly, in 1534, Cartier was selected by Admiral Chabot to lead an expedition to the northeastern coast of North America in an effort to discover a passage to Cathay. With two ships, the explorer sailed from his home city of Saint-Malo. A few weeks later and the weary little party sighted the shores of Newfoundland, near Cape Bonavista. From here they followed the coast southward.

Skirting the shores of Labrador, Cartier at length landed at Cape Gaspe, erected a cross and took possession of the country in the name of France. The next year, with a newly equipped fleet, he sailed up the St. Lawrence. At the Indian village of Stadacona, on the site of the modern Quebec, Cartier and his men left their ships and pushed on into the wilderness to Hochelaga, an Indian village at the foot of a great hill. This Cartier named Mount Royal (Montreal). It was then October and the party returned to their ships, spending a miserable winter aboard them. In the spring they returned to France, having won a foothold in the new world. Cartier is pictured on a 1934 French commemorative.

WELL, YOUR AUNT MAMIE HAS HOLLERED AND YELLED AT ME FOR THE LAST TIME, KAYO, AND SOMEDAY SHE WILL REALIZE THAT SHE HAD A MODEL HUSBAND.

BUT NOT EXACTLY A WORKIN' MODEL.

I GUESS IT'LL BE OKAY WITH MAMIE, THOUGH I HEARD HER SAY SHE ALWAYS WANTED A MAN WITH A FUTURE.

WELL, WITH HER DISPOSITION SHE WILL BE VERY FORTUNATE TO HAVE A FUTURE WITH A MAN.

I THINK THAT WHILE I AM PONDERING MY NEW CAREER I WILL VISIT MY FRIEND PHILBROOK. HIS LITTLE WOMAN SETS A GOOD TABLE.

HEY, PHILBROOK! THIS IS WM P. MULLINS! HUMMM... IS ANYBODY HOME?

NO! NO!

THE HECK WITH PHILBROOK! I WILL NEGOTIATE A LOAN TO TIDE ME OVER UNTIL SOMETHING BIG TURNS UP AND MOVE INTO A HOTEL.

HELLO, STEVE - MY CHUM - I WAS JUST WONDERING WHERE I COULD BORROW SAY FIVE OR TEN DOLLARS. SO -

I DON'T KNOW. BUT IF I WAS YOU, I'D TRY SOMEBODY THAT DIDN'T KNOW ME.

HO HUM! AFTER ALL, THERE IS NO PLACE LIKE OLD HOME SWEET HOME.

WHAT DO YOU WANT?

HONEYBUNCH, I'VE CHANGED MY MIND. I WANT TO STAY HERE.

KITTY HIGGINS

BAM! BIFF! POWIE!

NOW, KITTY - STOP THAT! REMEMBER I TOLD YOU TO ALWAYS SIT DOWN AND COUNT TEN BEFORE YOU START LOSING YOUR TEMPER.

NOW TELL DADDY WHAT WAS THAT TIRADE ABOUT.

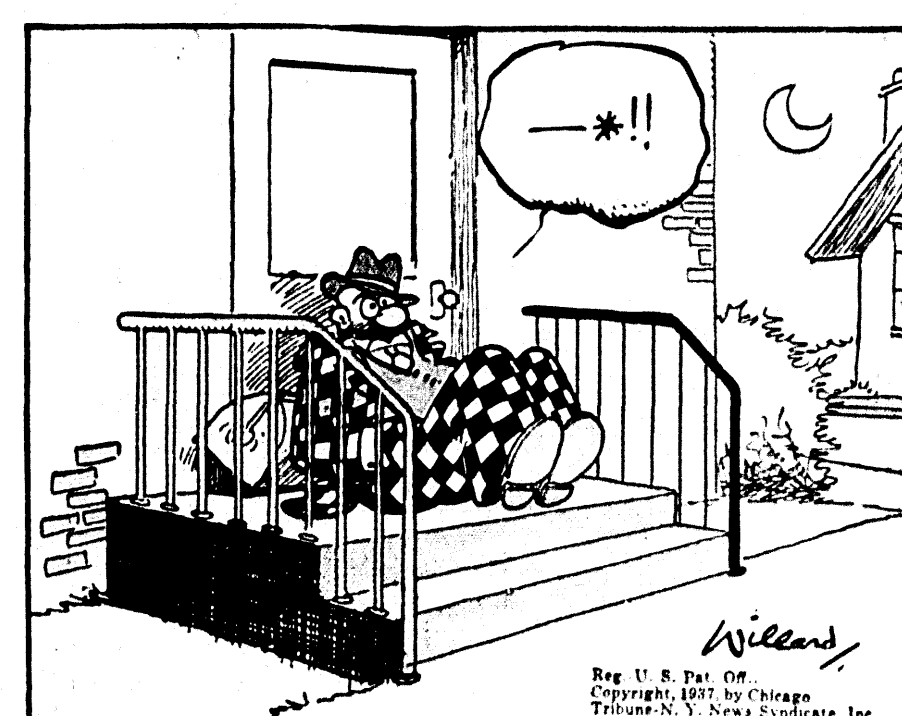

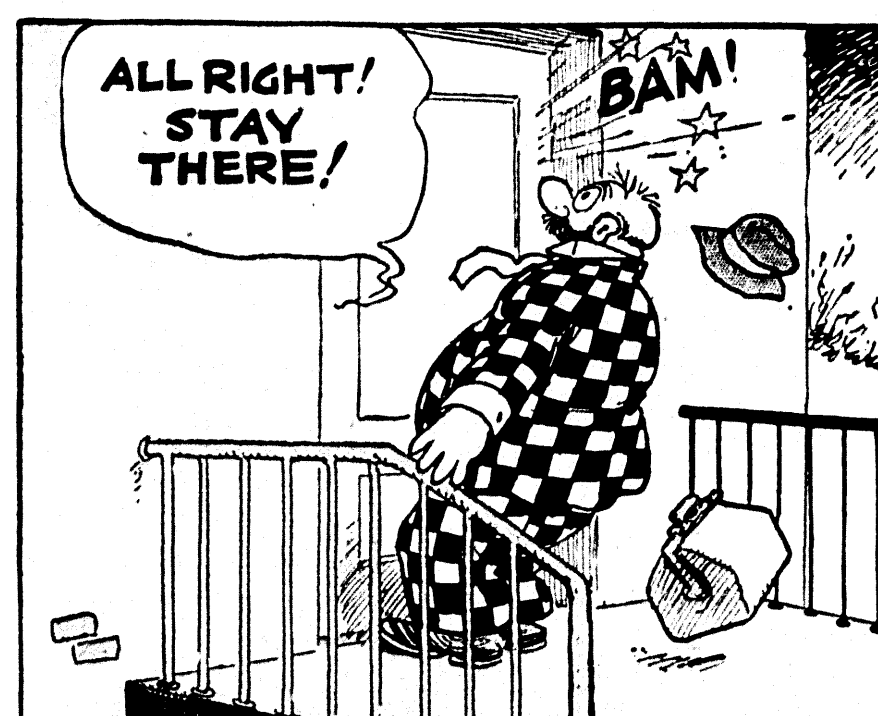

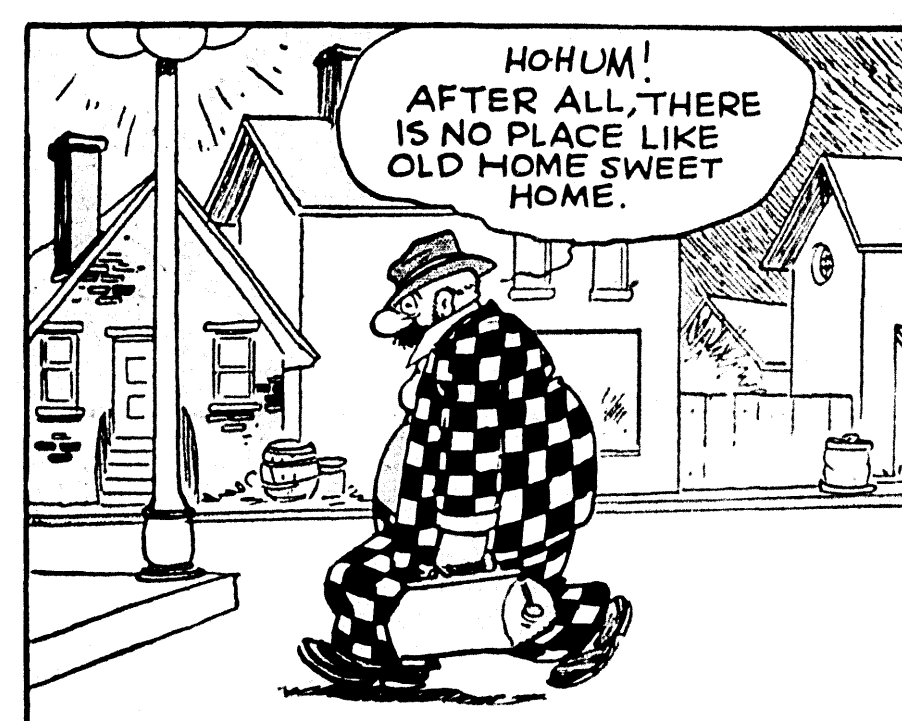

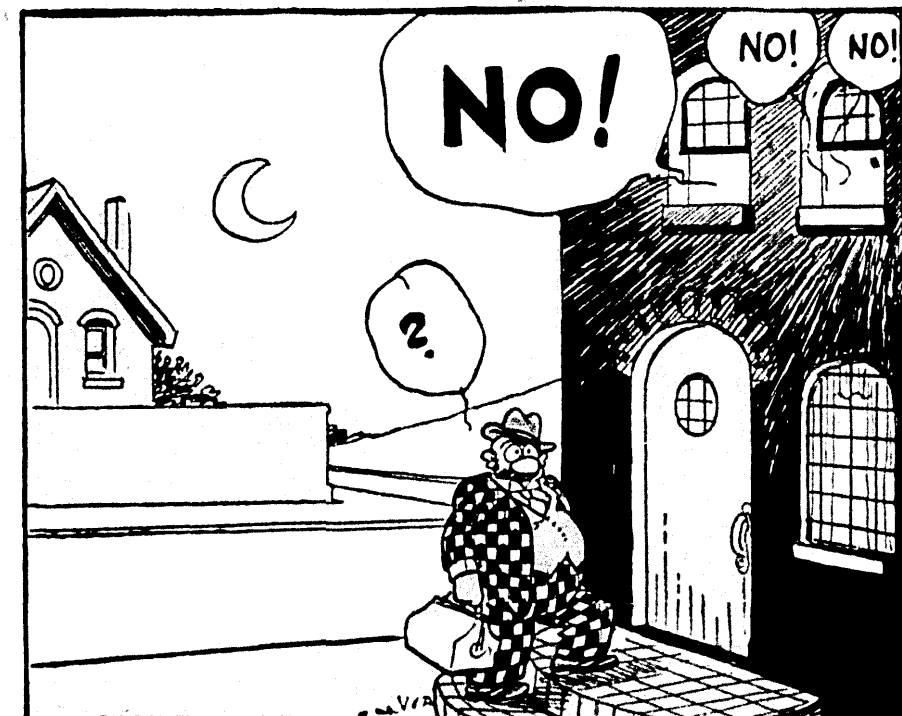

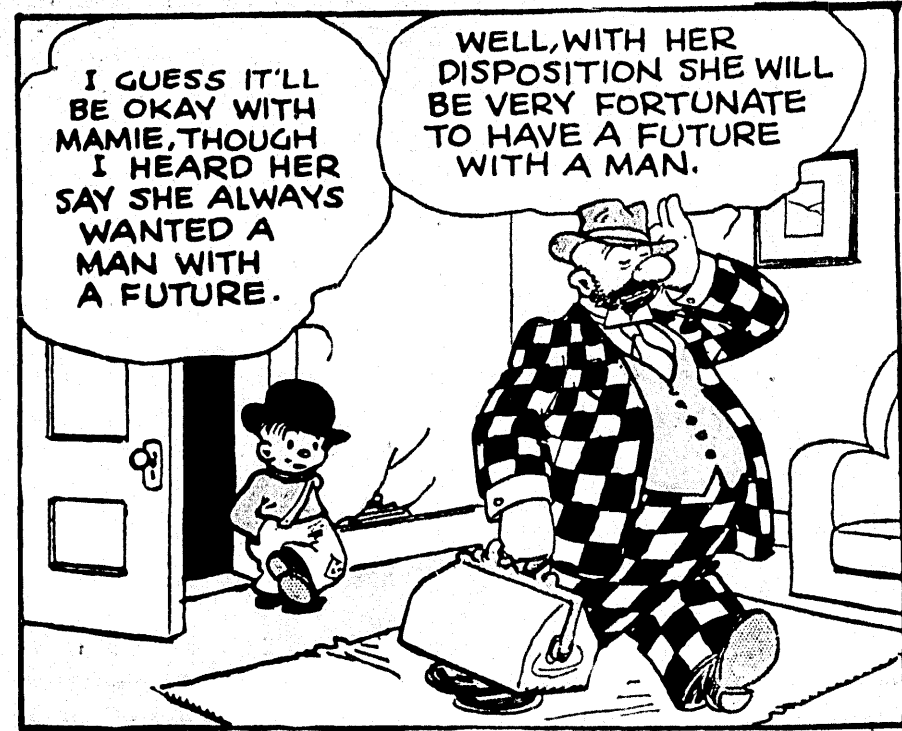

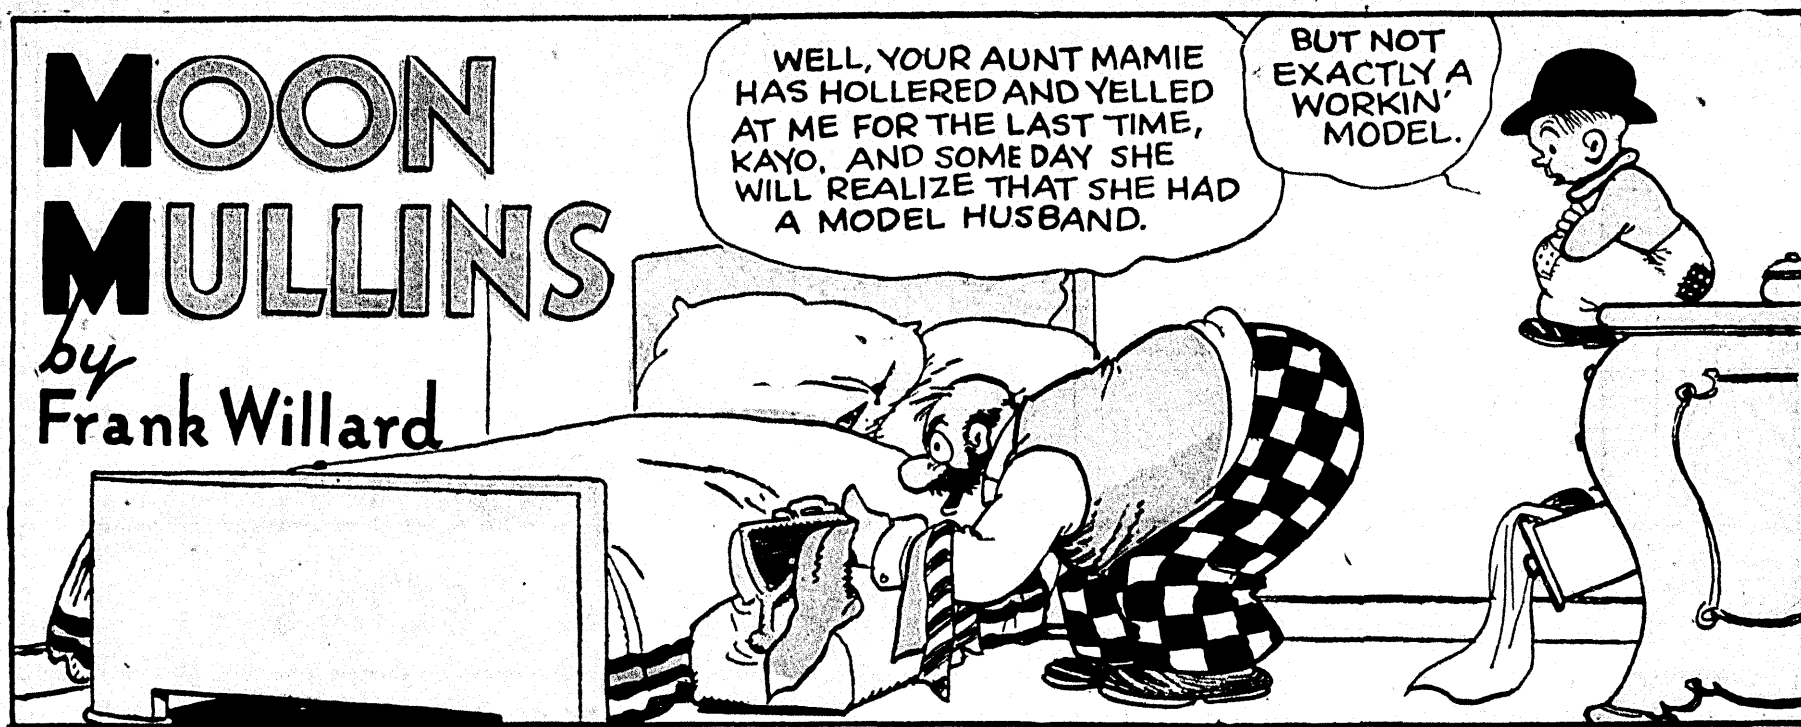

I CAN'T GET THOSE LITTLE WHEELS BACK IN YOUR WATCH AGAIN.

NOW - WAIT A MINUTE - SIT DOWN AND COUNT TEN.

JOYS and GLOOMS

All we ask is that you give Postum a fair trial-- drink it the full 30 days. Postum contains no caffeine. It is simply whole wheat and bran, roasted and slightly sweetened. It comes in two forms... Postum Cereal, the kind you boil or percolate... and Instant Postum, made instantly in the cup. Economical, easy to make and delicious. You may miss coffee at first, but you'll soon love Postum for its own rich, full-bodied flavor. It is a product of General Foods. This offer expires July 1, 1938.

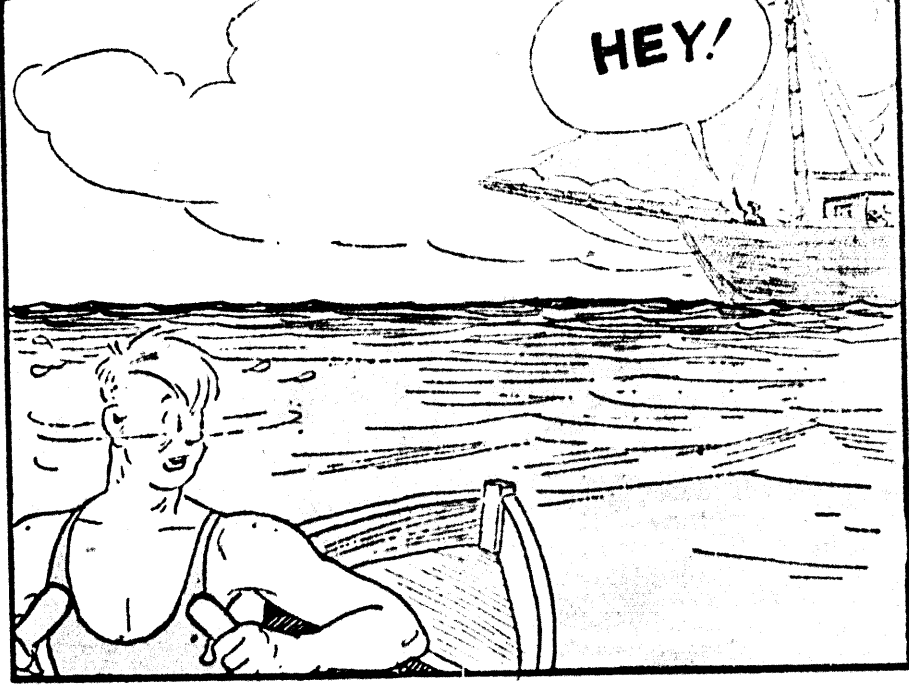

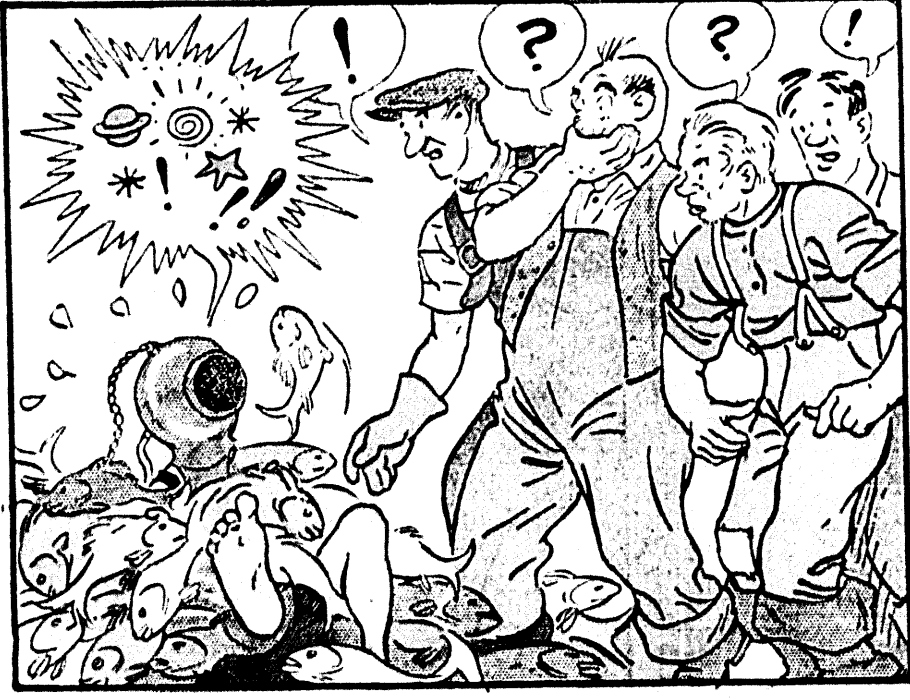

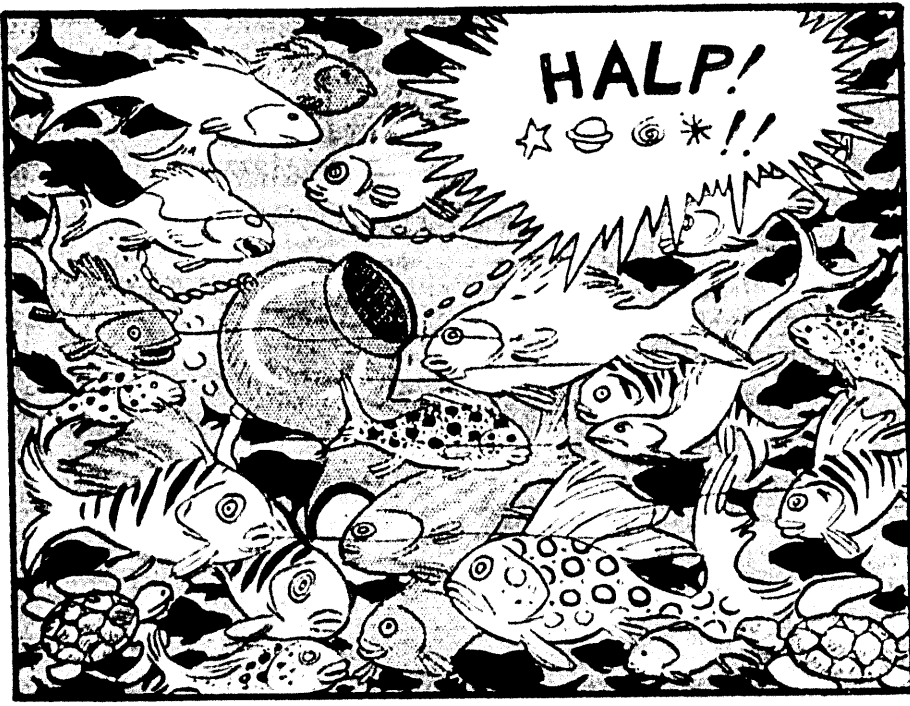

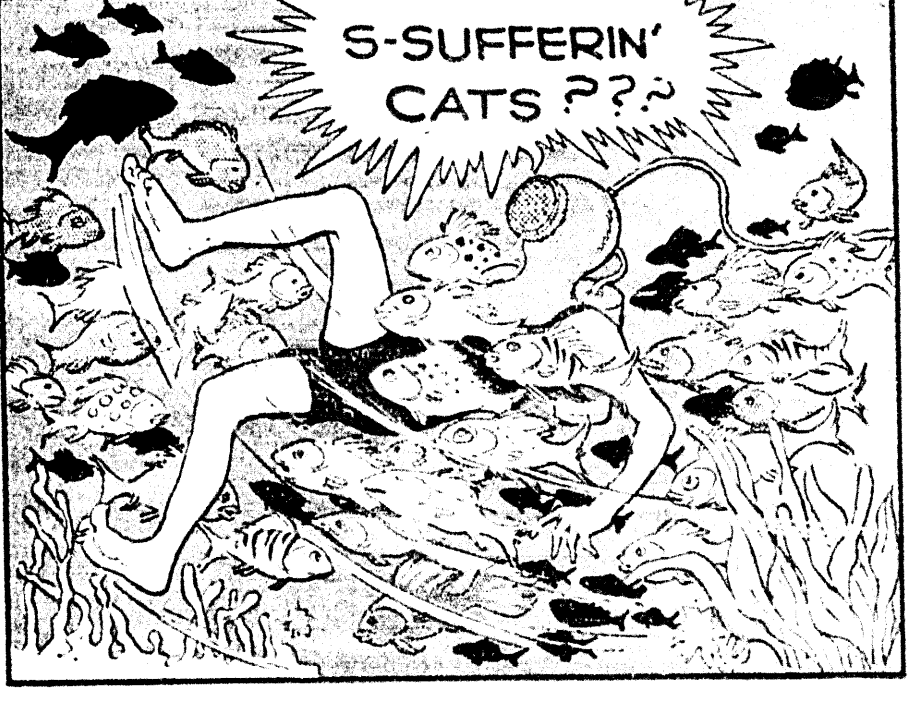

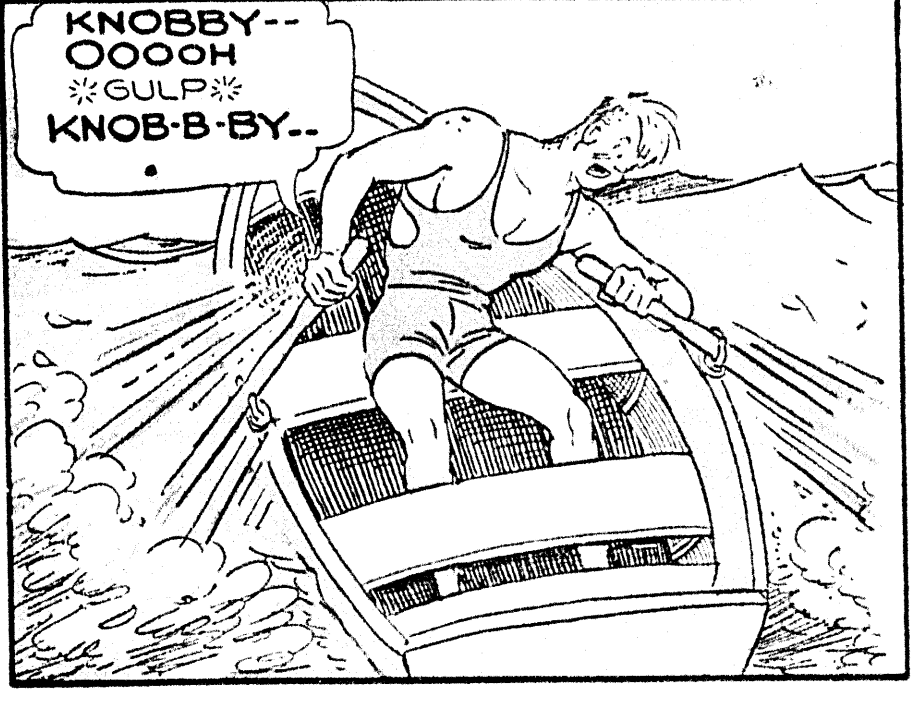

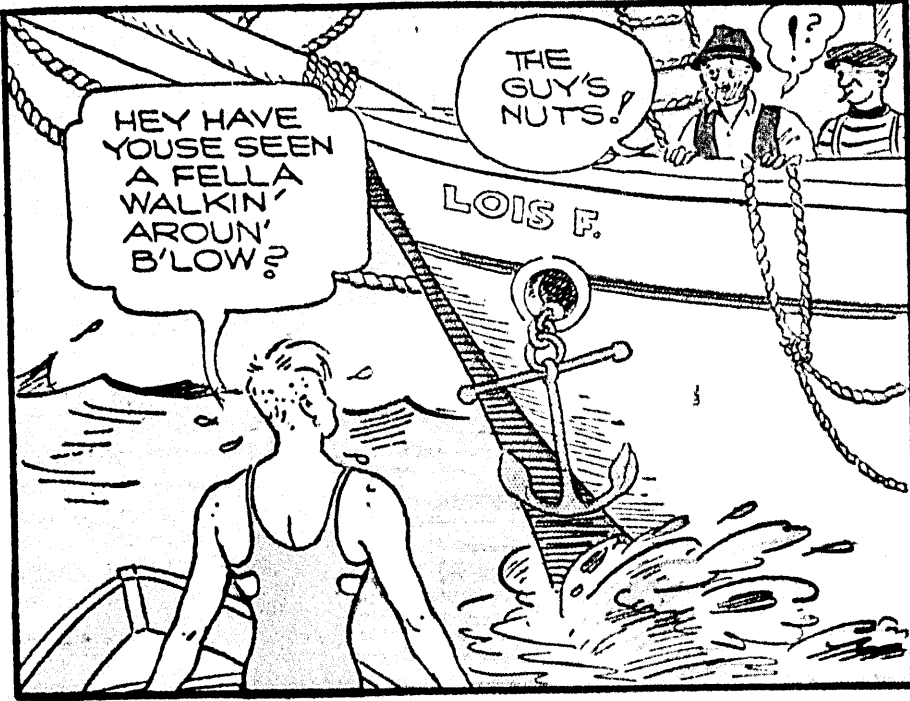

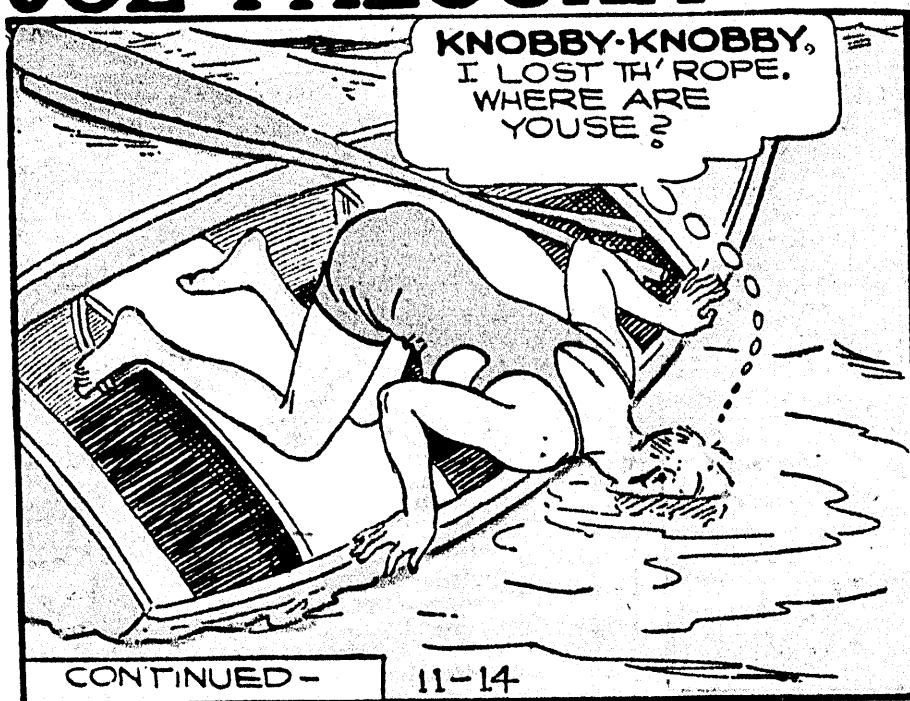

Many people can safely drink coffee. But many others-- and all children-- should never drink it. If you suspect that the caffeine in coffee disagrees with you... try Postum's 30-day test. Buy a container of Postum and drink it instead of coffee for a full month. If... after 30 days... you do not feel better, return the Postum container top with your name and address to General Foods, Battle Creek, Mich., and we will refund purchase price, plus postage! (If you live in Canada, address General Foods, Ltd., Cobourg, Ont.)

DON'T BE A GLOOM-- DRINK POSTUM!
